

The recognition reports from Europe required, as we supposed they would, some confirmation. It would appear that Napoleon had expressed his willingness to mediate between the belligerent powers...

It is not our habit to acknowledge through our columns the numerous letters we are continually receiving, but we think we can well afford to devote a little from our usual course, in the following, acknowledging at the same time a handsome list of subscribers complying with our terms:

Messrs. FULTON & PRICE—Gentlemen: I have had the pleasure of reading the Journal for the last year, and am glad to see it so well established and so generally appreciated...

We acknowledge the receipt of a box of most excellent Flour from Mr. A. B. McVittie, of Richmond County, through Messrs. WORTH & DANIEL, Commission Merchants...

We said a day or two ago, that the telegraph would soon be working again on our main line, and the road would soon be in working order throughout...

We were yesterday in the city of New York, and we were very early correct, and the public attention will only be aroused by some other raid...

Next in line of fighting, New York is away behind the ranks of the Confederacy. They attempted to fight there, but they were repulsed...

Next in line of fighting, New York is away behind the ranks of the Confederacy. They attempted to fight there, but they were repulsed...

Editors Journal: With respect, N. C., July 25, 1863. I have just received a letter from Dr. Gibbs, of Columbia, S. C., who has been attending to the sick and wounded in the North Carolina hospital...

Many persons are in big fortunes and lauding money for selling in process, while others are losing all. Those who are selling in process, will perhaps see their fully valued property, like the old miser on the ship whose gold was being carried off by the captain...

We copy from the Raleigh State Journal, of the 22nd inst., the following well written and well timed address to Governor Z. B. Vance.

We address a few words most respectfully, to Governor Vance, concerning the late election, protesting against the manner in which it was conducted...

of your, and now we profess to be your friend politically and personally. We therefore appeal to you to listen to us for a moment.

One of your strongest supporters has been the Editor of the Standard. We know that the report gave you many thanks, and we are equally certain that you will not vote for any other reason than that you were supported by the same Editor of the Standard.

The people of this State by a large majority, are attached to the Confederate cause, for which their blood and treasure have been freely shed...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

Mr. Holden hates every man who is his superior, either in power or in social position. At such a time let us all remember that the power of the Confederate States is in the hands of the people...

has been awarded to him by the universal voice of mankind; to tear away the laurels that so proudly adorn the man, and to bestow them on the man who has done the deed.

For about five days after the siege commenced the troops were in the city, and the expiration of the time they were gradually reduced to the following amount of food: 4 ounces flour, 4 ounces bacon, 1 1/2 ounces rice, 2 ounces peas (in latter not eatable), and 3 ounces sugar...

On Saturday, the 11th July, at about 12 o'clock, the Confederate army, having all been paroled, took up its line of march from Vicksburg, and arrived at Big Black River, where it was met by the Union forces...

On Sunday, the 17th of May, the Confederate army fell back from their position east of Big Black, their breastworks having been stormed by the enemy on that morning, and about eight o'clock on Sunday night reached the city of Vicksburg...

On Monday, the 22nd of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Tuesday, the 23rd, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Friday, the 27th of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Saturday, the 28th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Sunday, the 30th of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Monday, the 31st, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Tuesday, the 1st of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Wednesday, the 2nd, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Thursday, the 3rd of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Friday, the 4th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Saturday, the 5th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Sunday, the 6th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Monday, the 7th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Tuesday, the 8th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

Capt. Emanuel, Chief of Artillery for Herbert's Brigade, and a most promising young officer.

For about five days after the siege commenced the troops were in the city, and the expiration of the time they were gradually reduced to the following amount of food: 4 ounces flour, 4 ounces bacon, 1 1/2 ounces rice, 2 ounces peas (in latter not eatable), and 3 ounces sugar...

On Saturday, the 11th July, at about 12 o'clock, the Confederate army, having all been paroled, took up its line of march from Vicksburg, and arrived at Big Black River, where it was met by the Union forces...

On Sunday, the 17th of May, the Confederate army fell back from their position east of Big Black, their breastworks having been stormed by the enemy on that morning, and about eight o'clock on Sunday night reached the city of Vicksburg...

On Monday, the 22nd of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Tuesday, the 23rd, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Friday, the 27th of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Saturday, the 28th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Sunday, the 30th of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Monday, the 31st, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Tuesday, the 1st of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Wednesday, the 2nd, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Thursday, the 3rd of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Friday, the 4th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Saturday, the 5th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Sunday, the 6th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Monday, the 7th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Tuesday, the 8th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

was placed at the buildings that had been broken open. Soon after entering the city, the stars and stripes were hoisted up on the spire of the court house, and the exulting shouts of the Yankee soldiers, and the deepest feeling of humiliation on the part of the Confederates...

