What Next?

The Lynchburg Republican says "that the man who will not take a paper because he can borrow one, has invented a machine by which he can cook his dinner by the smoke from his neighbor's chimney."

City Court.

The following are among the cases disposed of yesterday:

A. J. Mott, charged with disorderly conduct, was required to pay the penalty and costs.

James Mitchell was arraigned on the charge of having in his possession property belonging to another man, who defendant claimed was indebted to him for board. Judgement suspended: defendant to deliver up the goods to complainant on his paying $8 60 for board and lodging.

E. Lewis, S. Simpson and R. Simpson, charged with the larceny of wood and shingles. Found not guilty and discharged.

Burglary.

The work shop of Wm. Kellogg, colored, located North of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, was broken open on Sunday night and robbed of a number of tools. Yesterday a colored man carried the tools to a shop on Water street and offered them for sale, but the shop-keeper recognized them as the property of Kellogg and took charge of them, telling the man who brought them to call again.—This he failed to do, and in the meantime word was sent to Kellogg, who called and recovered his property. The thief has not yet been captured.

The Circus.

Grady's "old-fashioned" circus will make its appearance in our city this morning. If it is an old-fashioned circus, as it purports to be, it will certainly be worth seeing, as we have seen no circus since the war to compare with those which used to visit the South in ante bellum times. Grady's circus claims to be perfection in all that is startling, attractive and amusing, and many very astonishing feats are said to be performed by the company.

A circus always "draws" when nothing else will, and we shall expect to see the pavilion crowded both this afternoon and to-night.

—McKean Buchanan commenced his engagment in Raleigh last night.

The Lecture Last Night.

The lecture of Rev. H. G. Hill, of Fayetteville, at Thalian Hall last night, was not attended by as large a number of our citizens as we had hoped to see present. The subject—"Manhood"—was handled with consummate skill and those who absented themselves on the occasion lost a literary treat of more than ordinary excellence. He referred to the different types of manhood in ancient and modern history, alluding to the distinguished names who figured therein, and pointed out the contrast between those who were possessed of the elements of christianity and those who were not governed and controlled by its benign influences, arguing that Gospel piety was the great essential to a noble manhood. His reference to the character of the noble Chieftain—Gen. R. E. Lee—as illustrative of what constitutes a noble manhood, was peculiarly appropriate and was received with much feeling by the audience. If the reverend gentleman shall conclude to deliver his lecture elsewhere, which we suppose is his purpose, we advise everybody to go and hear it. They will be richly repaid for the small outlay required for admission.

The Voice of the People.

We have received a note purporting to come from a number of citizens and tax payers, mostly residents North of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad, in which they allude in strong terms to the unprotected condition of that part of the city from the deficiency in the number of the police force, and demanding as a right to which the people are entitled that the Mayor and Board of Aldermen shall increase the number of police in order to insure protection to the lives and property of the citizens. They contend that the force on duty at night is so small that it is impossible for them to afford adequate protection to every part of the city, and as a consequence that a large portion of the same is left at the mercy of robbers and cut-throats. They seem deeply in earnest in regard to this matter and demand that some action be taken at the earliest possible moment looking to an improvement in the efficiency of the police force, in order that its protecting arm may be thrown out in every direction and citizens can walk the streets in any quarter of the city without apprehension from attacks from ruffians who may take it into their heads to waylay and attack them.

They also call for the appointment of a city physician, whose duty it shall be to attend to the suffering poor and destitute of the city who are unable to employ medical aid in their sickness.

Local Items.

—Fine prospect ahead for amusements.

—A healthy man has twenty pounds of blood.

—Indigestion and industry are seldom united.

—Grady's circus performed in Cheraw Saturday night.

—Keep clear of a man who does not value his own character.

—Old Billy Watkins, a well known colored man of this city, died at his residence on Fourth, between Church and Castle streets, on Saturday night, at the advanced age of 105 years.

—The Superintendent of the W., C. & R. R. R. advertises that, an error in the rate on cotton having occurred, all over charges will be refunded by application to the Master of Transportation.

