Remarkable Adventure with a Rattlesnake.

We are indebted to the kindness of a friend for an account of the following interesting chain of inci-

A planter in the vicinity of Ad. ams' Run, on Thursday morning went on a drive, with a pack of 125 seventeen hounds. In due course of time, a fine buck was started, and as he came within range of the gun of our friend, he received the contents of both barrels. On went the deer, however, into an adjoining swamp, pursued by the whole excited pack in full cry. Near by was a negro hoeing cotton, who, wishing to assist his master (we beg 9 Approximation Prizes of $100 pardon, emyloyer) in providing a sports, threw away his hoe, and ran hounds tearing the deer to pieces. 418 Prizes, amounting to $180,000 As he was making his last heap, which would land him by the side of the "stricken deer," he had the misfortune of coming down upon a ALL THE ABOVE PRIZES ARE DRAWN huge rattlesnake, who, not liking such untimely intrusion, quick as Cuffee remarked, just as he was about to faint, "Oh massa R—, ratilesnake bite me," pointing to the coiled up monstor by his side. Cuffee was pulled to one side, and a discharge of both barrels of the correction of the boys draws one number from the wheel of Nos., and at the same time the other boy draws out one prize from the wheel of prizes. The number and prize drawn out are exhibited to the audience, and whatever prize comes out is registered and placed to the credit of that number—and this operation is repeated until all the prizes are drawn out.

Cuffee (our nom de guerre for this negro) was the slave of the gentleman who thus saved his life, until the lower part of our State was occupied by the Federals, when he stock of (Cuffee) joined the United States colored army, and by a singular coincidence, was confronted soon afterwards with his late master on a battle-field in North Carolina.-Cuffee even shot at him, but missed and was taken prisoner by him; re- purchasers, at VERY LOW PRICES. leased of course soon afterwards, when the Confederacy went "up the spout," and the "Union came in.
