STATE NEWS.

Raleigh News and Observer: The Raleigh News and Observer: The tobacco crop of Wake and surrounding counties is the largest and best known for many years. — There was a fire in Clayton Monday night which destroyed a residence belonging to A. J. Ellis, Esq., which was occupied at the time by Mr. Deal. It was caused by the explosion of a Goldsboro Dispatch: One of the bales of cotton that was brought to town yesterday was raised by a col-ored man on Mr. Rouse's plantation Both bales were on the same wagon, but the colored man who did the loading put his own in front, so it would be the first to enter the city, and he got the prize of a $10 suit of clothes offered for the first bale.

Greenville Reflector: Mr. Arden Tucker brought the largest watermelon of the season to town Saturdsy. It tipped the beam at 75 pounds —Some cases of meningitis have developed in the section beyond
Grindel Creek toward Bethel, about 10 miles from here. Three members of the family of Mr. Asa Bullock. two children and his wife, have died of the disease.

Charlotte Chronicle: There have been many conflicting reports concerning the three young mission-aries, Messrs. Gates, Harri- and Helmicks, who went from this county to the Soudan, early in the spring. It has been said that two were murdered, but a letter received at Topeks, August 12th, by the Y. M. C. A. from Chas. L. Helmicks, one of three, tells the sad story of the death of his two fellow laborers. It says: "Two weeks ago Frank Gates and Warren Harris were taken ill with the African fever, and a week later on Wednesday, the 9th, both enter-ed the "place" that our Lord went 1900 years ago to prepare for them. Then Rebecca, (Mrs. E. Kingman) followed them, but two days later."

Asheville Citieen: The improvements on the Vanderbilt place are progressing rapidly. Over 300 men and 75 teams are at present employ. ed. The brick works are turning out 40,000 bricks daily, and everything else is being pushed in proportion for the building of the man sion. The clay for the bricks is brought from half a mile down the river by means of a horse power railway. The work of quarrying le open from 1 o'clock a, m. Monday Until rocks for the foundation of the big house and for the roads is under full headway. The drilling of the solidrock, preparatory to blasting, is done by steam drills, which bore holes five or six feet deep in a half hour's time. An immense derrick, also run by steam, is used for lifting the detached rocks out of the quarry. Rocks weighing over a ton are easily hauled out by this machine and placed where they can be split up into desired sizes. They will be carried by Vanderbilt's private rail-road to where the house will be built, about a mile distant. The macadamized road is completed to within about half a mile of its desti nation. The scenery along this road is beautiful. Its course most of the way is beside a stream, which has been altered so that it now constitutes a series of deep clear pools, with an occasional large pond. At one place the road crosses the stream over a massive stone bridge. Scenery more picturesque it would be impossible to find.

Charlotte News: The train yard around the compress at the junction is a thing worth looking at. The tracks are laid on each side of the compress and platform, and there is accommodation for 400 cars in the yard. Derrick Alexander, who was a slave of Mr. John R. Alexander, father of T. L. Alexander, was in town from Cabarrus county to-day. Derrick is 73 years old, and is the father of 23 children, 14 of whom are living. He has been married twice. He had 17 children by his first wife and 6 by his last. There were eight twins born to him. His st child is 11 months old. His oldest twin daughter is the mother of six sets of twins. -- Col. and Mrs. John L. Morehead have returned from the Virginia White Sulphur Springs. Col. Morehead says that the entertainment given there in honor of Gov. Fowle was undoubtedly the most brilliant occasion of the kind known at the white Sulphur. Gov. Fowle is not White Sulphur. Gov. Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

HARPER'S WERKLY has a well-established place as the leading illustrated newspaper in America. The fairness of its editorial comments on current politics has earned for it the respect and confidence of all impartial readers, and the variety and excellence of its literary contents, which include serial and short stories by the best and most popular writers, fit it for the perusal of people of the widest range of tastes and pursuits. The Werkly supplements are of remarkable variety, interest, and value. No expense is spared to terest, and value. No expense is spared to bring the highest order of artistic ability to bear upon the illustration of the changeful phases of home and foreign history. A Mexican romance, from the pen of Thomas A. Janvier, will appear in the Weekly in 1890.

1890. Harper's Young People. AN ILLUSTRATED WEEKLY.

The Eleventh Volume of Harper's Young Prople, which begins with the Number for November 5, 1889, presents an attractive programme. It will offer to its readers at least four serials of the usual length, and others in two or three parts, namely. "The Red Mustang," by William O. Stoddard; "Phil and the Baby," by Lucy C. Lillie; "Prince Tommy," by John Russell Coryell; and "Mother's Way" by Margaret E. Sangster, two my," by John Russell Corvell; and "Mother's Way," by Margaret E. Sangster; two short serials by Hjalmar Hjorth Boyesen. Two series of Fairy Tales will attract the attention of lovers of the wonder-world, namely, the quaint tales told by Howard Pyle, and so admirably illustrated by him, and another series in a different vein by Frank M. Bicknell. There will be short stories by W. D. Howells, Thomas Nelson Page, Mary E. Wilkins Nora Perry, Harriet Prescett Spofford, David Ker, Hezekiah Butterworth, Sophie Swett, Richard Malcolm Johnston, etc. The publishers of SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE alm to make it the most popular and enterprising of periodicals, while at all times preserving its high literary character. 25,000 new readers have been drawn to it during the past six months by the increased excellence of its contents (notably the Railway articles), and it closes its second year with a new impetus and an assured success. The illustrations will show some new effects, and nothing to make SCRIBNER'S MAGAZINE attractive and interesting will be neglected.

THE RAILWAY ARTICLES will be continued by several very striking papers; one especially interesting by Ex-Postmaster General Thomas L. James on "The Railway Postal Service."

Illustrated. JOHNSTON, etc.

A subscription to HARPER'S YOUNG PEOPL secures a juvenile library. There is useful knowledge, also plenty of amusement.—Boston Advertiser. MR. ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON'S seria novel "The Master of Ballantrae," will run through the greater part of the year.
