In the matter of the will of Susan A. Flanner. Motion by caveator for removal; motion refused. Motion by caveators for continuance; motion refused. The record is as follows: 'The counsel for the caveators then prayed the Court to be permitted to withdraw the issue which had been joined in the cause; but the Court replied that the caveator was at liberty to withdraw from any contest if he pleased, but the issue could not be withdrawn, and must be passed upon by a jury. The counsel then announced that the caveator withdraws from the contest and enters a retraxit," whereapon a jury was duly drawn and empaneled. This jury found that "the paper writing, propounded for probate, and every part thereof, is the last will and testament of Susan A. Flanner. And therefore it is considered and adjudged that the said paper-writing be admitted to probate and the executor therein named be qualified as such. And it is further adjudged that the propounders do recover of the caveators the costs of this proceeding, to be taxed by the Clerk."
