ADVERCISES ASSES ON

Merchants wishing to advertise in any or the North Carolina or South Carolina papers should forward their advertisements through the STAR ADVERTISING AGENCY, because : 1.-It saves postage.

2 -It saves trouble of writing letters and copying the advertisements.

3.—It costs no more than to send advertise ments direct to publishers.

4.—The cost of insertion can be ascertained before the advertisen ent is forwarded.

INDUCEMENTS TO CL UBS.

In order that our circulation may embrace all the States and Territories, Alaska and Kamschatka, we offer the following extraordinary inducements to clubs:

For five dollars we offer one copy of the MORNING STAR for one year. For one year we offer one copy of the MORNING STAR for five dollars. For five hundred thousand dollars we offer one hundred thousand copies of the MORNING STAR for one year. For one year we offer one hundred thousand copies of the MORNING STAR for five hundred thousand dollars. To every club of one, received after this date, we will give a photograph of our chief roller-boy in an elegant frame-of

To every club of two, forwarded without the money, we will give the "devil" -or his photograph, which is the same

To any gentleman sending us a club o three, or the "three of clubs," with promise to pay the first time he comes to town, we will send one blank marriage license autogas 1211

To any young woman sending us the "four-spot," we will forward, by the first male, one ounce love powders.

To any man, woman or child sending us a club of five " Indians not taxed," we will forward two ounces " Costar's Rat Exterminator; or, we will forward a rat already exterminated, whichever may be prefer-

To any lady sending us one first-classewing machine, we will mail six copies of the Monning Star just as long as she can stand it.

To any lady not sending us one firstclass sewing machine, we will mail one copy of the MORNING STAR, for one year, for five dollars. To "any other man" sending us the "ten of clubs," we will forward the manuscript copy of one of our " lreaviest" edi-

For a club of twenty, we will give one copy of the Bogus Constitution, ratified or rejected as the clubber may prefer.

For a club of fifty, we will give-one vote against the scallawag ticket.

For a club of one hundred, we will give one brindled "purp," " without regard to race, color or previous condition."

For a club of two hundred, we will give one note on Sargent, the delusionist, for interest added.

For a club of three hundred, we will give a recipe for enting warts, one paper coilar, worn only on one side, and a paintriver, "in a horn."

our entire wardrobe, consisting of one pair boot heels, one shirt collar, one pair spurs one pair darned stockings, and one pair suppers suitable for married men who have to "drop" paregoric between midnight and daybreak. Determined to give the STAR a circulation second only to that of Confederate rency, we offer to enterprising agents the above list of splendid premiums; and, in anticipation of the immense additions to be made to our subscription list, we are agotiating for the Ramage press on which the Fayetteville News was formerly printed-a machine capable of making thirty Impressions per hour.

CONVERTED.

We publish the following extract from a letter received at this office, yesterday, to show the influence that may be exerted by sound Conservative newspapers, when properly distributed. For obvious reasons We omit names : not language walk and

, ANSON COUNTY, March 26. W. H. Bernard, Esq. :

DEAR SIR :- Please find enclosed one dollar and twenty-five cents, for which send the STAR to ______, at this office, for three months. He belonged to the Red String" party, but a few copies of your paper, which I gave him, have made him a good Conservative.

Very Truly Yours,

PERSONAL.

Commencing with our issue of Tuesday red morning next, Mr. Thomas D. Meares, Jr., ability, talent and scholarly attainments, Mr. Meares is too well known to the people of Wilmington to require any introduction at our bands.

We bespeak for him the assistance of our friends in the collection of "items," assuring them that the Department of the STAR which has been heretofore such an by others but that a number of gentlemen attractive feature of the paper, will suffer no diminution of interest in the hands of Mr. Meares,

To Mr. J. T. James, whose graceful pen has added a charm to our city column during the past week, we return our grateful thanks; and wish him all the success to which his character as a gentleman, and his ability and ripe experience as a writer so justly entitle him.

THE

PRENCH WORDS AND PHRASES.-It is one thing to talk French, another to write, and another to read it. We confess to an ability to do either. And therefore, in common with many more of our Anglo-American friends we haven't much use for the language. It will lo very well for those living near the "White Cliffs of Albion," which are about as far from the French coast as Wilmington is from Smithville, to use as many words of French origin as they please :-To say TATERTATE for tete-a-tete; EMG-BONGPONG for embonpoint; ONGWY for ennui, and LONG TOM for long temps; but for us, i. e., the mass of the American people in general, it all sounds simply ridic ulous. We have but very litle use for French on this side of the big pond, particularly that part of it on which the American eagle delights most to throw the shadow of his wing, and therefore, whenever we find an unusual quantity of French verbs, adverbs and noun-substantives in an American book, we intuitively class the author as either a pedant or a

Give us the plain Ang'o-Saxon and we can read it; but attempt to pass upon us the sparious currency of French phrases and our intelligence is at once in arms.

