saw a closer or better disciplined organization than that of the Alliance this year. It is an admitted fact by the politicians of both the old parties that 80 per cent. of the Republicans outside of the towns are members of the Alliance, and they are going to vote for Baker. The same per cent. of the Democratic farmers are going to do the same thing. In the towns the Alliance vote will not amount to much, but the country vote in that section so largely overshadows the town vote that the latter vote is not in it. The Alliance is having picnics all over that section, and the farmers turn out to them with their wives and babies, and take their dinner baskets along, and frequently a meeting lasts two days. It is impossible for a Democratic or Republican speaker to get a crowd except in the larger towns. The Alliance speakers advise the farmers not to listen to a speaker of one of the old parties, and the advice is followed to the letter. It is absolutely impossible to get up a Democratic or Republican rally in the country precincts. Ingalls is denounced in the most bitter terms by the Alliance, and its leaders openly and continuously assert that Webb McNeill, the Republican candidate for Congress, will be defeated by 10,000 majority."

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind. "I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced."
