The Daily Review.

JOSH. T. JAMES, Editor & Prop'r

WILMINGTON, N. C.

FRIDAY, NOV. 21, 1890.

Entered at the Postoffice at Wilmington, N. C., as second-class matter.

"The Kreutzer Sonata" was seized in Galicia by order of the public prosecutor. When the case was brought on trial the bookseller said that the novel contained no attack on public morals. The Judge ordered the work to be read from beginning to end, and, this being done, he decided against the public prosecutor and ordered the book to be restored to the owners. As a result, French and German translations are sold now freely, and others in Polish and Rutherfordian are in preparation.

There has been a good deal of fun in New York over the certified statement given by the Prohibitionist candidates of their expenses in the late campaign. The Prohibitionist ballots were by far the most costly of any of the ballots that were put into the boxes at the election, and were procured at an expense of not less than $1 apiece. The candidate for Mayor paid out for expenses the sum of $2,577 96, which was expended mainly for advertising while the candidates for minor offices, nearly thirty in number, paid out amounts ranging from $1 to $300.

According to the Rev. J. W. Hill, of Ogden, Utah, the re-election of John T. Caine to Congress by 4,000 majority does not indicate the overthrow of Mormonism, as was said lately to have about taken place. The Rev. Mr. Hill says of Caine: "He is simply a conduit through which the power of Woodruff is carried right into the House and Senate. I know that millions of dollars have been poured into Washington through Caine and other agents of the Mormon Church to assist in keeping that sink of iniquity in full blast."

The Dallas (Texas) News prints a letter from Ex President Cleveland in which he expressed regret that pressing professional engagements would prevent him from attending the Texas State Fair this fall. Mr. Cleveland added: "I want very much to see something of your State and to meet your hospitable and warm hearted people; and, notwithstanding my present disappointment, I hope that at some future time I may be permitted to do so." For similar reasons Mr. Cleveland was obliged to decline an invitation to visit Memphis, Tenn.

Some men are elected to office in spite of themselves. Lew Steward, of Illinois, is a good example. Against his wishes he was nominated for Congress by the Democrats because no one else would accept the nomination, which was believed to mean sure defeat. He said if the people wanted him for Congress they could elect him, but he would not turn his hand over himself. He refused to pay an assessment, and when informed that it was for printing his name on the tickets he wrote back to the committee that they could leave his name out. Candidate Steward threw other obstructions in the way of his success, but in spite of all he was elected.

It costs money to run for office in New York. Every candidate for judicial honors had to pay heavily to Tammany—from $2,000 to $10,000—besides incidentals running up in to the thousands, and even Comptroller Myers, who had no opposition, was indicted $8,500 for the two Democratic factions. The new election law is rough on candidates, for it compels them to hand in a sealed list of expenses and to swear to it. Judge David McAdam, who was elected to the Superior Court on the Tammany ticket, says he spent $4,825 for posters and advertising, and in addition his friends raised $10,000 to pay his assessment by Tammany Hall. Yet Judge McAdam is an honest man, an excellent citizen and one of the ablest of our jurists, and author of many law books. So conscientious is he that in the entire eighteen years since he was elected a Judge he has never been absent a day in term time or late a minute in taking his seat. But his example shows how hard it is to break up the vicious assessment system.

Catarth to the head is a constitutional disease, and requires a constitutional remedy. Like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which purifies the blood, makes the weak strong, restores health. Try it now.

FOR DEAF AND MUTE.

Indigestion and Stomach Disorders use BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

All dealers keep it. $1 per bottle. Genuine has trade-mark and crossed red lines on wrapper.

There are thirty cities and towns in Connecticut having a population above 4,000, according to a census bulletin just issued, and the total number of inhabitants of these places is 475,633. As the whole population of the State is only 745,821, it appears that more than one-half the people, or, more exactly, 62 percent, live in towns of more than 4,000. In 1880 75 per cent of the whole population lived in such towns. These thirty cities and towns in 1880 had 351,132 population—having gained in ten years 104,507. The gain for the whole State was only a little more—123,161, thus showing that the agricultural sections are at a standstill, the cities monopolizing nearly the whole growth of the State.

Happy Hoosier

Wm. Timmons, Postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and crookman, of same place, says: "Final Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same to him, says: "Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c a bottle, at R. B. Bellamy's Wholesale and Retail Drug Store."