—We regret to learn that Mayor Martin's condition was considered much worse yesterday, and great deal of anxiety was felt by his friends. We hope, however, that a change for the better will take place and that he will soon be restored to health.

—Wm. Jackson, whose arrest was alluded to in Sunday's paper, on the charge of stealing clothing from Scipio Hall, an employee at the City Hill, surrendered two coats and two pairs of pants which he had in his possession, yesterday, and was thereupon discharged from the employment of the city.

—We learn that there was a sort of caucus or informal meeting of a number of the leading colored Republicans at the office of "Squire" Merrick, Saturday night, to make arrangements for a grand testimonial complimentary to Wm. Thurbur, a colored member of the Board of Aldermen, for the stand he has taken in that body for the defence of his race.

Adelaide Phillipps.

By reference to our advertising columns, it will be seen that our musical public will have an opportunity on Saturday evening next of enjoying a rich musical treat. The fame of the distinguished songstress has preceded her, and the great reputation she has acquired in the world of song will not fail to secure a large attendance on the part of the appreciators of the art. The following laudation, from the pen of the musical critic of the N. Y. Tribune, is, we are assured, not in the least overwrought:

"To say that Adelaide Phillipps is the finest contralto in America, is to say nothing, for the reason that on this side of the Atlantic there was no competitors for her laurels. To say that Europe does not possess her equal, is to state a fact. We speak advisedly, and without forgetting Alboni for one moment. For wealth of voice and execution, Marietta Alboni is incomparable. There in she stands without fear, and without reproach; but marvelous vocalist as Alboni is, she is much better adapted to the concert room than to the stage. Unwieldly in appearance, totally devoid of ability as an actress, and singularly deficient in dramatic passion, she delights the ear, leaves nothing to be desired in point of style, but never appeals to head or heart. Therefore we award the palm to our American contralto because, though less wonderful as a simple vocalist, her unusual dramatic ability, her versatility, and her masterly expression, eminently fit her for the theatre, and, consequently, places her higher in the scale of art."

Miss Phillipps is accompanied by several noted artists among them, Mr. I. Levy, who is pronounced the best cornet player in the world. The Boston Traveller says of his playing, that "the like of it has never been heard in this country," and thus describes it:

"His execution is marvelous; he makes his instrument sing such strains of plaintive melody as to make the heart weep; and the next breath astonishes by the most dazzling scales, cadenzas, thrills and chromatic runs.—Nothing can exceed his rendering of the 'Whirlwind Polka,' and the 'Carnival de Venice;' the latter is given with all the variations written for the violin."

Board of Aldermen.

This body met last night, Alderman Chadbourn in the Chair.

The following Standing Committees were appointed:

The Mayor, ex officio, Chairman of all Committees except Auditing.

Finance and Expenditures.—Geo. Chadbourn, Wm. Kellogg.

Fire.—H. S. Servoss, W. H. Thurbur.

Streets and Wharves.—Anthony Howe, R. P. Barry.

Ordinances.—H. S. Servoss, J. E. Sampson.

Police.—Owen Burney, R. P. Barry.

Public Buildings.—D. Rumley, Anthony Howe.

Board of Supervisors.—The Mayor, Marshal and Owen Burney.

Auditing.—D. Rumley, Wm. Kellogg, Geo. Chadbourn.

An ordinance was adopted relative to the forestalling in the market, with a penalty of $25 for the first offence, and $50 for each and subsequent offence, for any one who shall buy or sell in the city, or within one mile thereof, provisions for the purpose of sale or speculation, unless the same shall have been previously offered in open market under the existing ordinances of the city.

The city was divided into two Light Districts, the dividing line being Market street. E. F. Martin was elected Lamp Lighter for the 1st and Edward E. Davis for the 2nd District.

Wm. Cutlar was elected Day Janitor and and Wm. H. Waddell Night Janitor.

John Ryan was continued in office in the same capacity as last year.

An ordinance to place the police force for the ensuing year at 1 Assistant Marshal, two captains, three sergeants and thirty-five privates, was referred to a special committee consisting of Aldermen Thurbur, Barry and Burney.

