ENIGRATION! 11 ....

We copy the annexed paragraph from a Northern paper :

A letter from one of the Liverpool steamship agencies received at New York Saturday morning, says an average of five thousand emigrants may be expected at the port of New York for the next five or six weeks to come. The pressure for passage, the writer says, is tremendous nothing was ever seen like it before. What is to be done with the crowd when they come, unless they push on West, is a prob-lem. Even now the streets in the lower part of the city are thronged with the advance guard, not only from Liverpool, but from Hamburg, Bremen, Amsterdam, and Swedish and Norwegian ports.

The problem "What is to be done with the crowd when they come, unless they push out West?" is easily solved. And we are surprised that some of the Northern editors have not found the solution by turning their eyes Southward. North Carolina offers far better inducements to the emigrant who has sufficient means to purchase a small farm than be can find at any point in the so-called "Great West." Here he can buy land almost as cheaply as he can in even the unsettled portion of the Western States and Territories. And here he not only finds cheap land, but he locates in a region already settled, with good society, schools, churches, railroads and other improvements comparatively un known in that portion of the "Great West " towards which the immense stream Excellent land may now be bought in North Carolina for five dollars (cash) per lars will buy that quantity.

We offer inducements also to those emigrants, who, having no capital, are willing to work as farm laborers. It is too late now to make contracts for the present year, generally; but, even at this time, there are some planters who would be glad to employ skilled and reliable white labor at remunerative prices to the employee. North Carolina needs more capital and more muscle. A man of capital can come here and his money will do his work. A man of muscle may come here and dig pecuniary independence out of our generous soil.

If New York is at a loss for territory and employment for emigrants, let her unfold to their minds the inducements we offer right here in this "good Old North

THE LATE EXCURSION.

Departure of the Excursionists from Weldon-Courtesies on the Summer the part of the Managers-Arrival at Portsmouth-Visit to Fortress Monroe-Return and Reception at Norfolk-Entertainment at the Opera House-General Remarks, de., de.

[Correspondence of the Star.] Dear Star :- It was my bappy fortune to be numbered with the excursionists who visited Norfolk and the Capes on Wednesday. The train, consisting of sixteen cars, after the party had been transferred from the train which brought them to Raleigh, left this place at 71, A. M., for Norfolk. Everything had been prepared for their accommodation by the gentlemanly manager of the Seaboard Road, Mr. Ghio,-even the smallest service that would tend to augment their pleasure had not been overlooked. Food and drinks of all kinds had been prepared and were served to the appreciative crowd at intervals of half an hour. We traveled rapidly, and nothing that could in any manner mar our pleasure occurred. It was sounded with one acclaim by this large body of persons of both sexes that on no part of their route had they been so well cared for as on the Scaboard. Road and Steamers which is all due to Mr. Ghio, Capt. Brenan, the conductor, and their well-tried assistants. We reached Portsmouth at 111, A. M., where we were met by a delegation from Norfolk, who conducted us on board the elegant steamers Louisiana and N. P. Banks, which were in readiness to convey us to Fortress Monroe, whither we were soon going, as it took but a short while to get all on board, notwithstand-

Arrived at the Opera House, Col. Lamb introduced Mayor Decordy who, in a few brief but appropriate remarks, welcomed us to their "city by the sea." Col. Hinton was next introduced, and entertained the audience for a few minutes in a style that would elicit the commendation of every admirer of el-oquence. Judge Osborne next spoke in tones that need no encominm at my hands. In conclusion Col. Lamb made a few remarks, inviting the company to a collation prepared for them at the hall above Burruss' banking house.

All of the speakers extolled the advantages of Nortolk as a seaport town, and spoke of the reciprocal and mutual feelings that should and do exist between North Carolina and the "Old Common-

I torgot to remark that the Opera House was beautifully decorated with a national flag on each side of the stage, and the Virginia motto in the background, while above, a bold, but imposing design, were, in large letters, "Welcome, North Carolinians."

We repaired to the Hall, where we found the choicest viands in rich profusion, and every drink that could have graced the board of Bacchus of yore. That this repast met its due appreciation no one will doubt. This over, the crowd dispersed to find lodgings and while away the night as each's inclination prompted. I left, on my return trip to this place next morning, with an ardent hope cherished as well as expressed that this might be the inception of a grand reunion between the Old North State and the Old

Arriving at Weldon we learned that the ball which was to have been given on the night of the 16th, was a grand success, and many fair girls graced the occasion. It was with no little regret that I left home, which was so soon to be the scene of gaiety, but motives which no one will question prompted me. MANHOOD.—IN THE YOUNG AND RISing generation, the vegetative powers of life are strong, but in a few years how often the pallid hae, the lack-instre eye and emaciated form, and the impossibility of application to mental effore, show its baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observer that some depressing influence is checking the development of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school and sent into the country. This is one of the worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city, the powers of the body too much enfected to give zest to healthful and rural exercises, thoughts are turned inwards upon themselves.

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU, for Weakness arising from excesses or early indiscretion, attended with the following symptoms: Indisposition to Exertion, Loss of Power, Loss of Memory, Difficulty of Breathing, General Weakness, Horror of Discase, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Langour, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, Often Enormous Appetite with Dyspetic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenance and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots Flying before the Eyes, with Temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society. Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solicitude, and nothing they more dread, for Fear of Themselves; no Repose of Manner, no Earnestness, no Speculation, but a harried Transition from one question to another.

These symptoms, if allowed to go on—which this Medicine invariably removes—soon follow Loss of Power, Fatufty, and Epileptic Fits, in one of which the patient may expire.

During the Superintendence of Dr. Wilson, at the Bloomingdale As Jum, this sad result occurred to two patients; reason had for a time left them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age.

Scrofulous affections and disorders, which were aggravated by the were aggravated by the serofulous contamination until they were pairfully afflicting, have been radically cured in such great numbers in almost every section of the country, that the public scarcely need to be informed of its virtues or uses. Scrofulous poison is one of the most destrictive enemies of our race. Often, this unseem and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the atlermines the constitution, and invites the atdermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to br ed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver, or it shows its presence by eruptions on the skin, or foul ulcerations on some part of the body. Hence the occasional use of a bottle of this Sarsaparilla is advisable, even when no active symptoms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with coms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with toms of disease appear. Persons afflicted with the following complaints generally find immediate relief, and, at length, oure, by the use of this SARSAPARILLA: ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, ROSE OR ERYSIPELAS, TETTER, SALT RUEUM, SUALD HEAD, RINGWORM, SORE EYES, SORE EARS, and other cruptions or visible forms of SCROPULOUS disease.
