THE DAILY REVIEW

VOL. XIV. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 9, 1890. NO 228.

If pure milk only were sold in London it is estimated that from 20,000 to 30,000 more cows would be wanted to keep up the supply.

Anna Dickinson says that in her speeches of 1888 she brought out the idea which has developed into the Lodge Federal elections bill.

The people who occupy the cottage next to Mr. Cleveland's at Marion have felt it necessary to put out a placard on which are inscribed the words: "Next door is the place."

The Philadelphia Press (muzzled) professes to believe that the coolness of the Senate towards the Force bill was one reason for the decreased Republican majority in Vermont.

Tennison, past 81, has recovered surprisingly from his recent illness.
He takes a fair amount of exercise, is interested in current events, and continues to write.

No less than eighty-nine newspapers have been started in the State of Washington between January 15 and June 15 of the present year. Of this number fifty-seven have been started west of the mountains.

The new minister of finance in Buenos Ayres has just informed a waiting delegation that the Government would reduce the State expenditures by $15,000,000. This will not be a source of great comfort to English capitalists who dropped over $100,000,000 in booming the Argentine Republic.

One million dollars have been invested in new buildings in Columbus, Ga., since the beginning of the present year. Of this at least $600,- 000 has been invested in residences, and yet it is hard to find a vacant house. The remainder went into business houses and buildings to be used for manufacturing purposes.

The statement that a woman in West Virginia was so joyfully surprised at receiving a piece for her crazy quilt and an autograph letter from Grover Cleveland that she knocked a revolver onto the floor, discharged it, shot herself in the leg and was cured of long-stand paralysis, is worth remembering.

A curious flower has been discovered on the Isthmus of Tehuantepec.
Its chief peculiarity is the habit of changing its color during the day.
In the morning it is white, when the sun is at its zenith it is red and at night it is blue. The red, white and blue flower grows on a tree about the size of a guava tree and only at noon does it give out any perfume.

Fortune has coquetted with Tom Cruse, of Montana. Three times she made him a millionaire and three times reduced him to poverty, where she originally found him.
Cruse did not despair, however, and is now worth $5,000,000, with good prospect of retaining his wealth as long as he will require it, as he is now an old man. He made his money in gold and silver mines.

Col. Polk aspires to Senator Vance's seat in the Senate. There is no doubt as to this fact. We do not quarrel with him therefor. We could laugh at his assurance—just as we would laugh at a conflict between a louse and a lion—but for the respectable means by which Polk may seek to obtain his ends.
There is good reason to suppose that Mr. Polk is already coquetting with the Republican vote. There have been some very mysterious happenings of late. Polk is now in Washington City and it is whispered that he is there for an unholy purpose.
He is the President of the Farmers' Alliance. He can carry himself into the Republican party if he will and he can easily get there—if he has not already gotten there—but when he contracts to carry the Alliance with him he will obligate for more than he can perform, for he cannot deliver the goods. The Raleigh News and Observer tells us just what he is; a failure in everything; a man with brains, aspirations and pluck, but he is unstable as water and will never excel. Our neighbor pictures him thusly:

He proposes to accomplish his designs by sowing seeds of suspicion, by appealing to prejudice and by inflaming the passions of the people.
That he can do harm goes without saying. He has already done harm in North Carolina. As a disturber of the peace, he has certainly achieved some success. We believe he has failed in former undertakings. He was a failure as a soldier. He was a failure as a farmer. He was a failure as Commissioner of Agriculture, and when the legislative examining committee came to examine into matters connected with his office, if we recollect aright, he looked up his desk, left his office and resigned.

That was substantially the response he made to the Examining Committee appointed by the legislature, the people's representatives. And so he was a failure as a Commissioner of Agriculture.

He then went into journalism, and was a failure at that. His next venture was in connection with a medicine, Polk's Diphtheria Cure, and he failed at that. But he has of late succeeded in doing some damage to the Democratic party. How much damage shall he do? That will depend on the people themselves. We do not apprehend that he will do much. We think he will fail here as he has uniformly failed in all his other undertakings.

