I had been afflicted three years with Neuralgia and violent spasms of the stomach, which caused a constant rejection of food. The doctors at Westminster Hospital gave up my case in despair. Then I tried your PAIN KILLERwhich gave me immediate relief from pain and sickness; and I regained my strength, and am now able to follow my usual occupation of sailor. One bottle cared me. Yours respectfully,

CHARLES POWELL,

SIR-I desire to bear willing testimony to the wonderful efficacy of that American remedy called Pain Killer, which I believe has no qual in this country. ### The Excessive Heat of the Weather.

From every direction we have accounts of the excessive heat of the weather, and consequently a large increase in the mortality list. One of the New York papers of yesterday, speaking of the extreme heat in that city on Tuesday, says:

The thermometer vesterday ranged higher in New York than in Havana or Key West. Chicago reports one degree warmer than New York, and is the hottest place heard from. The police report fifty-two of rightful authority to, and the independence of, the executive and judicial departments of the Government; the subordination of the which thirty one proved latal. Ten military to the civil power, to the end that the military to the civil power, to the end that the userpations of Congress and the despotism of the sword may cease.

Eighth. Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native-born citizens at home maturalized and native-born citizens at home where the sufferers were promptly cared for by their friends and were ality which shall command the respect of not reported to the police. One lady having returned from a walk was found dead in her chair. Frederick Miller, of 337 West Forty fourth street, had been married but a few hours, when the heat prostrated him, death ensuing almost immediately. Several were prostrated by the heat while standing in front of their own dwellings. Yesterday morning the telegraph wires were busy for three hours reporting cases where the parties had died in the night and were tound by their friends in the morning. One case occurred on the Fulton ferry boat. The stage drivers suffered terribly during the day, most of them being unprotected from the scorching rays of the sun, and yet not daring to urge their horses faster than a walk. Along the lines of the street railways relays of horses were kept at every half mile, and even with that precaution most of the companies ost some of their animals. Last night a cool breeze sprung up from the southwest, and at midnight the city was again quite comfortable.

The Heat and Clerical Wit.

The extreme heat that has lately prevailed has revived some of Henry Ward Beecher's waggery. It is said

Entering the pulpit on an excru-tiatingly hot Sabbath morning, he slowly advanced to the desk, the thumb and forefinger of his sinister hand inserted between the collar of his shirt and the cuticle of his thorax, and while he vainly essayed to to keep these at a respectable distance, the "sisterhood" seated before him meanwhile assiduously subjection to the British crown the privilege fanning their blushing, peachlike cheeks, he opened his mouth and said, in those soft, clear and yet resonant tones so peculiar to him when wholly self-possessed, "Brethren and restaurable to hear and heat?" (In the controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and that any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with its exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution wand if sanctioned by the people and sisters, it is done d het?" On the instant the fans were suspended in midair, and several of the "sister" came near going into a state of coma or hysterics, while the more pions of the "brethring," with a cry of horror, sprang to their feet and there stood, like so many statues, with the perspiration streaming from every square inch of their bodies. The self-possessed teacher did the instant the fans were suspended will subvert our form of government, and can ies. The self-possessed teacher did so not seem to notice the state of consternation into which he had thrown his audience, and as, for the second time, he jerked at the flaccid collar of linen, he repeated, "Brethren and sisters, it is d-d hot !" "Such," he continued in measured speech, "were the profane words that not an hour since saluted my ear with in the very shadow of this temple, dedicated to _____," Here the reverend gentleman was interrupted by a chorus of "Ohs!" from the ladies, who recommenced the operation of fanning, while the gentlemen, in unison, as they slowly resumed their seats, cried "Ah!" in swelling, organ-like tones.

In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the Radical party for its disregard of right, and the unparalleled oppression and tyranny which have marked its career. After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prose-cute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union under the Constitution, it has repeatedly violated that most sacred pledge, under which alone was rallied that noble volunteer army which carried our flag to victory.

Instead of restoring the Union, it has so far as in its power dissolved it, and subjected ten States in time of profound peace to military despotism and negro supremacy. It has nullified there the right of trial by jury; it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty; it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press; it has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests and military trials and secret star chamber inquisitions for the constitutional tribunals; it has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from searches and seizures; it has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters without any specific charge or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law; it has converted the American Capitol into a Bastile; it has established a system of spies and official espi-orage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would now dare to resort; it has abelished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme judicial tribunals, and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution; while the learned Chief Justice has been subjected to the most atroclous calumnies, merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President. Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created by the way. It has atripped the President of by the war. It has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment even of his own Cabinet. Under its repeated as-
