The Nominee.

On the twenty-second ballot the National Democratic Convention nominated Hon. Horatio Seymour, of New York, as their standard-bearer in the Presidential struggle. The nomination was made unanimous, showing that the great heart of the great Democratic party beats responsive to the demands and exigencies of the hour.

Horatio Seymour is no stranger to the American people. His commanding talents, his shining patriotism, and his unsullied honor have given him a reputation extensive as the mighty next President he will be

New York will now roll up one hundred thousand majority for the Constitution and the Laws; and the tremendous influence of Mr. Seymour's personal popularity will extend far beyond the borders of his native State.

Three cheers, say we, for Horatio Seymour and the liberation of the South from Radical-African bondage.

The City Election.

It is not the province of journalists to take the responsibility of calling public meetings; but we would take the liberty of suggesting to our old citizens the propriety of publishing a call for such a meeting, over their own signatures, and to take such steps as may be necessary to contest vigorously the approaching municipal election.

As the time is short we suggest that one general meeting be held at the City Hall, at which the voters of each ward may hold a separate meeting and nominate candidates for Aldermen. Then let the whole meeting nominate a candidate for Mayor, and candidates for Commissioners of Navigation.

An Executive Committee should also be appointed, to hold nightly meetings until the day of election, and take such steps as they may think necessary to ensure suc-

We hope our citizens do not intend to allow this election to go by default. Do they wish to see our city government pass Are they ready to greet a negro police? Surely the interests at stake are sufficient to justify the hope that the people of Wilmington will awake from the apathy which now exists.

We call on our old and honored citizens to initiate a movement to-day that will close of the present week. We cannot afford to give up our municipal government to Radicalism, and let us make an effort to prevent it.

Restoration of Civil Rule.

Gen. Canby has issued General Orders No. 131, providing for the restoration of civil rule in North Carolina. The order being very full, we publish the following brief synopsis of it from the Charleston News:

When President Johnson proclaims the ratification of the Constitutional Amendment, military officers will cease to exercise any authority under the Reconstruction Acts. The terms of office of all persons appointed under those acts will end, and the Provost Courts are at once abol ished. All persons in custody by military authority will be turned over to the civil authorities, and those held for trial for violation of the military orders or Reconstruction Acts, will be discharged and the prosecutions dismissed. Persons in conauthorities, and those held for trial for finement under sentence of a military tricial orders will be furnished the State,

A message was received from the Sen ate, transmitting a resolution asking the House to request the Military Commission to furnish the papers in the matter of the election in Caswell county.

Mr. Hodnett, whose seat is the one contested, made some explanatory remarks, declaring his wishes for a full and fair investigation, and was followed by Messrs. Durham and Argo, setting forth the illegality and irregularity of the proceedings.

J. H. Harris (negro), of Wake, moved ty amend by incorporating in the resolution the words " and the evidence pertaining to all other cases in contested elec-

Mr. Abbott offered a resolution relative to the tour of Rev. Henry Hardie through this State, and his purpose to publish a volume embodying an account of the resources of North Carolina, for the information of the public, especially those at a distance who contemplate settling here. The resolution instructs the committee on Education to confer with Hr. Hardie as to the contents of the book, looking to its publication, and make such recommendations in regard to it as may seem to them proper. It was adopted.

An election for Engrossing Clerk was held, Messrs. R. W. Best and T. T. Best, and James E. O'Hara (negro), being in nomination. Robert W. Best received 26 votes, T. T. Best 11, and O'Hara 48.

A resolution by Mr. Bowman, that the free schools of the State should be so established and regulated that colored white children shall not be taught in the same schools, was referred to the committee on Elections, when appointed.

A Scourged People.

The mortality in Algeria, during the last sixteen months, from the cholera, has been very great, amounting to over onefifth of the people inhabiting the afflicted region. The asylums now only contain a few hunresult in a nominating meeting before the dren men, women and children still unable to join their tribes. The deaths announced up to May 1st in these last named establishments were 14,355; in the religious houses 401; and in the hospitals 2225, making a total of 16,881. The figures of those deceased outside can only be given approximately. In 1867 the cholera carried off about 89,000 persons. In 1868, down to May 1, about 111,831. Add to these figures the amount of 16,981, above mentioned, and the general total is 216.812. Such is the loss occasioned by famine and cholera in a population of a million of souls. It must not be forgotten that before the famine there were in Algeria 2,500,000 Arabs, out of whom 1,000,000 were Kabyle Barberes, who supported the crisis of 1866 and 1868 without loss. The Arabs of the civil territory, 200,000 in number, have had no victims to deplore; and those of the Sahara, 800,000, have had 22nd ballot—Ohio declared for Horatio Seymour; Hendricks gained heavily; Seymour positively declined a nomination; Vallandigham insisted that Seymour must yield to the demonstration in his behalf. North Carolina, Ohio, Kentucky, Wisconsin and other States changed their votes to Seymour.

Seymour, it was ascertained, had received the requisite two-thirds vote, and then delegates all over the hall arose to their feet, crying out "Change our votes." State after State thus wheeled into line—the excitement extended to the streets-and cannon proclaimed the result to anxious crowds far and near.

The nomination was then made unanimous and the Convention proceeded to nomination of candidate for Vice President.
