It is nothing to argue that the thirst for stimulous is universal, and that savages and the ignorant people are as fond of strong drink as the civilized. So the thirst for blood is a savage propensity. And the devouring of coarse and bloody food is another. Laws and government have been sufficient to keep violent and mur-derous nature under control. The customs of civilized life have refined our diet in the matter of food. But neither law nor custom has been sufficient to cure the savage propensity for strong drink. We have only made such beverages more palatable, and substituted for occasionally orgies habitual use. The recent report of an eminent physician, whose speciality is the treatment of inchristes, maintains that they are the victims of disease. It is a great misfortune, granting this theory to be the true one, that civilization and refinement have made that disease chronic in the educated and christianized, which in the savage is only occasional.

Whether intemperance be a physical disease, the misfortune of the stomach or the nerves, or whether it be a moral or mental weakness; one thing is certain, that the appetite "grows by what it feeds on," and, that, once acquired, it is next to impossible to shake it off. But it is not quite impossible. Neither let the longing for the poison be as great as it may, is there any man who cannot, by a determined exercise of his will, conquer him-self of the indulgence. There is no man to whose existence, or even to whose health and comfort, the stimulus of liquor is indispensable. Our prisons are full of persons whose incarceration is due to indulgence in drink; and yet the prisoners live without it, and are in better physical health while in durance than they are when at liberty.

Murder, theft, robbery, lust, dishonesty, indolence and poverty, hardness of heart, and contempt for the comforts and claims of those who are nearest and dearest, are among the fruits of intemperance. Every scaffold adds its testimony. Crimes the most revolting grow out of the dethronement of reason by inordinate drink. And the moral sense may be blunted, and the mental faculties impaired by what is considered only the moderate use of a class of luxuries, the only effect of which is to destroy the intellecctual and moral balance and make whoever indulges less a man covered with blood. than he would be without them. The medical men in England and in this country, who have been betrayed into the prescription of alcoholic stimulants, are retreating from that practice. Grant that the use of alcohol does, in certain diseases, promote recovery. The danger remains that the habit of drinking may be fastened on the patient-a disease worse than any which wine may cure. The regular faculty having in a great measure abandoned the use of alcohol in their practice, irregular venders have taken it up, and millions of bottles of poor trash are sold, being simply bad liquor doctered with drugs; but not to such a degree as to make the dose agreeable.

The safe course is for all to be beware of enervating their manhood by the reduction of their bodies and minds to such a condition of weakness, that the false strength of the cup is necessary to bring them up even to ordinary working order. And, whoever has entered so far upon the custom that daily potations seem to be a necessity, should discontinue them forthwith. There may be a day or week of languor; but if this seem insupportable, any honest medical friend can prescribe a harmless tonic. But in ninety-nine cases in a hundred no tonic is required but the honest pride of self-conquest and the study of self-respect. Let a man keep his own counsel; resolutely abide by his determination; rest, if he caunot work, for a day or two; amuse himself if he cannot apply to serious business, and keep before him the restoration of his health and happiness, and the victory is certain. We have seen many such cases of reformation, and could point to-day to men who were once despaired of, but now are respected and prosperous; who have quietly abandoned what their certain experience told them was ruining them. To the young, we say, touch not taste not. And to those who have commenced, we urge the relin-quishment at once and forever of a gratification which brings no positive good, and may work infinite evil.—Philadephia

Removing Honey-Boxes from Hives.

ED. RURAL AMERICAN.—Every skillful apiarian knows that if he depends upon the increase of his colonies alone as the only means of making his apiary profita-ble, and of rendering the business of keeping bees worthy of his attention, he will fail to realize success. Hence it is that hives have been invented, and brought to a high standard of excellence, for the purpose of obtaining surplus honey, and at the same time, not to interfere with the operations of the bees in rearing broods, and increasing their numbers.

Supposing that the readers of the RURAL have hives of the most approved patterns, and have placed the honey-boxes upon them at the proper time, I propose to give a few directions as to the best way of removing them when filled. It is never good policy to destroy a single bee when it can be avoided, and especially in the honey harvest, when every bee is required to gather the produce of the flowers. Careless apiarians are very apt to destroy bees un-necessarily while obtaining surplus honey. Where hives are so constructed as to allow of its use, a piece of sheet-iron or tin, to slide under the box to be taken off, so as to prevent the bees from below from flying out when the box is removed, is very handy. Smoke of some kind, (either tobacco, rags or wood will answer the purpose,) and should always be used to quiet the bees, and prevent them from stinging the operis lifted from the hive will cause the bees ing and renovating effect on the digestive apparatus. to be very peaceable and harmless. As soon as the box is removed, an empty one should be put on, for if it be delayed, the bee keeper will often lose the best of the harvest, for a few days in the height of the honey season, are often of more value than weeks afterwards would be.

