CITY COURT -The people of our good city steadily persevere in a babit they have recently gotten lito - of behaving themselves, and consequently the police court furnishes us with very few items of interest to the public.

Yesterday morning, Charlotte Scott and Preston Flowers were arraigned for disorderly conduct and for being guilty of an affray on Sunday. Judgment for the penalty and costs, to be paid in money or labor at the Work House.

Geo. Sheridan, for disorder and assault and battery. Judgment suspended on payment of costs.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN. - This body had its regular weekly session last night, Below we give all the business of interest that was transacted :

Petitions of J. L. Hines and R. F. Eyden forerecommendations to abtain licenses to retail spirituous liquors, granted. Mayor Martin stated that a hose carriage had been ordered for the Steam Fire Engine. In the matter of storing guano withla the city limits, the Committee on Ordinance was instructed to prepare an ordi-

The Mayor was authorized to have five cisterns constructed, to be located as follows: One at the corner of Fourth and Brunswick streets; one at the corner of Sixth and Red Cross streets: one at the corner of Eighth and Mulberry streets; one at the corner of Sixth and Castle streets, and one at the corner of Sixth and

A communication in reference to the opening of Ninth street was referred to the Committee on Streets and Wharves.

Accident.-During the prevalence of the heavy gale on Saturday night last, a small dwelling house, situated on Tenth between Church and Castle streets, occupied by Artis Fisher, colored, blew down. There were several persons in the house at the time, but with one exception they all escaped injury. A colored wositimate business unless by paving specially | man, whose name we did not understand, had her collar-bone broken by the accident. Medical aid was summoned and she received proper attention.

BADLY HURT .- A party of North ern gentlemen on their way South went to the depot yesterday morning, and, while there, a little boy belonging with the party got to playing round a set of platform scales in the depot when he fell against them, his forehead striking the sharp edge of a weight and receiving a severe cut. Subsequently, when the party had arrived at the bluff, the little sufferer became so ill from the effects of his injury that the gentlemen were compelled to return to the city with him.

INSANE .- A colored man by the name of Pompey Williams, who was carried to the Poor House some time since, and who was subject to fits, has recently gone raving crazy, and Superintendent Scott is naturally very uneasy for fear he of the Society on Wednesday evening, at may do some injury to other inmates of the institution. He has no conveniences for confining the lunatic, and he considers him decidedly dangerous especially among a parcel of afflicted people who are not able to take care of themselves. There should be a suitable place provided for the safe-keeping of lunatics until there is room for them in the State Asylum. We should think the Poor House not a very appropriate place for, them. " OUR PARTY."-We learn that some of the politicians of the Radical stripe in this city are becoming very much exercised on the labor question, and want to put a stop to the immigration of colored laborers to the South and West for STRUCK BY LIGHTENING. A colored man who has made himself somewhat conspicuous in the way of assisting agents from Louisiana and Mississippi in hunting up laborers, was lectured pretty freely yesterday, we understand, on the folly of his course, by prominent official of the city, who finally became so indignant with the offender that he ordered him from his office. The colored man alluded to is one of the lead ing members of the "happy fam ly."

A COLORED CANDIDATE FOR CONoness.-There is a strong probability of a lively fight in this Congressional District at the next election, unless King Caucus interposes and conciliates rival interests, We are informed that quite a number of colored men of prominence in the Repubpican party, in this city, have been holdsome gold bouquet-holder, was presented for Congress. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY MORNING, MARCH 15, 1870.

Norming Definite. The Jury to assess damages on Nutt street met at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, according to appointment. The most of the afternoon was comsumed in the consideration of the matter, but the jury finally adjourned without anything defluite having been effected. They will meet at the same place this afternoon.

FIELD OF THE CLOTH OF GOLD. -The play-goers of Wilmington had been fed to expect much from the wide spread reputation of Mrs. Oates' Burlesque and Operatic Troupe, and we are glad to be able to say that they are not doomed to disappointment. In fact, the favorable comments of the press, which were unanimous in their praises of the entertainments given by this troupe, were more than realized last night to the minds of the large and appreciative audience which greeted the first appearance of the charming Mrs. Oates and the dazzling constellation of singers, commendienes and burlesquers of which she is the centre of attraction.

In the burlesque extravaganza of the "Field of the Cloth of Gold," which was presented last evening, Mrs. Oates, in the character of "Daruley," established her reputation as a charming actress, a magnificient vocalist, and withal a most facinating little woman. Having once seen her on the stage, we can now very well imagine why such a perfect furore has attended her performances in our sister cities of Charleston and Savannah. In fact, she must be seen and heard to be appreciated. Mrs. 'Oates' vocal efforts were rapturously applauded and loudly encored in every instance.

