The cyclone will probably keep at some dis tance off the North Carolina coast, but easterly winds are probable from North Carolina to Massachusetts, with rain on the immediate coast south of Delaware. Smoky and fair weather will probably continue in the Middle and Eastern States, and on the lower Lakes. Partially cloudy and clear weather on the Gulf coast. The low barometer in the Northwest will probably give rise to a few light local storms on the upper lakes to-night.

Arrest d for Larceny.

On Thursday last, while Judge Russell was busily engaged at the Court House in trying offenders against the laws of the State and seutencing them to receive the punishment they deserved, thieves were equally busy in relieving the clothes line in the yard in the rear of his residence of sundry articles of clothing. Two colored girls, named respectively Rebecca Morris and Viola Burr alias Tioga Burr were suspicioned of the theft. A the sum of $50 each, were lodged in jail.

The Late Explosion.

We have no particulars additional to those given in Saturday's issue, concerning the late steamboat disaster near Fayetteville; but we find in the Raleigh Era the following and give it to our readers, as it contains statements of interest to them : "Mr. Lee, route agent from Fayetteville to this place, informs us that the steamer Lee, running from Fayetteville to Wilmington, exploded Thursday fifteen miles below Fayetteville. Three colored men, whose names our informant was unable to give, were killed. Ten others were wounded, among whom were Capt. Skinner, and T. J. Wilson, of Wilmington. His daughter was on the boat with two little children-twins. One of the twins was blown twenty feet in the air, and was caught by the engineer as it came down. It was unhurt. The steamer A. P. Hurt, which was a quarter of a mile ahead, came back and took up the killed, the woundthe boiler was an old one."

A Stormy Scene. Considerable of a row took place on the wharf of Messrs. Barry Bros., yesterday afternoon. A difficulty originated between a stevedore, by the name of Owen Dove, and a drayman by the name of Gause, during which the latter cursed the former in no very choice language. A collision was the result, and a few minutes sufficed to bring together about one hundred and fifty or two hundred colored ; cople, all eager to participate in the affray. Very opportunely, however, the police appeared upon the scene, whereupon the belligerents were separated and marched off to the Guard House, when the crowd dispersed. Owen Dove, one of the parties, was subsequently released on bail. Each of the beiligerents had his friends, and but for the interposition of the police there would probably have been a regular "free fight."

A Heavy Gale.

A cyclone, having its origination in the West Indies, as we are informed by the Signal Offieer here, traveled in a Northwesternly direction over Florida, and then took a Northeastern course, striking Savannah and Charleston. It struck Savannah on Friday afternoon and Charleston at night, the centre then being at Savannah. From Charleston it took a more Easternly course, and last night at 11 o'clock it was stationary about 100 miles Southeast of this city. The gale is supposed to have been very severe off Cape Hatteras last night. It was the opinion of the Signal Officer that the gale would be comparatively light here. As we go to press it is blowing quite briskly.

We learn that the gale was very severe off our coast yesterday.

Lttempted Rape.

We learn from a gentleman at Lilesville, Anson county, that Charles Meachum, a "sixtoed negro," some seventeen years of age and a notorious rogue, was arrested at that place vesterday and held to bail by Magistrate Flad. ger in a bond of $1,500 on a charge of assault with intent to commit a rape upon a respectable white girl, aged 13 years, and failing to give security he was committed to jail to await his trial. The proof is positive against him, but there is no disposition shown to do otherwise than to await the due course of law.

Religious Revival.

We learn that a protracted meeting of the Baptists of White Lake, Bladen county, has been in progress for more than a week past, and is still continued. It is conducted by Elders Elwell and Edwards. They have large and attentive congregations and much interest is manifested. During the progress of the meeting several persons have expressed a change of heart and united with the church.

Amusements Abead. : bodd amblueds We learn that Mrs. W. T. Powell, Manageress of the Richmond Theatre, has made ap plication for Thallan Hall for three nights. commencing with the third week in October. She proposes to introduce the Ada Harland Troupe, which has the reputation of being skilled in comedy. The prospects are favorable that Wilmington will not suffer for amusements during the approaching season.

Narrow Escape.

One of the most remarkable escapes from instant death that we have ever heard or read of occurred in this city yesterday afternoon. A youth by the name of Fletcher Manning. between twelve and thirteen years of age, a son of Capt. E. W. Manning, was on the roof of the old City Hotel building, on the corner of Second and Market streets, and was passing around the chimney on the side next to the yard, clinging to a single brick on the cap of the chimney, when the brick suddenly became detached from its position and the poor b y was precipitated from the giddy height of at least forty or fifty feet to the yard below.