The best method I have ever tried, and the one recommended by Mrs. Tupper of Iowa, for driving the bees from the boxes, is to take them off just before night and place them upon a table after supper.

They should be inverted, and several of them can be placed side by side, and a box of some kind turned over them, which is

Oct 7-tf

FIELD AND FIRESIDE. just large enough to cover the entrances to the caps. In the morning the bees will be found clustered together, when they can be set out of doors and allowed to seek their own hives. Or if it is preferred, each set of boxes may be numbered, and kept separate from others, and the bees emptied in front of the hive from which they were taken. The chief advantage this plan possesses over others, is that it prevents the jarring of the boxes, which in warm weather, when the comb is tender, often does serious injury to the honey, both in appearance and value. A Youthful Clerk.

Among the proceedings which took place in the Senate chamber of the Virginia Legislature on Tuesday, the Richmond Whig records the following:
"While the roll was being called, Col.

Walter H. Taylor, of Norfolk, (the Adju-tant of General R. E. Lee during the war) stated that his name was not on it, and proceeded to explain why it was not there. On finding, yesterday, that he was one of the seven Senators whose certificates had been retained by General Canby, he went to headquarters this morning, and on asking General Canby why this was the case, that officer replied that he had been informed that he was a clerk of the Circuit Court in the year 1844. He told General Canby that he was then only six years old, and convinced him that he labored under no disability that would prevent him from taking his seat as Senator from Norfolk. General Canby thereupon said he would have his certificate forwarded to the Secretary of the Commonwealth. This had not been yet done, and he was consequently unable to qualify as required."

Jealousy, Murder and Suicide by a Chinaman in New York, NEW YORK, October 6.

Henry Acong, a Chinaman, killed another Chinaman, Chas, Archeo, and bis own wife, in the fourth ward last night. He then laid on the bed and killed himself with the same weapon, a large knife. Acong was jealous of Archeo, who had been boarding with Mrs. Acong during the absence of her husband on a voyage to Liverpool. The woman was disemboweled by her husband and thrown down stairs. The stairs were drenched with blood. Acong then wildly rushed into Archeo's bedroom, where the man was sleeping under heavy quilts, and com-menced stabbing him. The appearance of the body was frightful. The throat was cut, four large gaping wounds were in the body, one directly through the heart. The left arm had six wounds, severing the muscles of the upper arm, and gashing the forearm to the hand. Archeo had evidently fought hard for his life, but the lower portion of the body was so-encumbered wirh the quilts that he could not get from the bed. The body of Acong, with the shirt torn open, exhibited seven wounds, the knife having been plunged to the hilt. He was partly dressed, and

Butter---Bacon. GOSHEN BOTTOM IN TUBS Dry Salt Bacon. MORNING STAR.

Saturday, October 9, 1869. WM. H. BERNARD.

Editor and Proprietor.

The MORNING STAR is delivered to City Subscribers at FIFTEEN CENTS per week. Subscribers North of the centre of Market Street will be supplied by Mr. WM. I. HARLOW; and tose South of that line by Mr. JOHN B. BURCH. Only these Agents are authorized, in their respective Divisions, to collect city subscriptions.

Post Office Money Orders may be obtained in all the cities, and in many of the large towns. We consider them perfectly safe, and the best means of remitting fifty dollars or less.

Registered Letters, under the new system, which went into effect June 1st, are a very safe means of sending small sums of mo-ney where P. O. Money Orders cannot be easi-ly obtained. Observe, the Registry fee, as well as postage, must be paid in stamps at the office where the letter is mailed, or it will be liable to be sent to the Dead Letter Office. Buy and affix the stamps both for postage and registry, put in the money and seal the letter in the presence of the post-master and take his receipt for it. Letters sent in this way to us are at our risk.

Obituary notices, tributes of respect, c., are charged half advertising rates when paid for in advance of publication. In all other cases full advertising rates will be charged.

THE CIRCULATION OF THE MORN ING STAR IS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER DAILY NEWSPAPER PUB-LISHED IN NORTH CAROLINA.

In our issue of the 5th we asked the Journal it it favored the re-organization of the Democratic party in North Carolina. It replies as follows:

"The party with which the Journal has acted since the war suits our present condition and views, and we are opposed to its dissolution and the organization of any other. * * * * We will not give our approval to any political movement in North Carolina which will separate us from the Democratic party of the North, as a National organization, so long as that party takes the Constitution of the United States as its guide, and upholds the rights of the States."

