Children should be taught to use the left hand as well as the right.

Coarse bread is much better for children than fine. Ohildren should sleep in separate beds, and shou'd not wear night caps.

Children under seven years of age should not be confined over six or seven hours in the house-and that time should be broken by frequent recesses.

Children and young people must be made to hold their heads up and their shoulders back while sitting, standing or walking. The best beds for children are of hair, or, in winter, of hair and cotton.

From one to one pound and a half of solid food is sufficient for a person in the ordinary vocations of business. Persons in sedentary employments should drop one-third of their food, and they will escape dyspep-

Young persons should walk at least two hours a day in the open air.

Young ladies should be prevented from bandaging the chest. We have known three cases of insanity, terminating in death, which begun in this practice. Every person, great and small, should wash all over in cold water every morning. Reading aloud is conducive to health.
