The first new cotton has been received in Charleston. It was raised in Florida.

A colored boy was drowned in a mill pond near Adamsville a few days since, while bathing.

The Keowee Courier says: Refreshing showers have fallen at appropriate intervals. The crops are promising.

The dead body of Edward Badger was found near Barnwell a few days since. His death was caused by heart disease.

The body of a colored woman was found in a mill pond near Bennettsville a few days since. The Journal says she had evidently been murdered, and her husband, Berry McIntyre, has been arrested on suspicion.

The Bennettsville Journal says: We learn that a colored woman was beat to death by her husband (whose name we have not learned) on Monday last, a few miles below Bennettsville. He succeeded in making his escape and is still at large.

The Columbia Phenix says: Mr. George McCormick, of this city, an ex-Confederate, died in Chester on the 11th. He had been in feeble health for a length of time, and his death was not unexpected. He leaves many friends and relatives to lament his early decease.

Sea Island Cotton Planting in Florida. The Florida planters this season, it is stated, have planted uplands instead of sea island cotton, to an unusual extent. Seventy-six planters in Alachua county, who last year had 283 acres in uplands and 8,598 acres in sea island, have this year 5,419 acres in uplands and only 1,866 acres in the other.

FROM RANDOLPH COUNTY.

[Correspondence of the Star.] The Great Victory—Prudent Counsel. TRINITY, Aug. 12th, 1870.

EDITOR STAR:—The election is over and victory has perched upon our banners. With breathless expectancy we awaited the first intelligence of the result. The first day the reports were meagre but cheering, and the feeling of anxiety changed to one of hopefulness, not however, unmixed with fear. The second day placed it beyond doubt that we had triumphed, and for the first time in months that have seemed like years, we breathed freely. This was enough, it was the full realization of what we had hoped and prayed and labored for, feeling at the same time that we were contending against overwhelming odds and hoping against hope. But cheering as is the result of the election, all cause for doubt and anxiety is not yet removed. There are still other occasions of disquiet and serious apprehension; one cloud has been swept away, but there are others which still hang dark and threatening over us, the muttering of the thunder of vengeance is heard, and even from the receding cloud comes back an answering roar. Such being the case, it becomes our people, in the midst of the general joy, and while humbly grateful for an overruling providence which has achieved for us a triumph and a deliverance beyond that we dared to ask or hope, to heed well the temperate counsels addressed to them by the leading Conservative and Democratic Journals North and South, and by the Conservative Executive Committee of the State. The very magnitude of the victory and the unprecedented extent of the revolution within (not two years, but a few months, should awe us into humility and reverence, as satisfying us that such as it is, it could not have been accomplished by human agency alone, though our men labored as never men labored before.

Old Randolph has done gloriously, electing the entire Conservative ticket by majorities ranging from five to two hundred and twenty-seven; Tomlinson for H. of R. leading the ticket. Every dishonorable and contemptible expedient that could be devised was resorted to by the Radicals but without avail—our men were wide awake and prepared for them at every point. Dr. Worth, taking the Radical estimate for Montgomery, is supposed to be elected by a very small majority. Major Robbins, contrary to the general impression when I last wrote, is elected by a handsome majority. Davie, has elected the entire Conservative county ticket, except the Sheriff, owing to some divisions among the Conservatives they have elected a Radical Sheriff, Capt. Frank Robbins (brother of the Maj.) is elected to the Senate from Davidson. Crops in this section (especially corn) were never finer; and we are having as good seasons as could be desired. Tobacco, both North and South of here (there is none planted in this immediate section, is said to be very promising. More anon.

Truly Yours, RANDOLPH.

The Advance in the Price of Ice. It was mentioned on Saturday that the ice companies of New York had advanced the price of ice from fifteen to twenty dollars a ton at wholesale. At retail the price has been raised from one and a half cents a pound to two cents. But the most serious matter is the restriction as to the quantity to be sold in small lots, and one that will prove an especial hardship to the poor. Orders have been twenty-five cents' worth to families, which is almost a virtual shutting off of the poorer classes. The New York Post, referring to these advanced rates, remarks: "The complaints and denunciations of the monopolists by consumers is general and fully deserved. Up to April 1st ice was sold at twenty-five cents a hundred. It was then advanced to forty cents, then on the 1st of May to fifty cents a hundred, and on the 1st of June to seventy-five cents. July 1st the price was raised to $1.25, and a fortnight later another twenty-five cents was added, and on Friday another half dollar was piled on. At this rate it is difficult to say where they will stop, and as the people are at their mercy, the monopolists have absolute sway over New York. What makes the matter still more annoying is the knowledge of the fact that not only was there a large crop of ice last winter, but there is now a liberal supply on hand—so large, it is said, that many companies will have ice left over for next year."

State Elections. The following is a list of the Fall elections and the dates on which they occur: California, Sept. 6; Vermont, " 12; Maine, " 16; Indiana, Oct. 1; Florida, " 3; Mississippi, " 11; Iowa, " 13; Ohio, " 11; Pennsylvania, " 11; West Virginia, " 12; Delaware, Nov. 1; Kansas, " 1; Louisiana, " 1; Minnesota, " 1; Missouri, " 1; Illinois, " 8; Maryland, " 9; Massachusetts, " 8; Michigan, " 8; New Jersey, " 8; New York, " 8; South Carolina, " 8; Wisconsin, " 8.

XIX Century. One Dr. Hicks, the present editor, and a carpet-bagger, had taken over the XIXth Century body. The number for August throws off all disguises and comes out boldly in favor of the Conservative platform. Referring to the Conservative platform, it says: "We despise it, and call upon our people to crush it, as it deserves."

We now call upon the Southern people to "crush the XIXth Century," a journal which they have fostered, and with the idea of promoting the cause of Southern literature, little dreaming that it would ever be used as an instrument to hoist upon them a pack of despots, thieves and knaves.—Savannah Republican.

hundreds of years before the Christian Era, and thus save the voyage around the Cape of Good Hope, the distance being about one hundred miles across. Had it succeeded at the time, it might have altered the face of Arabia, by affording a short cut to that distant climate. That has now been accomplished, enabling the PASHA to bring his
