DEATH OF DAVID REID, Esq.-We regret to learn, by letter from Tennessee, that DAVID REID, Esq., formerly of this town, died at Denmark, Tennessee, on the N. B.-All persons indebted to me will please call and 28th ult.

Mr. Reid was born in Moore county, whence he moved to Cumberland. A democrat and a man of talents, he three times represented this county in the State Legislature—in the Commons, at the sessions of 1838-39 ATANTED .- AN AGENT IN EVERY COUNTY to en- and 1840-41, and in the Senate in 1842-43. If we are not mistaken, he also represented New Hanover and Duplin, one term each, in the House of Commons. In 1855, a citizen of Duplin, he was the nominee of the Aes, and also fifteen Eulogies and Orations, delivered at merican party for Congress in the strongly democratic Washington and other parts of the Union, on the occasion | Cape Fear District, and was beaten by Hon. Warren Winslow by only 1,000 majority.

He removed to Tennessee in 1856, and since then, eschewing politics, has devoted himself to the practice of his profession. He was reputed here an excellent Lawyer; not an interesting speaker, but an industrious and able and well read Lawyer, who prepared his cases carefully, made his points well, and enforced them clearly and strongly. His reputation at home was serviceable to him abroad, for we learn that he has been remarkably successful in Tennessee. Mr. Reid, we suppose, was about fifty years of age .-

He leaves a widow and several children, and many friends in this section of North Carolina who will lament his death .- Fayettevilie Observer, 10th inst. The Observer is mistaken in reference to New Hanover, which Mr. Reid never represented. Like all other

Judge Donglas and the Dred Scott Decision.

EXRACT FROM JUDGE DOUGLAS' SPEECH AT FREEgon commits him against the admission of Kansas, and if there is any sincerity or truth in the argument Trumbull made in the Senate against the admission of Oregon because she had not 93,420 people, although she had more than Kansas, it will apply as well to Kansas as Oregon. He stands by that argument, pledged against Oregon and Kansas both coming in until they have 93,-420 inhabitants. I would like Mr. Lincoln to take his question, and then if he differs with Trumbull let him answer Trumbull's argument on the Oregon question,

The next question Mr. Lincoln propounded to me is, can the people of a Territory exclude slavery from their limits by any fair means, before it comes into the Union as a State?" I answer emphatically, as Mr. Lincoln has heard me answer a hundred times, on every stump in Illinois, that, in my opinion, the people of a Territory can by lawful means exclude slavery before it comes in as a State. Mr. Lincoln knew that I had given that answer over and over again. He heard me argue the Nebraska bill on that principle all over the State in 1854-'5 and '6, and he has now no excuse to pretend to have any doubt upon that subject. Whatever the Supreme Court may hereafter decide as to the abstract question of whether slavery may go in under the constitution or not, the people of a Territory have the lawful means to admit it or exclude it as they please, for the reason that slavery cannot exist a day or an hour anywhere unless supported by local police regulations, furnishing remedies and means of enforcing the right to hold slaves .-Those local and police regulations can only be furnished by the local Legislature. If the people of the Territory are opposed to slavery they will elect members to the Legislature who will adopt unfriendly legislation to it. If they are for it, they will adopt the legislative measures triendly to slavery. Hence, no matter what may be the decision of the Supreme Court on that abstract question, still the right of the people to make it a slave Territory or a free Territory is perfect and complete under the Nebraska bill. I hope Mr. Lincoln will deem my answer satisfactory on this point.

In this connection, I will notice the charge which he has renewed about the Chase amendment. I thought that I had at Ottawa chased that amendment out of Mr. Lincoln's brain, but it seems that it still haunts his imagination, and he is not yet satisfied. I had supposed that Mr. Lincoln would be ashamed to press that question further. He is a lawyer; he has been a member of Congress; yet he has occupied your time and amused you by telling you about the rules of parliamentary proceedings. He ought to have known better han to have tried to palm off that miserable humbug upon this intelligent audience. Now, the Nebraska bill provided that the legislative power and authority of the said Territory the result, and 13 years since a treaty of peace was conthe top, which was formed by the nat roof of the neuse, and which might have been designed for another story, and which might have been designed for another story, and the highest hopes excited of a large and rapid development of trade. What more could Mr. Chase give by his amendment? Yet he offered his amendment for the identical purpose that Mr. Lincoln Chinese, has led to a renewed export of gold and silver, deceive the people. His amendment was to this effect, is using it for-to allow demagogues in the country to that the Legislature should have the power to exclude slavery. General Cass suggested, "Why not give them the power to introduce as well as exclude slavery?" The answer was, they have already want of the Chinese is cotton clothing. The garments got the power in the bill to do both. Chase was afraid his amendment would be adopted if he put in it the alternative so as to make it fair both ways, and he was not willing to have it adopted. He wanted it rejected. He offered it simply to make capital out of it on the stump, that the people might be deceived in public meetings; at least that small politicians in the country might use it for this purpose, and Mr. Lincoln is carrying out the plan admirably. Mr. Lincoln knows that that bill, without Chase's amendment, gave all the power which the Constitution of the United States would permit. Could you confer any more? Could you go beyond the Constitution of the country? That bill made the full grant. There was no exception upon slavery one way or the other, but we left that question, as we did ail other questions, to be decided by the people themselves just as they please. I will not occupy time on that question-I have argued it before all over Illinois. I have argued it in this beautiful city of Freeport. I have argued it at the North and at the South, in the East and in the West, avowing the same sentiments and the same position. I was not afraid to avow my sentiments up here for fear I would be trotted down
