The Election Yesterday. The long agony is over. We have met the enemy and we have defeated him. One of the most exciting multiple elections witnessed here for many years has culminated in the defeat of the Conservatives and the triumph of Radicalism.

The Spouting Assemblies. The management of this highly pleasant and healthy pastime informs us that this evening they will have in attendance at the assemblies a brass band. They also tell us that this new addition to their institution is to be permanent, and on every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evenings the skaters and visitors will, besides the pleasure to be derived from skating and witnessing the graceful evolutions of the more accomplished performers and judicious tumbles of the novices, be regaled with "music by the band."

The Raleigh Sentinel of Monday says: Geo. W. Swenson, whose arrest we mentioned a day or two ago, and who was held to bail, succeeded in giving it yesterday, in a bond of $200,000 for his appearance next week at Bancombe Court.