Mrs. Pauling Hayden is also a very fine actress. Her figure is faultless, and her movements on the stage exceedingly graceful, modest and lovely. She is the sister of Mrs. Oates and resembles her very much in personal appearance. Then there are Mrs. H. T. Alfen, Miss Annie Gil more, Miss Hattie Sloan, Miss Emma Leeland, Miss Ida Sayer and Miss Fanny Cooper, all possessing very fine dramattic talent, which was displayed to the satisfaction of the audience.

The male members of the troupe are all very superior comedians, and some of them, especially Mr. H. T. Allen and Mr. J. H. Chatterson are very fine singers. As comedians and humorists, Messrs. Thorpe, Beal, Pratt, Taylor and others are hard to beat. The amusing tricks of the Japanesc Troupe and the inevitable "Shoo Fly" "brought down the house" and produced the most tumultuous laughter among even the most staid and sober of the audience. Altogether it was a very creditable performance, and was thoroughly apprecia-

To-night we have the opera of the "Daughter of the Regiment; or, The Eight Hundred Fathers," with Mrs. Oates as "Josephine."

SPECIE PAYMENTS .- It will be seen from the telegrams and paragraphs in our exchanges that the resumption of specie payments, so to speak, is becoming quite prevalent among retail dealers in various parts of the country.

The Gold Problem. From the New York Commercial Bulletin.

Certain points connected with the fall in the gold premium, require to be generally understood, if the public are to avoid much inconvenience and injury from these fluctuations. While there can be no question that certain considerations connected with the condition of the national finances, the position of the foreign exchanges, the supply of gold upon the market, etc., have naturally tended to depress the premium, yet the fall has been mainly stimulated by artificial appliances of speculators, aided apparently by simultaneous movements in Congress. The decline, also, has awakened the sensational spirit of the press; which, by exaggerated representations, has produced a sort of vague notion in the public mind that we are closely verging upon specie payments. A few days more will probably demonstrate, by a reaction, that the fall in the premium has much exceeded what is warranted by legitimate causes, and the public may then wonder that they could have been so completely hoodwinked by a clique of speculators. There is much yet to be accomplished before we can reasonably contemplate the early resumption of specie payments; and as this preparatory work has to be done, to some extent, by Congress, who are slow to comprehend even the alphabet of finance, we fear the delay may prove protracted-certainly it will be longer than, with intelligent legislators, it ought to be. Those who are hastily sacrificing upon their securities—as too many unsophisticated investors are—and who are hasrily putting down the prices of goods to a specie basis, would do well to hesitate for a time; and especially as the tide, even now, appears to be turn-From the New York Commercial Advertises,

In their joy and exhibitation at the rapid decline in gold our legislators must not overlook the fact that there has been remarkable combination of favorable circumstances to bring about such a result. But these may not continue for any length of time. A change in the European money markets is liable to occur at any day, Money may become scarce and dearer at the foreign financial centres, the demand for our Five-twenties suddenly relax, and specie be called for. The present demand for our breadstuffs is not likely to increase, and may diminish, while there will sooner or later be a diminution in the large supplies of cotton vis entered a store in this city, and asked the keeper, a quiet little man, if he could match a ear-drop, which he produced. The shopkeeper told him, in his usual polite manner, that he had no odd pieces, but that he had some cheap sets of the same style, and took out a very bright set, which he offered for the sum of one dollar, and explained that it was a cheap imitation, which would sell, but that really he would not recommend it as of any permanent use. Mr. Davis seemed surprised and told him he was no judge of jewelry, and would not have been surprised if the price had been fifty dollars, and left the cheap store, as it happened to be, without purchasing. The shopkeeper turned tos bystander and inquired, "Who is that old gentleman?" "That, sir, is Jeff Davis." Mr. Shopkeeper was amazed, and the breath was clean out of him for a moment. " And that was Jefferson Davis! You're not fooling me-no? He's a man I always reverenced and wanted to see; and to think that I was offering to sell him pinchbeck jewelry! Jehosophat!" and he turned himself almost wrong side out. "Well, I must apologize to him for offering the d-n stuff." And out he went, and soon was bowing and blushing and apologizing to Mr. Davis on the street. The Funding Bill Passed in the Senate.

The Senate had a laborious session, today of eight and a half hours upon the founding bill, which finally passed by 32 to 10.

At one time it seemed that Mr. Wilson's amendment would pass, the sentiment appearing to be general in favor of the longtime features of that amendment. Very little of thorough study and practical judgment as to the theory of long and short bonds was evinced by those who took part in the discussion. Senator Wilson came nearest to stating the reasons that govern capitalists in preferring long bonds, but even he failed to give the main consideration that determines investments in long bonds.

It is known that the tendency of the rate of interest in a solid and well-established Government is downward, and upon this theory, thirty years hence say, a bond of the present day drawing five or four and a-half per cent, would probably be most desirable property, as three per cent. will then possibly be the highest rate for good investments in this country.

The bill now goes to the House, and will there be discussed even more at length than it has been in the Senate, since every one of the members appears to have his own peculiar ideas on financial matters. - Wash, Correspondent Ribmond Dis-
