J. D. Rockefeller has just given another $100,000 to the Baptist Educational Society for its general work.
The city of Hamburg has a surplus of $2,250,000. Of this amount $1,500,000 was from last year's receipts.

Scotch capitalists are ready to invest $2,000,000 at Glasgow, Va., if their geological expert gives a favorable report.

During the financial year closing on May 1, the Government received a surplus of $8,600,000 from the imperial postal and telegraphic department, and of this $350,000 was from the imperial printing office.

The invention of smokeless powder has been followed by a counter invention in the shape of a "smoke rocket," to be used to screen the advance of a body of troops. It has been tried with success.

The New York Star says that the surplus is not only gone but that there is a deficit of nearly $130,000,000 in prospect. It heads its article, "A Bankrupt Treasury." But just you wait until the Fall elections.

The French minister of war lately offered a prize for the swiftest bird in a flight from Perigueux to Paris, 310 miles. There were 2,746 entries, the winner doing the distance in 7 hours and 34 minutes—or at forty-three miles an hour.

Maine, the land of frozen sunshine and liquid ice, is fairly on the way to become a howling wilderness, some of these days. The beautiful protective tariff has worked so nicely there that it has worked off a large number of its farming population. The fear has been expressed that many of the farmers will soon be abandoned. The census returns will show such a falling off in population that it is probable the State will lose one representative and Congressman Milliken, it is said, will be the man who will have to go.

The New York Herald's Washington correspondent says, most emphatically, that "the Federal election bill is dead beyond hope of resurrection," and he declares that this reflects the sentiment of three of the Republican Senatorial leaders. The correspondent devotes a column of matter to the subject and gives his reasons in detail for his conclusions. The Tariff bill was to have been taken up to-day and this means a debate of at least six weeks. The River and Harbor, the Sundry Civil and the Indian Appropriation bills will then remain to be acted upon and this will require at least two weeks more. Thus the session will be continued until the middle of September and as a number of Senatorial terms are to be refilled by legislatures elected this Fall it will be next to impossible to hold the Senate together any longer. Some of the most prominent Republican Senators, among them Ingalls, Teller, Sherman and Edmunds are opposed to a change of the rules and without this it will be impossible to pass the bill at this session. The truth is, probably, that they are opposed to the bill itself.

"Why, now I cannot get enough to eat," says one lady who formerly had no appetite, but took Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Some of the up town streets are almost impassable, because of the heavy sand. Seventh street is in a bad condition as to roadway but the sidewalks are passable. If the city has any money to expend on this street, it would be wise to lay it out in sawdust for a roadway.

Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin. The reports of correspondents of the Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin, issued by the North Carolina Experiment Station and State Weather Service, co-operating with the United States Signal Service, show that the early part of the week ending last Friday continued to be very warm and dry with an excessive amount of sunshine, until Wednesday night when a very rapid fall in the temperature took place over the entire State. The maximum recorded during the week was 98 degrees; the minimum Friday morning 55 degrees, which is lower than has ever been observed here in July since the commencement of observations in 1871. The cool weather will be of too short duration to injure crops. Drought has prevailed for the past ten days at many places, and garden stuffs, corn and other crops have been injured. Cotton is still in excellent condition and blooming rapidly and will not be materially damaged if the average amount of rain falls next week. Curing of tobacco has commenced in a few places. The grape crop will be a good average one this year.

Progress.
It is very important in this age of vast material progress, that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

A Hand Badly Crushed.
A colored man by the name of Alex. Bowen, employed by Mr. Geo. W. Doyle, had his left hand badly lacerated this morning while at work unloading coal on the schooner Thomas Clyde, discharging at the wharf of the Wilmington Compress. His hand was caught in a block, and carried in by the rope. The accident occurred at half past 10 o'clock.

Change in the Charts.
The following are important corrections made during the month of June on the charts published by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, and received by us from Capt. W. H. Bixby, viz: "North Carolina: Albatross Sound, Edenton Bay, change in buoyage. Croatan Sound, Roanoke Island, Bodie's Island anchorage, new buoy. Hatteras Inlet, change in buoyage. Pamlico Sound, Royal Shoal, buoy moved. Core Sound, change in buoys. Beaufort Harbor, entrance, buoy moved, new buoy.

A Wilmingtonian.
Mr. A. P. Gause (Birdie) of this city, is now running on the North Carolina Division of the Richmond and Danville Railroad. We find the following mention of him in Saturday's issue of the Goldsboro Argus:

Besides the regular coaches being filled to their full capacity, the parlor car of the A. & N. C. R. R. on its outward trip to the sea was crowded to overflowing again yesterday, which speaks well for the season at Morehead. It speaks well, also, for the efficiency at his work of Capt. A. P. Gause, the courteous young gentleman in charge of the car, who knows his business and attends to it with a snap and open courteousness that wins him many passengers and has made him many friends among us. The right man in the right place can be truly applied to Capt. Gause.

Blackberries and Huckleberries.

Mr. W. J. Massey, in the Horticulturist, publishes a plea for the cultivation of blackberries. He says: "Where wild blackberries are so fine and so plentiful as they are all over North Carolina it is hard to get growers to realize that there is large profit in cultivating them. The low prices at which the blackberries usually sell lead them to suppose that the cultivated fruits would go in at the same rate. This is a great mistake. In Baltimore, while the wild berries shipped in buckets are selling for a song, the cultivated ones shipped in quart boxes and packed in crates bring a better average price than strawberries, and many growers in Maryland and Delaware consider them more profitable. The sorts now cultivated have been selected from wild plants at the North. We have among us many wild plants which produce very superior fruits. Will the farmers and fruit growers co-operate with us in developing a blackberry that will bring money to their pockets? If you know or find a wild plant with very superior fruit, mark it, and next fall, in November, send the plant to the N. C. Agricultural Experiment Station at Raleigh. Do this and aid us in making the Station the source of real profit to farmers, truckers and fruit-growers." It is really strange that so little attention has been paid to this matter heretofore. Both blackberries and huckleberries could, we think, be greatly improved by cultivation. The big "Sampson blues" might become pigmies alongside some of the results of cultivation. There are many who prefer the blackberry and the huckleberry to the strawberry. If such intelligent fruit growers as Dr. E. Porter, of Rocky Point, and Mr. J. T. Collins, of Burgaw, were to seriously undertake the improvement of those berries we believe that the result would in a few years be astonishing.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box.

A Bold and Daring Attempt.
The highwaymen have invaded the city. As a young gentleman of our acquaintance was on his way home last night, he was stopped, when near Cottage Lane, on Fourth street, by a colored man with a woman's skirt on and armed with a big bludgeon, who demanded his money. The young man was unarmed and called for help when two gentlemen who were on the opposite side of the street started to his assistance and the robber took to his heels.

Grand Annual Excursion.
Howard Relief Fire Engine Co. No. 1 will give their grand annual excursion to Carolina Beach on the Wednesday of next week, the 23d inst. There will be three boats on that day. An unusually attractive programme will be presented, consisting of a shooting match, foot race, sack race and other field sports. The committee consists of Messrs. P. N. Fick, chairman, Wm. Otersen, Wm. Rivenbark, C. Richter and Wm. Bloom, of whom tickets may be had.

Brunswick County Convention.

The Democrats of Brunswick county met in convention at George M. McKeithan's on Saturday, July 12th, A. D. 1890, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State, Congressional and Judicial Conventions. On motion George H. Bellamy, Esq., was made permanent chairman and John H. Mintz secretary.
