nouncement of the death of Mr. Daniel L, the fugitive. Now the negroes became Russell, Sr., which occurred at his residence very riotuous, tumultuous and insulting in this city last evening. Mr. Russell has been lingering for two or three years with 'cancer in the head, and the result which has cast such a gloom upon his family and friends cannot be said to have been unexpected. Mr. Russell represented Bruuswick county in the Legislature for a number of years, and was considered one of the most prominent and influential citizens of the county. He was also one of the largest planters in this section, if not in the entire Eastern portion of the State, and has latterly devoted his entire attention to Agricultural pursuits until prevented from so doing by illness.

Mortuary.

From the records in the office of R. J. Jones, Esq., Secretary, we have the number of interments in Oakdale Cemetery for the month of July, as follows : Dysentery, 1; typhid pneumonia, 1; congestive fever, 1; cholera infantum, 1; fevers, 1; consumption, 1; not stated, 7. Total, 13. Of this number, 5 died beyond the limits of the city, leaving only 8 white interments for the month, where the deaths actually occurred in the city. Of the whole number 10 were adults and 3 children; and were males and 4 females.

A Narrow Escape.

The kitchen of Mr. Jasper Bishop, residing on Third between Walnut and Red Cross streets, was the scene of a very narrow escape from a destructive conflagration about four o'clock Sunday morning. It seems a little colored child was sick and the mother, having to be up with it quite frequently during the night, kept a light burning. The lamp had very carelessly been placed in a window at the side of which was the bed on which the child was sleeping, its mother occupying another bed While the other occupants of the room were asleep, the child awoke and very naturally commenced playing with the lamp, which he finally pulled off the window sill. It fell between the bed and the side of the house and the fire instantly communicated with everything inflammable within reach, including a garment which was hanging on the wall just above where the lamp had fallen, the flames running up and extending to the ceiling above. The colored w man was aroused by the noise and speedily awake her husband and another colored man who were asleep in the kitchen and by their united efforts the fire was extinguished before any alarm was given beyond the premises. Mr. Bishop heard the noise and went out in the yard, when he discovered a large volume of smoke issuing from the roof of the kitchen. He was at first very much alarmed, but was informed by the colored people that the fire was out, the smoke having collected in the room while they were smothering the flames. The bed which stood by the window was burned so badly that it was thrown away, as well as several articles of clothing. Very fortunately there was but a small quantity of kerosene in the lamp at the time, or the results might have been of a much more serious character, even to the distruction of human life, REAL TO Death of Capt. Usher.

Many of the citizens of this place as well as elsewhere will regret to learn that Capt. James Dunn Usher, U. S. Navy, formerly in command of the Revenue Cutter W. H. Seward, 10cated in our waters, but more latterly of the Cutter Stevens, stationed at Newbern, died in that city on Sunday, the 30th ult.

Capt. Usher was born in New Hanover county, in 1823. He was a son of James Usher, Jr., and Ellen Lydia Lucas, of Charleston, S. C. His first wife was a neice of Commodore Warrington, of the U. S. Navy, and his widow was Miss Lanchantin, of New York. He was a half brother of Judge Edward Cantwell and Col. John L. Cantwell, of this city. Deceased entered the navy in 1838 and served continuously from that time until his death, a period of 33 years; but orders had just been aed by the government that he should be retired on pay, when death intervened and he was called from earth to another sphere of existence. Capt. Usher was a man of noble impulses, and his death will be sincerely regretted by a large number of admiring friends. The remains were to be received at the depot last evening by the officers of the Cutter on duty here and escorted to St. John' church, where they were to be kept under a guard of honor until this morning, when the funeral ceremonies will take place and the body be taken to Oakdale Cemetery for interment. We are requested to say that the relatives and friends of the deceased, and also those of his brothers, are invited to attend the funeral services without further notice. Since writing the above we learn that the emains were brought here in charge of Lieut. McDougald. The funeral will take place at 10 o'clock. The following have been designated as pall bearers : Gen. J. C. Abbott, Dr. Beery, Thos. W. Brown, Esq., Dr. A. E. Anderson, Hon. S. N. Martin, G. Z. French, Esq., Denard Rumley, Esq., and Col. Mendenhall, U. S. A. - Alice Cary often thought out poems lying | The guard of honor at the church consisted of the officers of the Cutter W. H. Seward.

National Commercial Convention.

