The Presidency.

Thus far the newspapers of the South have exhibited a gratifying approximation to unanimity in their careful avoidance of any expression of opinion as to whom they may prefer as the Conservative candidate for the next Presidency. This is an issue in which we may feel interested, but our true policy is to leave its decision, where it belongs, with the people of the North. Any public expression of our preference, it matters not for whom it may be, will be greedily seized on by the dying Radicals of the North, Press and used to their advantage in the approaching struggle.

The Democrats and Conservafives of the Northern States are planning the campaign with consummate judgment and skill; and any intimation, even, that we prefer this man or that man for the Presidency will be hailed with joy by the Radical; Motters, as they will thus be enabled to humbug many voters into the belief that they are struggling to save the "nation" the hamiliation of electing a "rebel" candidate.

The probabilities are that the legislation of Congress will be such as to throw the entire electoral vote of the South in favor of the Radical candidate. It so, we will have no voice in the election, and must rely for deliverance from our bondage on the Conservative voters of the North. That they will do their whole duty, the result of all the recent elections conclusively shows. They are becoming fully aroused to the importance of making a last desperate struggle for the preservation of the government, and the supremacy of the white race. They see, in the recent wild and revolutionary legislation of Congress, the rapid approach of a military despotism that, unchecked, will soon hold within its iron hand the lives and liberties of every cit.zen of the American Union. It is the imminent danger with which they are themselves threatenedhas at last infused life and energy into the Conservative masses of the North. They have dreamed long and pleasantly; but the clanking of the despot's chains has grown loud

NOON REPORTS.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21. In a conversation respecting the present situation, and his future purposes, the President said: "A modification, perhaps I might say a decided change of public sentiment in the North has been the consequence of the present situation of affairs. One who held fast to a principle when a majority was arrayed against him, is not likely to loosen his hold upon it when so much of the pressure has been removed."

TALLAHASSEE, Jan. 21. Twenty-one delegates to Convention met at the Capitol yesterday, barely a quorum. Temporary officers were all negroes. A permanent organization was effected. Daniel Richards elected President; Christy (white), editor of the Florida Times, of Jacksonville, elected Secretary. A negro was elected Assistant Secretary, and most of the subordinate officers are negroes. So far the Convention appears to be entirely in the hands of the extremists.