The worst cases of scrofula, salt rheum and other diseases of the blood, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Yadkin River Disaster.
Because of the disaster on the R.
& D. R. R. at Yadkin River, reported by us last week in the State News column, passenger trains on that road now pass over the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley R. R., the Raleigh & Augusta Air Line and the Carolina Central Railroad. They branch off at Greensboro, going South, run down over the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. to Sanford, and are there switched on to the R. & A. A. L. to Hamlet and at that point pass over to the C.
C. R. R. track and are conveyed to Charlotte, where they strike the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta R.
R. of the R. & D. system. They return North over the same route.
The disaster at the Yadkin river, on the N. C. R. R., was a very serious one. The bridge has gone and there are 37 cars loaded with freight and a big, powerful engine in the river.
It is expected, however, that the road will be open in a few days. It is said to have been the most serious disaster which has ever occurred on the R. & D. lines and the actual loss, in sight, has been estimated at $100,- 000. Experts say that if they get off finally with $150,000 loss they will be doing well.

Forty Years of Wedded Life.
Mr. W. I. Eddins, for so many years a route agent on the C. C. R. R. between this city and Charlotte, celebrated with his estimable lady their golden wedding at Charlotte on Saturday last. Mr. and Mrs. W.
Frank Williams, of this city, with their two children were present.
Mrs. Williams is a daughter of the aged couple. Sunday's Charlotte Chronicle says:

The golden wedding of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Eddins yesterday was an occasion of much pleasure to the company of children, grand-children, great-grand-children and a few family connections, who gathered at the home of its celebration.
The entire family numbers thirty, twenty-eight of whom were present.
Mr. Eddins addressed the company in a few grateful and touching remarks about the happy period of fifty years which in the providence of God he and his chosen companion had been permitted to spend together. Congratulations of the children followed Mr. Eddins' remarks, and afterwards a silver waiter, borne by a little grand-daughter and great-grand-daughter, containing the golden gifts of the company, was presented to the couple.

The company then enjoyed an al-legiant dinner, in a room adorned with evergreens and flowers, yellow being the prevailing color.
Altogether, it was a delightful day to the participants.

Rashly Importunate.

A white man by the name of J. R.
Folsom suicided yesterday afternoon, about half-past 5 o'clock, by shooting himself in the head with a pistol. He was a coach painter and came here a few years ago from Saunter, S. C. Of late he has been out of work and became very despondent. He lived at Mr. W. H. Sikes' boarding house, on Dock street, near Second. He had been sick for some time and seeing his funds running very low rashly determined to take his own life. He was on the street in the morning, but in the afternoon went to his room and told the landlady that he did not wish to be disturbed. The fatal shot was fired about half-past 5 o'clock, alarming the household and attracting the attention of police officer McGowan and others, went to Folsom's room and found the dying man lying on the floor, with a pistol in his right hand, and a wound from which brain-matter was oozing on the right side of the head just above the ear. The pistol was a small common affair and had only one cartridge in it besides the one just discharged.
The suicide had apparently made preparations with deliberation. He had taken a quilt from the bed and spread it on the floor, rolled up another quilt for a pillow, and lying upon these, with his face to the ceiling, placed the weapon to his head and fired. The unfortunate man remained unconscious in this position until he died at 25 minutes past 6 o'clock. Dr. Potter in the meantime had been summoned, but saw at once that nothing could be done to save the man's life.

Coroner Jacobs summoned a jury and an inquest was held, the jury rendered a verdict to-day that the unfortunate man "came to his death by a wound in the head, inflicted by his own hand." The body was forwarded last night to Saunter, where the wife and daughter of the deceased reside. Mr. Folsom was about 40 years of age.

Ladies Who Use Face Powders.
To neutralize the injurious effect of any powder or liquid, use "LEAURELLE OIL." If the powder is used at night, apply "LEAURELLE" in day time; if during day apply it at night, or first bathe the neck and face with "LEAURELLE OIL," then apply the powder. The effect is most elegant. Keeps skin soft, smooth and pliable. $1.00 at Druggists, or prepaid by express.
