Statesville American.

The Statesville American comes to us in an entirely new dress, an indication of prosperity and enterprise on the part of our cotemporary which is doubtless very gratifying to its numerous friends throughout the State.

German Pic-Nic.

There will be a German pic-nic at the Wil mington Garden this afternoon and evening, during which the manly exercise of ten pins will be indulged in by lovers of the sport. The affair will be confined exclusively to the benefit of our German citizens, and will no doubt be greatly enjoyed by them.

shooting in Columbus.

We learn that a colored man was shot and badly wounded at Whiteville, Columbus county, on Friday night last, by a white man, named Somerset, who alleges that the other threw a stick of wood at him. There was considerable feeling in the community growing out of the affair.

Do Not Forget

The excursion on the Waccamaw on Wednesday morning, at 9 o'clock. Tickets (50 cents each) for sale on the wharf one hour before the boat leaves. Passengers will be required to show their tickets before entering the boat. The Charter party reserves the right to exclude objectionable persons.

Skiff & Gaylord's Troupe.

We learn that the agent of Skiff & Gaylord's celebrate1. Minstrel Troupe has applied for the Theatre, and that they expect t, visit this city on the 13th of September and remain two nights. Those who remember the occasion of their former visit to Wilmington will have some idea of what a rich treat is in store them.

City Court. A Dia The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning : Owen Dove and Edward Gause, charged with quarreling, fighting, &c. Dove found not guilty and discharged, Edward Gause found guilty and seutoneed to pay the penalty and costs.

John Motte, charged with stealing an umbrella, was found guilty and sentanced to pay the penalty and costs.

The Confederate Dead.

In copying a notice from the Greensboro Patriot of the handsome donation made by the Eclectic Club of that town to aid in removing the Confederate dead at Gettysburg to this State, the Newbern Journal of Commerce says In this connection, we would state that the Ladies of the Memorial Association of this city, through their Secretary and Treasurer, sent to the Ladies of the Wilmington Association, twenty-five ($25) dollars, and thus far no potice has been made of it. Our ladies would have contributed much more for this laudable purpose, but they are now raising a fund for the erection of a splendid monument to the memory of the gallant dead whose remains re-pose in our own beautiful cemetery.

Excursion Wednesday.

Our citizens are reminded that there will be another family excursion on the Waccamaw to morrow (Wednesday) and that the boat will leave her wharf at 9 o'clock. These excursions have been so pleasant heretofore that no one who can spare the time will lose the opportunity of participating in the one now making up.

We learn that about two hundred yards of extra canvass has been added to the awning, which will add greatly to the comfort and convenience of passengers.

Recovering.

We were much pleased to learn, yesterday afternoon, that Fletcher Manning, the youth who fell from the top of the City Hotel building, now occupied by Capt. Manning as boarding house, on Saturday last, is rapidly improving. It is now quite certain that he received no internal injuries, and consequently there is little doubt of his soon being all right again.

Beautiful Fiour.

We are indebted to MessFs. Smith & Old ham, No. 5 South Water street, for a sample of their choice family flour, for which those gentlemen have ourithanks. We have tested it and found it equal to any we have tried in our family in a long time. All in want of good flour should give them a trial.

New Cotton.

Another bale of new cotton made its appearance on the market yesterday. It was raised on the plantation of Mr. W. B. Cole, of Richmond county, under the superintendance of Mr. John T. Ussery, and was consigned to Messrs. Vick & Mebane. It was classed as midling and sold at 20 cents per pound.

any attempt at resistance Wassent had closed in upon him and seized him by the throat. He halloed "murder" as loud as as he could, but the grip of the robber on his throat prevented him from making much noise. The parties struggled for some time, rolling on the ground, and anon rising to their feet, the victim writhing and struggling frantically to release himself from the grasp of his burly antagonist, and the latter all the time tightening his grip upon his throat, when Mr. R. finally succeeded in tearing open his vest and drawing his pistol, with which he commenced firing upon his assailant. The latter, however, still kept his hold upon the thorax of the victim until the fifth shot, when he released his grasp, made an exclamation as if in pain and fell back upon the ground as if dead. Mr. Russell, believing this to be the case, started for home, which was about one hundred yards off; but on his way he came up with Policeman George W. Davis, who had been attracted to the spot by the firing, and to whom he stated the facts of the case. Ou returning to the Proceeding on their way in the direction of the railroad they came to Red Cross street, when Wassent asked Mr. Russell the nearest way to his vessel. He received the requisite information and decided to accompany Mr. R.,

who lives just beyond the Railroad on Third street. Arrived at the crossing, and as Mr.

Russell was ascending the slight acclivity caused by the railroad, his companion suddenly dropped behind him and drew from its concealment about his person a rope about eight or ten feet in length, with a running noose at one end, and attempted to throw it over Mr.

R.'s head, intending to get the noose over his head and then draw it tight around his neck.

Fortunately for Mr. Russell, however, the noose caught on his hat, which fell to the ground and the robber was thus foiled in his intentions; but before Mr. Russell could make apot where the st uggle took place, however, Wassent had disappeared; but the rope, Mr. Russell's hat and the hat of Wassent were found on the ground. It was not until Sunday morning that Wassent was discovered. It seems that he became impressed with the belief that he was going to die and sent to the authorities to take him to the City Hospital. He was found in a small house on the corner of Front street and what is known as Hager Nutt's aliey, between Hanover and Bladen streets. He was apparently suffering intensely. Dr. J. F. King was called in, who, upon examination, stated that two of the balls had penetrated the left lung and one the spleen, the three wounds all in close proximity to each other and in a line with the heart. He pronounced the man in a critical condition. He was thereu on removed to the City Hospital.

In the meantime Mr. Russell had delivered himself up to the authorities, by whom he was released yesterday on his own recognizance. Wassent is a man of powerful frame. He tells a great many contradictory stories about the affair, and also as to where he belonged. He informed us that he fo; merly lived at Camp Holmes, near Raleigh, while he has told others that he came from South Carolina. At last accounts it was thought he may possibly recover, a the sector of violentity all and POOT. AYER'S LABORATORY, that has done such wonders for the sick, now issues a potent restorer for the beauty of mankind-for the comeliness which advancing age is so prone to diminish and destroy. His VIGOR mounts luxuriant locks on the bald and grey pates among us, and thus luys us under obligations to him, for the good looks as well as health of the community.

IT IS SADDENING to see our hair blossoming for the grave too early. More especially wo-men feel this affliction, and it is even a greater deformity to them than to men. AYER'S FALL HAIR VIGOR removes it and restores the hair sometimes, but its original color always.

Facts Worth Knowing.

During a recent trial or comparison of ordinary Baking Powders in New York, with Dooley's Yeast Powder, it was shown conclustvely that better results were attained with from one-half to two-thirds the quantity of the latter, than with any other in the market. The secret of the success lies in the care with which Dooley's Yeast Powder is prepared, and its entire freedom from substances that are injurious to the system. We challenge comparison at any and all times. The verdict of the consumer is always in our favor. For sale by all Grocers. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. S. R. BUNTING, Auctioneer, By BUNTING & McQUIGG.