We confess our inability to determine from the foregoing whether the Journal favors the re-organization of the Democratic party in North Carolina or not. We ask our neighbor to give us a more ex- Legislature. plicit answer. To use his own form of interrogatory, "Yes, or no."

A SWINDLING PROPOSITION.

The amount of rascality in this world seems not only to increase with every revolution of the wheel of time, but to become more bold and barefaced in developing itself. Think of a New York confidence man sending the following letter to one of the strictest members of the church in Petersburg. The Index says it was received through the postoffice in that city on Wednesday last, and that paper publishes it as an exposure of the scamps who so persistently seek to swindle the people and as a warning to the people themselves:

NEW YORK, Sept. 15, 1869.

- DEAR SIR:—Believing you to be "true blue," we will introduce for your consideration a matter which will be the means of putting many thousands of dollars in your pocket in a very short time. We have now on hand, ready for circulation, $850,500 in $1, $2 and $5 bills. They are the best counterfeits ever put on the mar ket and we defy the Treasury experts themselves to detect them. They are of the same size as the genuine, are printed on first-class paper, are correctly numbered, and are so exceedingly well executed in every respect that they cannot possibly be detected even by the aid of a powerful microscope. We have them put up in packages of $500 each. We will sell you $500 of the $1 or $2 bills for $100; $1,000 for $180. We shall charge you $200 per $1,000 on the $5 bills, as the engraving of the plate cost us considerably more than for the others. If you desire to feel your way before investing largely, we will send you $500 upon the receipt of $5 or $10, whichever you see fit to send us, and you may pay the balance within 15 days after receiving the bills, or we will wait until you arrive. Any railroad ticket agent will take them because he cannot detect them. Don't show more than $50 at a time in a place. You can well afford to remit the balance in two hours, but we will give you plenty of time. You may form some idea about the quality of our stock by reading the inclosed extract cut from the Herald .-The stock is in a safe place, and we defy the sharpest detective in New York, unless you blow on us, which we know you will not do. Always send money by Express or Registered letter. We will do the same. Then nothing will be lost in the mails, and everything will work harmoniously between us. If you prefer we will send by Express, C. O. D., packed in such a way as not to excite the suspicion that it is money.

Depend upon it we are in earnest in this matter, and if you take hold of it in a proper manner you can make $20,000 before November. We have taken every precaution in the execution of these notes to render you as safe as if you were handling good money, for better executed bills were never issued in the world. THE CUBAN VESSEL HORNET. A report has been prevalent here to-day, and found its way into print, that Secretary Fish yesterday received dispatches from both the French and English governments to the effect that they had notified their fleets to overhaul the Cuban privateer Hornet and sink her when foundthat they were further instructed to treat the officers and crew as pirates, and hang them. On inquiry at the proper quarter it has been ascertained that there is no truth whatever in this report, and further, that it was not known in diplomatic circles that the Hornet had been captured until twenty-four hours after she was in government custody, when the fact was unofficially mentioned to foreign representatives, the British minister included. Virginia. The editor of the Tribune has endured n perfect silence the newspaper discussion of his fitness to be chosen a senator of the United States from the State of Virginia. No Indian at the stake ever underwent torture with more unflinching calmness. Not even speculations as to his motives for seeking such a position, and the propriety or impropriety of his doing so, could extort a word from his lips. But he has recently received peronal advices which assure him that the movement to elect him as aforesaid, whether formidable or not, is thoroughly earnest, and impelled by motives which he must respect, and a confidence which he gratefully reciprocates; and as the Legislature of Virginia meets to-day he eels bound in candor to state that he could not accept the exalted trust in question even though it were unanimously tendered. His friends will understand that this decision is irrevocable.

And now, if the gentlemen of the press vill forbear to name him as a candidate for office for a few months or years—the longer the better-he will be obliged to them for the courtesy, and will endeavor to reciprocate the favor.

THE KIDNEYS, -The Kidneys

are two in number, situated at the upper part of the loin, surrounded by fat, and consisting of three parts, viz: the Anterior, the Interior, and the exterior.

The anterior absorbs. Interior consists of tissues or veins, which serve as a deposit for the urine and convey it to the exterior. The exterior is a conductor also, terminating in a single tube, and called the Ureter. The ureters are connected with the bladder.

The bladder is composed of various coverings or tissues, divided into parts, viz: the Upper, the Lower, the Nervous, and the Mucuous. The upper expels, the lower retains. Many have a desire to urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability; others urinate without the ability of the muscles, which are engaged in their various functions. If they are neglected, Gravel or Dropsy may ensue.

The reader must also be made aware, that however slight may be the attack, it is sure to effect the bodily health and mental powers, as our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.

GOUT OR RHEUMATISM.—Pain occurring in the loins is indicative of the above diseases.—They occur in persons disposed to acid stomach and chalky concretions.

