The chief feature of interest in the extract we publish is the fact that it gives, clearly and explicitly, the views of the extreme Radicals, as represented by their acknowledged leader, on the question of impeachment, and, also, some information touching their opinion of Grant. But here is the extract:

After the rush of members and politicians into Mr. Stevens' room at the Capitol had ceased, and very soon after the defeated "great commoner" had been borne in his chair from the Capitol to his home, the writer of these dispatches, who had also been a witness examined in the presence of Mr. Stevens, called upon him. He was received in a cham-ber where Mr. Stevens, the dying leader of a once powerful but now fallen national party, leaned back in an easy chair alone, looking almost utterly exhausted. Nevertheless his welcome was cordial, and the expressed regret that Mr. Stevens might not feel himself strong enough to converse upon the subject in view was alleviated at once by Mr. Stevens outspoken frank-

"Sir," said Mr. Stevens, with a bitter smile, "I shall never bring up this question of impeachment again. I am not going to dally with that or any other committee in regard to it any longer."

At this moment a secretary entered the chamber, and I bade the great commoner good-bye.

He said, as I took his hand. 'come, sir, at any time. I shall always be glad to see and speak with you upon this and other subjects. I shrink from no revelation of my opinions or convictions."

OUR NIGHT REPORTS.

From Washington.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18. A City Council delegation will, to-morrow, personally present President Johnson the offi-cial endorsement of that city of Gen. Steadman's resignation, dated the 24th of January. Full Cabinet to-day, except Stanton.

The Senate Finance Committee reported ad versely on the House bill regulating deposits of public money.

The Reconstruction Committee agreed to report a Resolution allowing Butler, of Ten-nessee, to take his seat without taking the ron-clad oath.

Brooks moved to extend the same privilege to John Young Brown. Rejected, only Brooks and Beck voting affirmatively. The Bill removing political disabilities will not be reported immediately.

Stevens favored further investigation. Stevens was authorized to report his bill dividing Texas into four or more States.

The consideration of Bingham's election resolution, offered yesterday, was postponed. The discussion developed the fact that Stevens and other Radical members of the Committee will oppose Sherman's bill admitting Alabama.

Revenue to-day $233,000.

Thos. C. McCrung succeeds Guthrie in the Senate.
