Dear Dr. Lawrence—My daughter, having been cured of a deeply seated disease of the lungs by your "Rosadalis," I feel it my duty to make the fact known to you for the benefit of others who are afflicted with this hard cough, which troubled her day and night; at last the emaciated form, glassy eye, night sweats, together with the cough, told too plainly that it was Consumption.

MORNING STAR. PUBLISHED AT WILMINGTON, N. C. BY WM. H. BERNARD.

A Chicago Drummer and his Mistress on the Rampage. A few days since, a gentleman and a lady got from a steamer at Burlington, Iowa, and went together to the Burlington House, and the gentleman registered their names as J. A. Smith, Chicago, and Mrs. Moore, Chicago.

Don't Marry. The National Intelligencer says the following announcement was made at St. Aloysius' and other Catholic churches in Washington last Sunday: "A Catholic man was lately married to a Protestant lady in this church, with the necessary dispensation of the Most Reverend Archbishop; the intention of these parties to appear afterwards before a Protestant minister, there to be married again, not being known either to us when they married here, or to the Archbishop when he gave the dispensation to the man to marry a Protestant."

New England and the South. The Newburyport Herald says between New England and the Southern States: "There was a mutual dependence that should have made us the fastest friends; and to-day there is no part of this country that has so much interest in their restoration—their full and perfect restoration—as New England. The capitalists and the laborers—those busy on the land and sea—the merchants, the mechanics, the manufacturers, all have something to stake in this. With many it is not a question of politics, or of abstract opinion, but a question of bread."

Burned Alive by Indians. A dispatch of the 16th from Omaha has the following: "The Wythebe, Assiniboine reports that scouts have found what is deemed positive evidence that Mrs. Denville, reported a few days since as probably carried off a prisoner by the Indians, had been burned to death by the fiends at fifteen miles from where the husband was shot. The remains of a fire, human bones, and several locks of hair corresponding with Mrs. Denville's, were found scattered about."

The Earthquake at Kingston. A letter from Kingston, Jamaica, dated the 15th instant, says: "Two frightful shocks of earthquakes were experienced here a little before and about midnight on the 12th instant. The shocks, which were preceded by a severe thunder storm, commenced about a point southwest, and passed over the city to the north. The second shock produced a great panic, and we are to offer up a thanksgiving in the churches for our escape from very fatal damage."

From Texas. Corn is selling at Austin, the capital of Texas, for forty cents per bushel. Cotton is said by the Gazette not to be in demand. None of the merchants are buying, except at ruinous figures for the prices. Some are offering only eight cents a pound for cotton in good order, and of fair staple. The Gazette thinks the prices in the great markets warrant a better effort on the part of buyers at Austin.

Florida Candidates. The Bainbridge Argus says: "Twenty-seven white, and nineteen black negroes are candidates for the State Convention in Florida. In no State in the Union—if we may be allowed the phrase—are the white Radicals of a lower type of humanity than they are in Florida. The best of them, from all we can learn, is not entitled to the respect of a Simon pure pig."

Facetiae. "Sister," said one of the brethren at a love feast, "are you happy?" "Yes, den, I feel as though I was in Beelzebub's bosom." "Not in Beelzebub's bosom?" "Well, some of the patriarchs, I don't care which." A correspondent tells how to prevent hydrophobia. Spriggins says he once presented a severe case of the dreadful malady by simply getting on a high fence and staying there until the dog bit.

Clippings. On Saturday afternoon, ten men—six colored and four white—were whipped at New Castle, Delaware. The exhibition was witnessed by a large crowd. A South Carolina paper has been using one thousand dollar Confederate bonds for wrappers. England makes fifty thousand tons of cheese annually, and imports thirty thousand tons more from America. Gen. Harney is sixty-seven years old, straight as a pine, six feet three inches high, and can outrun and outwrestle any Indian on the plains. Official reports show that the Government last year missed getting one hundred millions of dollars that it was entitled to for whiskey taxes. The Meridian Gazette says that many families of Newton county, Miss., have moved off to the far West, leaving their lands to be disposed of by agents.

THE CHURCHMAN'S VOICE. The election last Wednesday, which, at one time, threatened to become a scene of disturbance, if not that a white man from Massachusetts, and a member of the Massachusetts regiment for the Convention, was elected to two of the candidates of the Republican ticket, Chamberlain.

The timely arrival of Major Johnson from Wadmalaw Island had the effect of restoring order, and the election for the balance of the day passed off quietly. Much credit is due Major Johnson for the coolness and energy with which he acted on his arrival. The Major is a son of the Hon. Rerdy Johnson, of Maryland.

No Good Deed Lost. Philosophers tell us that since the creation of the world, not one single particle has ever been lost. It may have passed into new shapes—it may have floated away in smoke or vapor—but it is not lost. It will come back again in the dewdrop of the plant itself, or the rose leaf. Through all its formation, Providence watches over and directs it still. Even so it is with every holy thought or heavenly desire, or humble aspiration, or generous and self-denying effort. It may escape our observation—we may be unable to follow it, but it is an element of the moral world, and it is not lost.

Mail, the Arctic Explorer. Late intelligence has been received at St. John's, Newfoundland, from Captain Hall, who is searching the Arctic regions for traces of Sir John Franklin's expedition. He had determined upon prosecuting his enterprise the coming winter, and made every arrangement for the purpose, depositing supplies of provisions at easy stages along the proposed route. From some hostile Esquimaux he learned that about the time of the loss of Sir John Franklin's vessel, some white men carried a dead body on shore and built a brick vault, which they carefully cemented, and in which they deposited the corpse, afterwards covering the vault with heavy stone flags. This body Mr. Hall believes to be the remains of Sir John, and his intention is to visit the locality, and satisfy himself upon the point, if possible. He has secured many valuable articles formerly belonging to Sir John's party.

Conviction of a Citizen by Military Commission. Before a military tribunal convened at Columbia by order of Gen. Canby, John McGinnis, a citizen, was arraigned on the charge of violating so much of General Order No. 10, as prohibits the carrying of deadly weapons. It appears from the testimony, that he snatched a navy revolver at one soldier, and threatened to shoot another. He was found guilty, but to conform to the sentence in a measure to the spirit of the State law, it was commuted to stand as follows: To be confined at hard labor for the period of six months, and to pay a fine of $500, which price, if unpaid, will be expiated by further imprisonment at the rate of $25 per month. Fort Macon is the place designated for his confinement.

Horrible Mortality. The cholera broke out a few days ago among the negroes on the Buckhorn plantation, in Louisiana, and in a little more than two days eighty-three out of one hundred died. It is supposed this rapid and unprecedented mortality was caused by eating fish which were caught in large quantities in some lakes in the neighborhood, which had been nearly dry, the water remaining being very muddy, stagnant and offensive. The Vicksburg Herald gives a full account of the affair.—Montgomery Advertiser.