On Saturday, the 11th July, at about 12 o'clock, the Confederate army, having all been paroled, took up its line of march from Vicksburg, and arrived at Big Black River, where it was met by the Union forces...

On Sunday, the 17th of May, the Confederate army fell back from their position east of Big Black, their breastworks having been stormed by the enemy on that morning, and about eight o'clock on Sunday night reached the city of Vicksburg...

On Monday, the 22nd of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Tuesday, the 23rd, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Friday, the 27th of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Saturday, the 28th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Sunday, the 30th of May, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Monday, the 31st, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Tuesday, the 1st of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Wednesday, the 2nd, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Thursday, the 3rd of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Friday, the 4th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Saturday, the 5th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Sunday, the 6th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Monday, the 7th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Tuesday, the 8th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

On Wednesday, the 9th of June, the Confederate army was again repulsed by the enemy, and on Thursday, the 10th, the city of Vicksburg was captured by the Union forces...

BY TELEGRAPH.

FOR THE JOURNAL.

FROM THE WEST. A citizen who has just come out of Jackson, Miss., states that the Yankees have totally destroyed that city. The State House was blown up. There is none of the enemy there but a few stragglers. The Mississippi troops are deserting in large numbers.

FROM EUROPE, &c. Latest foreign advices are up to the 12th inst. A telegraphic summary of the Baltimore American, of the 2nd inst., says that Mr. Lincoln will give a detailed report in the House of Commons, on the 15th, of his interview with Napoleon. No explanation.

There is no news from Northern Virginia except reports of Yankee success telegraphed last night. The news of the Press Correspondent, however, states that the Yankees are being made, which are long and bring the two armies again in close proximity to each other.

The next arrival from Europe will bring the result of the vote on the bank's motion. If the position of the Whigs is sustained, it will demand the prompt recall of our commissioner from Great Britain.

The opinion is generally expressed and maintained that Gen. Fremont, on taking possession of the City of Mexico, resolved the Department of State, while leading the army, to the popular mind, and to the Government. He speaks of this as a task imposed on him, in which he is the savior of the Mexicans. These are not wanting in the hope of a purpose to establish an empire, which is probably the true object of the expedition.

A party of Yankee cavalry, numbering one hundred and fifty, visited Washington on Monday. The same day they were ordered to leave the city, and were accordingly ordered to leave the city, and were accordingly ordered to leave the city.

Nothing from below. One hundred and sixty regiments, and twelve Yankee plantations arrived here this morning. Some negro children were driven by the Yankees while crossing Ohio Creek.

The city is very quiet today. There is no news from any quarter, and no rumor in circulation. The train from the West, which was expected to arrive, being delayed by an accident. The weather is oppressively warm.

The New York Herald of the 21st inst., says that the defeat of Morgan in the South, and the retreat of the troops, not previously captured, surrendered at the hands of Morgan was defeated with small loss. All the prisoners, 2,500, were exchanged in Cincinnati on Tuesday.

In New York on the 21st inst., the wall of the Rightward Station house was burned down, and the station was a number of people, mostly children, picked up and carried to the ruins. Twenty-five to forty people were buried in the ruins. Eleven bodies have been recovered. Gold rose to 120 and closed at 125. Cotton declined 1/2 cent.

The Anglo-Saxon has arrived at Halifax from England. The Herald says it is assumed that the Emperor of the French Government will order the newly constituted Government of Mexico to recognize the South, and make such treaties as may be fully beneficial.

The mob attacked the Railroad Station on Staten Island on Monday night. Several were killed and thirty taken prisoners by Hawkins Zouaves. Two of the latter were killed.

The American question was widely discussed both by the papers and in Parliament. Palmerston was requested by Rusk to drop the discussion of recognition, as it was not desirable to return it, or to bind the Government to its future action.

The enemy evacuated Jackson yesterday evening. Gen. Adams' cavalry dashed in and captured a few stragglers. Adams was evacuated.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.

Gen. Grant's army has gone to Vicksburg. They have evacuated the country through which they passed. Gen. Grant captured forty soldiers with the latter who were seeking horses. The attempt to keep the horses was foiled, although it was badly damaged.