The Maine Election.

The gain on their former majority by the Radiculs of Maine, has produced considerable excitement in the political world. The New York World attaches but little importance to it from the fact that the gain was in New England, of which the World expects nothing. It looks for different results in the great Central and Western States.

The New York Herald, however, is completely vanquished by the unexpected re- Ral. Sentinel. sult, and makes haste to set its sails to what it considers the popular breeze. It declares in favor of the Constitutional Amendment. and the Congressional programme generally, and calls upon the President to adopt of custard, &c., in brass kettles, or from it. It predicts unbroken defeat to the Conservatives in the autumn elections, and the certain triumph of the anti-administration new position of that time-serving sheet,which, curiously enough, in its very next article, attacks Mr. Raymond for being a "trimmer:"

There is nothing, after all, so very objectionable in this amendment-nothing which President Johnson himself has not, at one time or another, recommended to some Southern State or to Congress, and nothing upon which there should have been a disagreement between the President and Congress.

Brownlow, in leading off with the State of Tennessee for the ratification, has shown that a good thing may be done by a bad man for a bad motive ; but that Tennessee should thus lead off for this amendment is a very remarkable and significant fact-that New Jersey should next follow is almost as strange; but from good or bad designs, thus started, the amendment will surely go through.

The President's quarrel and rupture with Congress was an unfortunate mistake. From recent events, South and North, it is clear that it will prove a fatal blunder to his administration, unless he abandons it as the issue before the people.

Revolution Ahead ?

[Fom the New York Herald of Saturday.]

The secret conclave of the Radical Governors of the Northern States in Philadelphia, after the adjournment of the Convention on Tuesday last, is one of the most significant and alarming signs of the times. A portion of the proceedings leaked out, and the correspondent of the Herald gave the public the benefit of that on Wednesday last. But we have the strongest reasons for saying that the question then ventilated about dodging negro suffrage was not the only or most important one discussed by this conclave. It is understood that a revolutionary programme was entertained looking to fua good Senator. ture political contingencies-that is, to prepare arms and efficient armed State organizations for a conflict with the Conservatives,