A resolution offered by Alderman Servoss, that the committee on Public Buildings be requested to ascertain what repairs are needed on the City Hall and report cost of same at next meeting of the Board, was adopted.

The matter of salaries and fees was referred to the Committee on Finance and Auditing.

Board took a recess to Wednesday evening, at 7½ o'clock.

An Escaped Convict from the Work House Arrested for Hog Stealing.

On Saturday night last Mr. James Petteway, who resides about four miles from the city, had a valuable hog stolen from his pen. On Sunday, in searching for some clue by which he might account for the disappearance of the animal, he discovered in the woods not far from his residence a spot which presented certain indications of a hog having been butchered there during the previous night. On Sunday night following, he noticed a bright light in the woods not far from the place mentioned, which looked as if some one was camping there. He therefore procured the services of a party of six or seven persons, yesterday morning, and surrounded the place where the fire was seen the night before, and the party soon had the gratification of capturing one Tom Larkins, colored, a noted hog and cattle thief. He was thereupon brought to the city and taken before Justice McQuigg. It seems that Larkins was convicted at the last term of the Superior Court of stealing an ox, for which he was sentenced to six months in the Work House, and that his time in that institution has not yet expired. In the course of his examination, he stated that while cutting wood, on Tuesday last, some distance from the Work House, he quietly walked off. He also declared that some eight or ten other convicts had recently made their escape in a similar manner. In relation to the hog killing, he asserted that two of his fellow convicts did the deed, but would not confess that he had anything to do with it. The evidence being sufficient to convict, Larkins was required to give security in the sum of $100 for his appearance at Court, in default of which he was committed to jail.

We know not what credit to attach to the statement of Larkins, that some of the convicts have recently escaped from the Work House. If what he says be true, and they escaped in the manner in which he says they did, there is certainly room for investigation and improvement in the discipline and conduct of the Work House. If the charge be false, then the Superintendent owes it to himself that the matter should be thoroughly investigated by the proper authorities.

Since writing the above we have met Superintendent VanAmringe, who positively assures us that, not including Jerry Mack, whose escape was advertised, with a reward offered for his capture, there have been no recent escapes from the Work House with the exception of Tom Larkins. He further assures us that but six prisoners have escaped within the last eighteen months who have not been recaptured and returned to their quarters.—These statements Mr. Van Amringe says he stands ready to substantiate.

Larkins will be returned to the Work House this morning to work out his unexpired term, after which he will be turned over to the Sheriff.

Death's Doings.

The announcement of the death of Mr. Frederick C. Hill, which is recorded in another column, will be received with feelings of sincere and heartfelt sorrow by our entire community. One of our oldest citizens, he was beloved and respected by all who knew him, and his venerable form will be missed, not only on our streets, but in the social circle, where he was an acknowledged favorite.

Many years ago, as the editor of the Wilmington Advertiser, he became known throughout the State as a polished writer, and of later years his pen has not been idle, many of his sprightly and interesting articles having graced the columns of the city press. Peace to his ashes!

RIVER AND HARBOR NEWS.

MONDAY, Jan. 30.

—We learn from the Goldsboro' Messenger that the Ship Pontida, Capt. Stillings, from Liverpool for Boston with a cargo of general merchandize, ran ashore ten miles North of Cape Lookout, on Friday night last. At last accounts there were four feet of water in the hold, a portion of the crew had landed on the beach near Horse Penning, 15 miles East of Beaufort. Two of the crew were drowned and Capt. Stillings and wife were still on board of the wreck. The wrecking Schooner Planet Mars, Capt. John Lewis, started to the Pontida's assistance on Sunday morning. A Steamer is also reported as being ashore near Hatteras.

Mr. Albright: Bill to incorporate the Trustees of Pates Academy in Chatham county. Placed on calendar.

Mr. Graham, of Orange: bill to incorporate the Bank of Eastern North Carolina, to be located in Newbern, N. C. Referred.

Messenger from House received, transmitting a bill for a call of a Convention; and a bill directing the Treasurer not to pay certain claims held by parties for participating in the military movements in this State in 1870, and asking concurrence in same.