From the second story of the building, in the rear, there is a flight of steps extending out for some distance into the yard, with railing on each side. In falling it is supposed his side struck the railing and his feet came in contact with the steps. This, we believe, is the version he gives. At any rate, the railing was knocked from its position and was found laying in the yard, while one of the steps was split into two pieces, one of which was found laying on the ground beneath.

Two gentlemen sitting at the back door of an office on Princess street saw the youth performing the perilous, feat of walking around the chimney, with but a narrow space upon which to obtain a foothold, and also saw him when he was precipitated from the dangerous height. They hurried to the scene of the accident with the expectation of finding naught but a crushed and bleeding form; but, what was their surprise and gratification to find that he was not dangerously hurt. The poor boy was carried into the parlor and placed upon a sofa and two physicians summoned, who, upon examination, found that he had received two quite severe bruises on the right leg, a slight bruise on the arm and one on the face, neither of which were in any wise serious. It was also their opinion that he had received no internal injury. We visited the patient shortly after the accident and found him comparatively easy, and very much composed considering the fearful shock he had so recently experienced. It is hoped ed and the passengers. The boat was new but | and believed that he will soon recover from his injuries and that hereafter he will be more careful how he performs such dangerous experiments as the one which came so near resulting in his destruction.

March of the Cholera.

The cholera is said to have shown itself in Paris as well as in London. What guarantee have we that it will not soon be seen on this side of the Atlantic? And, once let loose upon us, when, where, how will it end? As it has been, so it may be again. Two weeks ago, says the Norfolk Virginian, and its remarks apply with equal force here in Wilmington, we suggested the propriety of sanitary precautions. As we learned the scourge was still speading westward in Europe, we repeatad the warning; and to day we recur to it, with an increased assurance of the necess'ty for prompt preparation against this frightful THE PARTY OF THE P

It is especially important that our seaboard cities should be immediately cleansed. We are not disposed to arouse apprehension prematurely, or unnecessarily. But, as public journalists, we would be unfaithful to the public interests, if we should fail to point to the danger that threatens, and to urge the means of averting it.

As the fire in the prairie stops burning where the grass stops growing, so will the cholera be brought to a halt when it finds no filth to feed upon. Preparation for war is the best guarantee of peace.

Complimentary.

In alluding to the steamship Tonawanda commanded by Capt. L. D. Barrett, formerly of the Pioneer, and well known in this city, Savannah paper thus compliments that gentleman in words that will find a ready response in the heart of every Wilmingtonian who knows him :

"Without at all intending to disparager any others of the coastwise steamships, we can, from personal experience, heartily recommend the Tonawanda to any of our readers whose business or pleasure may lead them to travel Northward, assuring them of pleasant berths, good fare, and a feeling of safety in being on the briny deep under the charge of an experienced and skillful commander, who is withal a thoroughly "good tellow," to use a common phrase, and who, besides carefully attending to the safe navigation of his ship, spares no pains to see that all his passengers are made entirely comfortable."

It was a plain, practical state-ment of the evils of intemperance on the one hand and the blessings of temperance on the other. It was an appeal to the reason and common sense of his audience, totally divested of the cant and trick which so often disfigure and mar the efforts of the professional temperance lecturer. Bishop Gibbons' oratory is much in the conversational and persuasive style. He speaks rapidly but forcibly and distinctly, and possesses the rare power of giving memory, as it were, to his hearers, for no one can soon or readily forget what so pleasantly and agreeably falls from his ips. The address occupied little over an hour in its delivery, though it contained matter sufficient for a score of addresses.

MEDICAL MISTAKES. It took the faculty about a thousand years to discover that the best way to cure discare was not to render the patient too weak to contend with it. Within the last twenty years, however, the whole system of medical practice has been changed for the better. In diseases or complaints caused by excessive heat, for instance, the doctors no longer recommend the reduction of the invalid's strength by prostrating medicines. The vast success which has attended the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for debility, has given even the most prejudiced members of the old school an insight into the only true and rational theory of cure. Cantharides, calomel and overpowering doses of opium, are now among the obsolete nostrums of another age. The lancet, once as much the legitimate weapon of the physician as the sword is of the soldier, is seldom drawn from its case. The principle of life is no longer drained from the veins by the quart, and water-gruel for the strengthless invalid has ceased to be considered an appropriate diet. Vigor is the motto of the rational members of the profession, and they understand, at last, the value of a sterling vegetable tonic. So, also, with the people at large; and without consulting medical men at all, they have adopted the bitters as a household remedy, thereby economising both cash and health.

Note the fact, that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is sold in bettles only, never in bulk, and that the abortions springing up in various parts of the country, and sometimes offered as substitutes for the great national specific, are all utterly worthless. are all utterly worthless.