The GRAVEL.—The gravel ensues from neglect or improper treatment of the kidneys. These organs being weak, the water is not expelled from the bladder, but allowed to remain; it becomes feverish, and sediment foims. It is from this deposit that the stone is formed, and gravel ensues.

Dropsy is a collection of water in some parts of the body, and bears different names, according to the parts affected, viz: when generally diffused over the body, it is called Anasarea; when of the abounder, Ascites; when of the chest, Hydrothorax.

Treatment.—Helmbold's highly concentrated compound Extract Buchu is decidedly one of the best remedies for diseases of the bladder. kidneys, gravel, dropsical swellings, rheumatism, and gouty affections. Under this head we have arranged Dysuria, or difficulty and pain in passing water, scasty sec culty and pain in passing water, scanty secretion, or small and frequent discharges of water; Strangury, or stopping of water; Hematuria, or bloody urine; Gout and Rheumatism of the kidneys, without any change in quantity, but increase of color, or dark water.

It was always highly recommended by the late Dr. Physick, in these affections.

This medicine increases the power of digestion, and excites the absorbents into healthy

DEAR SIR-I have been a sufferer, for upward of twenty years, with gravel, bladde and kidney affections, during which time have u-ed various medical preparations, an been under the treatment of the most em nent physicians, experiencing but little relief Having seen your preparations extensivel advertised, I consulted with my family physi-cian in regard to using your Extract Buchu. I did this because I had used all kinds of ad vertised remedies, and had found worthless, and some quite injurious; in fac' I despaired of ever getting well, and determined to use no remedies hereafter unless knew of the ingredients. It was this that prompted me to use your remedy. As you advertised that it was composed of buchu, cubebs, and juniper berries. it occurred to me and my physician as an excellent combination, and, with his advice, after an examination of the article and consulting a gain with tion, and, with his advice, after an examina-tion of the article, and consulting again with the druggist, I concluded to try it. I com-menced its use about eight months ago, at which time I was confined to my room. From the first bottle I was astonished and gratified at the beneficial effect, and after using it three weeks, was able to walk out. I felt much like writing you a full statement of my case at that time, but thought that my improvement might only be temporary, and therefore concluded to defer and see if it would effec a perfect cure, knowing then it would be of greater value to you, and more satisfactory

I am now able to report that a cure is effec ted after using the remedy for five months. I have not used any now for three months and feel as well in all respects as I ever did.

CHOLERA!!!

The following letter is from Mr Woodward, of St. Louis, to J. N. Harris, Esq., of New London, Conn. Mr. W. is a gentleman of high respectability, and during the prevalence of the cholera at St. Louis watched the result of the application of the Pain Killer for this disease, and his testimony can be relied upon with the utmost confiyou in January last, my expressing to you my most sanguine expectations that DAVIS' PAIN KILLER would have a tremendous sale in the west this season, and my anticipations have been more than realized, and the testimony of thousands who have used it has been that they would not be willing to go to bed at night without it in the house.

On the appearance of the chelera in this city, such was the confidence in the Pain Killer as a remedy, that many who purchased it remarked to me that they had no fears or dread of the cholera as long as they had the Pain Killer by them, and hundreds took it daily as a preventative, for no person can have a derangement of the bowels or diarrhosa if they use this medicine. This was the security and confidence of hundreds acquainbed with it, and when their friends were at tacked with the Cholera they would administer the remedy in large quantities, and in every case when it has been taken in any of the first stages of this disease, it has proved successful.

I consider it an infallible remedy. I have not heard of any individual in any family who used the Pain Killer when attacked but speedily recovered.

The clerk informed me that he administered it to persons when cold or in the cramps, and it gave immediate relief, but still it should be given quickly, for when the discharge of "rice water" has begun, the hope of life has fled. Should this disease make its appearance among you, as in all probability it will, be not alarmed; you and all others there have the remedy, and I am confident if the Pain Killer is used, not a single death by Cholera will occur in your city. At hand for use in case of Croup. For Consumption and all Pulmonary Com plaints, this Balsam is the most desirable remedy ever offered to the public. Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudo rific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the

It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus, changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heats the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is warranted to break up the most distressing cough in a few hour's time, if not of too long standing.

It is warranted to give entire satisfaction even in the most confirmed cases of consump-It is warranted not to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any It is warranted to be perfectly harmless to the most delicate child although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the

There is no real necessity for so many deaths from Consumption, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if taken in time. We would recommend physicians having Consumptive patients and who have failed cure them with their own med ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM a trial. Physicians of Cincinnati are now using it in their practice with the happiest effects. It cures when other remedies fail. PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I.,
