The Next Fair.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association, held at the Commercial Exchange last evening, it was decided that the next annual Fair in this city should commence on Tuesday, the 14th of November.

We learn from Maj. Griswold, Superintendent, that the work on the Bar and River Improvements below this city, will commence in earnest to-day, under the new appropriation of $75,000 recently-made by Congress for the benefit of this important work.

There were only 6 interments in Oakdale Cemetery during the month of June. Of these 3 were children and 3 adults-4 males, 1 female and 1 not stated. The diseases were consumption 1, inflammation of the bowels 1, billious fever 4, premature birth 1, and not stated 2. The ages were 8 months, 9 months, 22 lyears, 35 years and 52 years.

Misses Kennedy and Hart's School.

We learn that the concert of vocal and instrumental music by the pupils of the Misses Kennedy and Hart's School, under the efficient direction of Prof. Grabau, which came off last evening, was in every; sense a charming and brilliant affair, evidencing the effects of skillful culture, careful attention and signal ability on the part of the teachers and creditable aptness and proficiency on the part of the scholars. The building was crowded to its utmost extent by an appreciative audience and many were unable to obtain an entrance. It was, we learn, truly and emphatically s pleasant occasion and one to be remembered by those who were so fortunate as to be pres

A friend of acknowledged musical taste and judgment, we may add, informed us that though, where all did so well it was hardly fair to make discriminations, it might not be considered invidious to say that the duett "Martha," rendered by Misses Lou and Jennie Atkinson; the piano solo, "Love's Letter, Rose Schottish," by Miss Grace Griswold, and "Waltz for Piano," by Miss Carrie Weill-all of them being small children-were given with skill and finish such as would have been credcolored damsels, charged with quarreling, cur- itable to adult amateurs. The piano solos, sing and other disorderly conduct in their executed by Master Fred. DeRosset, are also spoken of as performances in which extraoryesterday morning, found guilty and judgment | dinary musical skill for one so young was disdisplayed. The state of the sta

The Trustees and neighbors provided an excellent dinner, to which all were invited, and everything passed off in a most pleasant and instructive manner.

Wilmington High School.

The Commencement Exercises of Wilmingon all sides to have been a very decided success, reflecting much credit, both upon Mr. Hinton and the pupils of the school. The attendance on the part of the friends and patrons of the School was very flattering, there not being room to accommodate the large number present.

Rev. Frank H. Wood and Mr. S. R. Bell were selected to act as a committee to decide who was entitled to the first prize in declamation, and after hearing the various declaimers reported that it had been with some difficulty that they had been able to decide between C. W. Worth and M. O. Bunn, but nevertheless felt justified in awarding the first honor to M. O. Bunn, which they accordingly did, and their decision seemed to be sustained by the audience. Thereupon, at the request of the Principal, Rev. Mr. Wood presented him with Remaining in the City Post Office, July 1 a handsomely bound book, accompanying the 1871: presentation with a few appropriate remarks. The declamation of the pupils, as a whole, was pronounced decidedly good. The Principal then presented prizes to Masters M. Grant. Section C, W. M. Howey, Section B and B. G. Emple, Section D, for superior scholarship and deportment during the entire session, and concluded with a brief, but carefully prepared address to the pupils, which abounded in good advice and pointed, practical suggestions. In this connection we think it due that special reference should be made to the splendid manner in which the piece, "The Glant," was rendered by Master M. Grant. The "Convict's Soliloquy," by Master M. O. Bunn, was also excellently and touchingly rendered. The de. clamation of Master C. W. Worth, who rendered "Time," was decidedly good, his manner being very natural and no restrained. "The Fireman," by Master B. G. Empi, was delivered with much earnestness, and the "School Day Dislogue," by a number of the pupils -8. C. Gause, Chas. Bell, Morris Bunn, Henry E. Orr, Jr., B. G. Empie, Willie Howey, H. Burkhimer, Eddie Blumenthal, Henry Herring and Emple A. Hill-was delivered with great fidelity to the text and spirit of the piece.

The large number present were unanimous in their expressions of gratification with the whole affair and the interest manifested in the exercises was sufficient evidence of the appreciation in which the efforts of Mr. Hinton to establish a first-class high school in our midst is held by the public.

At night, Gully went to Massy's home and endeavored to induce his wife to return home with him, which she refused to do. He then endeavored to force her to accompany him, when Mrs. Massy interfered and begged that Mrs. Gully be permitted to remain, if she did not wish to go., This infuriated the demon Gully, and, drawing a knife, he endeavored to cut Mrs. Massy's throat, giving her two severe cuts, on the head. Mr. Massy, coming to the assistance of his wife, was assaulted by Gully, and badly cut about the face, the nose and upper lip split, and receiving two severe stabs in the body.
