The anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in s single tube, and called the Ureter. The ure-ters are connected with the bladder. The bladder is composed of various cover-ings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mu-cnous. The upper expets, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability ; others urinate without the ability to retain. This frequently occurs in children. To cure these affections, we must bring into action the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglec:-ed, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.