On motion of Mr. Cowles, the latter bill was put on it's several readings under call of ayes and nays, Epps, Hyman and Price, colored, voting against it.

Mr. Love moved that a committee of three be appointed to inform the Treasurer to-day of the passage of the bill concerning the payment of certain warrants. Prevailed.

Price, col., moved that the bill from the House on the question of Convention, as amended, be printed, and that the same be made the special order for 7 o'clock on Monday night. Motion to print lost. Motion to make special order as above suggested carried.

A communication from Board of Education was read concerning the sale of swamp land.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

SATURDAY, Jan. 28, 1871.

By Mr. McCauley: A bill to amend section 144, Chapter 4, C. C. P.; referred.

On motion of Mr. Jordan, the rules were suspended and the bill to create a commission to inquire into corruptions and frauds, was taken up. [Appoints D. S. Reid, of Rockingham, O. P. Meares, of Wilmington and John U. Kirkland of Orange as said commission.]

Mr. Jordan said that the delay attending the action on this bill had been caused by the difficulty of obtaining the services of competent gentlemen, &c.

Mr. Asbe said he had received a telegram from Judge Meares, stating that he could not serve on the Commission, he (Mr. Asbe) would therefore move to strike out Judge Meares' name from the bill. The motion was adopted.

Mr. Phillips thought that the bill should mention no names, the selection of gentlemen should be considered after the proposition had been agreed to that a Commission should be raised, &c. He moved to strike out the other two names.

After some debate Mr. Phillip's motion was put to a vote and adopted.

Mr. Jordan nominated David S. Reid, of Rockingham, as a member of the Commission.

Mr. Johnston, of Buncombe, moved to insert the name of David Coleman, of Buncombe.

Mr. Johnston urged the nomination of Mr. Coleman in remarks of some length.

Mr. Brown nominated General Alfred Dockery.

On motion of Mr. Jordan, the matter was made special order for Monday next at half past 11 o'clock. Mr. Jordan said he was induced to make this motion on account of the great number of names placed in nomination and the confusion attendant thereon, &c.

On motion of Mr. Harris, of Franklin, the bill to amend section 1, chapter 168, laws of 1869–'70, was taken up, and, on motion of Mr. Gregory, was referred to the Judiciary Committee.

On motion of Mr. Ashe, the Senate bill to do away with the special term of the Superior Courts of Craven and Lenoir counties, was taken up and passed its several readings.

SPECIAL ORDER.

Bill for the benefit of the Eastern Division of the Western N. C. R. R.

The bill created a long debate, and after the adoption of several amendments the further consideration was postponed until Wednesday next.

By Mr. Bynon: A bill to consolidate various railways and for other purposes; ordered to be printed.

Mr. Hargrove asked an extension of the leave of absence of Mr. French.

Mr. Welch opposed the leave, saying that Mr. French had not been present since the recess. If the gentleman intended to allow his private concerns to supersede his duty as a member of the Legislature, the State should not be called upon to pay him his per diem for attending to his own private affairs.

Mr. Phillips said that the law gave no per diem to members while on leave of absence.

Mr. Welch then withdrew his objection, and the leave of absence was granted.

CÆSAR covered his bald head and grey hair with a laurel crown. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR covers grey heads with the still more welcome locks of youth.

DIED.

HILL.—In this city, Jan. 30th, Frederick C. Hill, aged 60 years.

A gentleman of culture and refinement; he was the last male representative, resident here, of a family distinguished in our annals for wealth, ability and virtue. With extensive and varied attainments, he shone in the social circle, enlivened by the sparkle of his wit, and embellished by his graceful manners, with unusual lustre.

Many are the Editor of the Wilmington Advertiser, he was well known throughout the State as an intelligent politician and sprightly writer. As a man of the world, distinguished for his "savoir faire" and "savoir vivre"—he was prominent in the political convention as in the drawing room.

The funeral of Mr. Hill take place this afternoon at 3 o'clock, from the residence of his brother-in-law, Mr. Wm. A. Wright, to St. James' Church, thence to Oakdale Cemetery. The friends of the family are respectfully requested to attend.