Of late days no English book is considered complete unless it can count somewhere in its pages, a tirade on American habits and customs, and particularly on American phrases. The poor South-since its late damnation-has generally fallen heir to fully one-half of these, let us call them for politeness' sake-invendoes.-These English authors laugh and sneer at us for using words and phrases for which they can see no possible use, and which are not found in the dictionaries printed on Plymouth Rock, but which yet convey to our minds a meaning more forcible.-For answer we can only ask them why it is, if the English language is so profific. they do not confine themselves to the limits set by their own lexicographers instead of crossing an arm of the sea to borrow strange words from a strange peo

However, we have wandered, slightly We intended to say, in the outset of this piece, that French words and phrases, submitted for American reading, are simridiculous, and that the author who seeks in this way to show his learning at the expense of the good taste of a whole community deserves a complete and entire

"SARGENT THE ILLUSIONIST.—The first entertainment of Professor Sargent was given at South Carolina Hall last nineteen dollars and twenty-three cents, evening to a large and delighted audience. The programme of performances, including the distribution of prizes to each holder of a ticket, was excellently carried out. Mr. A. D. McWragg, living ing of Gen. Washington crossing Tar on Tradd Street, was the fortunate winner of the set of bandsome cottage furniture For a club of five hundred, we will give among the prizes mentioned in the bill. Another entertainment will be given this

Wonder if this is our Sargent?

SERIOUS LOSS .- We learn that a lighter loaded with 700 bags Guano for parties living on the line of the Wilmington, Charlotte & Rutherford Railroad sank at the Company's Wharves in this y city on Friday night. The Guano was through freight, shipped from points North of this, and was in course of transmission at the time of the accident. The loss, in all, will amount to some $5,000, which, it is said, will fall upon the Railroad Company.

AN IMPROVEMENT.-We notice that the City Marshal is having a barricade constructed between Princess Street and the old low water lot below it next South of the Thalian Hall. The object is to prevent the washing away of the foundations on which the City Hall building is situated, until the low place can be filled up, which is being rapidly done, CHARGE NOT SUBSTANTIATED. The white man named Benjamin McCormick, who was on Friday last arrested for passing counterfeit money, was yesterday brought before Gen. Allan Rutherford, United States Commissioner, when, the evidence not substantiating the charges, he was released from custody.

FRACAS. - A little Tracas occurup the street last might, in which one of the parties suffered considerably, takes charge of the Local Department of the names of whom, per request, we forthe STAR. As a young gentleman of bear to give. A gentleman-a poor Conservative,-in an evil moment, allowed himself to be insulted by a remark used by one of the dirty people of the scity-a scallawag-and struck him. The blow was returned, and another followed by which It keeps the Scalp Clean and Healthy. the follower of holden was placed hors de combat. It would have been followed up interfered and prevented.

This is an unusual-let us hope that it will be an extremely unusual-case, and must not be considered at all indicative of the attitude of the one party to the other, which has always been heretofore,and let us hope will be in the tuture-extremely peaceful.

The members of the parties in the Great Campaign think, diametrically, disalike, but yet, as a general thing, never forget, in their every day intercourse, the courtesy due from one to another. Let us hope, -and who will not help to make it so-that it will always continue thusly." Mand-Bull-.

OUR BARBER: A good barber is one of those individuals necessary to every community, yet one which it is sometimes hard to find. Such an one is the man who has the honor to shave our local chin. He rejoices in the name of John C. Scott, and he manipulates at James Carraway's Saloon, on Front Street. He is an fait in such matters, and as such we commend him to the hirstute public.

P. S. Scott doesn't shave us gratis. We pay Carraway the ordinary amount each month, and advise all of our friends to do the same. ... I have the recent . Mayon's Court, Tuesday, March 28th, 1868,-Thomas Dunn, white, charged with having been found drunk in the streets, was fined $5 for the offence and allowed to depart in peace.

Lewis Froelich, white, for a violation of the 10 section of General Ordinances, was fined $10.

--- Some people think it don't pay to advertise. We think it does. Yesterday morning we advertised for a missing copy of the Morning Star, to complete a file. Before dinner Mr. Henry Bremer, to whom we return our thanks, had supplied us with the desired copy. Other gentlemen called on us, in response to the advertisement; and, though they came in after our want had been supplied they are equally entitled to our thanks.