The Southern Commercial Convention, at its last session in Cincinnati, in October, 1870 having passed resolutions to the effect that it would hereafter assume a national character and be known as the National Commercial Convention, certain documents have been received by Mayor Martin of this city, from Jno. W. Garrett, Esq., President of said Convention, conveying the information that the first session of that body under its new auspices will convene in Baltimore on Monday, the 25th day of September, 1871. The basis of representation is as follows:

Each incorporated city shall be entitled to one delegate, and to one additional delegate to every ten thousand inhabitants over the first ten thousand, provided that no city shall be entitled to more than ten delegates. Each territory and the District of Columbia shall be entitled to one delegate; and each State to one delegate from each Congressional District, to be appointed by the Governor. Each incorporated railroad, steamboat, manufacturing and mining company in actual operation, having a cash capital of $100,000, shall be entitled to one delegate. Every Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade shall be entitled to one delegate.

The Committee of Arrangements has authority to invite persons of eminence in the arts and sciences, or in commercial and in agricultural pursuits, and such other persons of distinction as they may deem to the interest of the convention. Delegates intending to be present are requested to advise the chairman of such intention at as early a day as possible. The subjects to be considered by the Convention are of great national and commercial importance and it is to be hoped that our city and State and all incorporate bodies interested will take steps to be represented in the Convention. delegit one Lotgele ed or era stand

Sudden Death.

Seldom, if ever, has this community experienced such a sudden and overwhelming shock as it sustained last night. Mr. S. M. Wast, an old, well-known and prominent citizen of Wilmington, had been attending to his usual business-that of an auctioncer-during the day and returned home in the evening, as his wont. The evening meal had been disposed of and he with his family were sitting in the front plazza engaged in conversation when, about half-past 9 o'clock, Mr. West was seized with a sudden fit of coughing, followed by a hemorrhage, and fell from his seat to the floor. He was immediately assisted into the house and placed on a sofa, and a messenger sent for Dr. J. F. King, who resides directly opposite; but when the physician arrived at. the scene Mr. West was beyond the reach of earthly aid, having died from strangulation within five minutes after he was attacked with the hemorrhage, sprrounded by his family, who were almost distracted with grief at their sudden and unlooked for bereavement. Deceased, we understand, was subject to disease of the heart, but the immediate cause of his death was pronounced by Dr. King to be internal hemorrhage. After being carried into the room, addressing one of his sone, he uttered the words. "My son, I am dying!" which were probably the last and only words he spoke after he was struck with the disease which terminated his life. Mr. West was born on the 15th of February, 1810, and was consequently in the 62nd year of his age. His death will cause profound sor-row in the community, among whom he was held in high esteem. His funeral, we learn, will take place at 414 o'clock this afternoon.

in the extreme. Clubs, razors, knives and pistols were flourished by them in an uncountable number, while their threats for In tobbing lots at ma revenge were most terrific.

At the Exchange Hotel the police succeeded in recapturing the fugitive. In meantime the mob had become more infuriated and fully maddened. The prisoner was taken inside the Hotel by deputy-sheriff Mike Woods, aided by the police, while the mob, fully one thousand strong, congregated in front of the entrance, still clamoring for the prisoner and threatening the life of Gus Bryant, the colored police. A melee ensued in which several innocent white men, who merely looked on, were badly clubbed by the mob.

The fury of the mob, which by this time had become overwhelming in numbers, in front of the hotel, had now reached its highest pitch. Clubs, pistols, brick-bats and razors were flourished in all directions. The universal cry among them was, that the colored policeman, Augustus Bryan, who was said to have shot at the rescued prisoner as he ran, must be brought out and killed or hung on the spot. Remonstrance was unavailing. Some white men on the plazza were again brutally beaten, and the clamor for the capture and life of policeman Bryan was kept up. Policemen guarding the door were clubbed, and colored men, who tried to pacify the mob and keep them from breaking in-to the Hotel, had their clothes torn to rags. A missile, hurled at the window, broke it and cut a severe gash on the head of Mr. Council Best, an aged citizen, who had sought shelter in the hotel. A pistol shot fired from the mob, took effect in the door casing; the door was forced open, and two blews with clubs were rapidly dealt to one of the men, a citizen, inside." Forbearance had now ceased to be a virtue -it was do or die with the police who were inside, and a rapid fire was opened upon the assailants, who fired rapidly in return. One man, a principal rioter, was killed on the spot, three or four, wounded and a general stampede of the immense mob took place. In all, about thirty shots were fired.

The mob, however, soon rallied for a second attack, even more infuriated than at first.

Just then Mr. W. F. Loftin, of Kinston, a republican, appeared on the Hotel plazza, and appealed to the n.ob to disperse. Several colored men, among them John Randolph, of Newbern, also did all in their power to subdue the rioters. The police, and especially the white citizens, showed a commandable forbearance; and we are glad that but very few. of the Goldsboro' colored men showed disposition to side with the mob. We have been unable to learn the exact damage done to persons. Good many in-nocent whites were clubbed by the negroes, and two badly hurt; Mr. C. Best, had a very ugly gash inflicted over his left eye by a huge brick bat, hurled by one of NIGEL BARTRAM'S IDEAL.
