

PUBLISHED AT WILMINGTON, N. C.

By WM. H. BERNARD.

Subscription: By Mail, $7.00 per year; or $4.00 for six months.

Delivered to subscribers in any part of the State at 15 cents per week.

BY TELEGRAPH TO THE MORNING STAR.

Sunday's Telegrams Condensed.

The cotton movement at New York for the week shows very light receipts but increase of exports.

The receipts at all ports for the week were 7,080 against 9,454 bales last week, 10,478 bales the previous week, and 10,900 bales three weeks since.

The total receipts since September 1st, 1870, have been 3,995,430 against 3,814,233 bales for the corresponding period of the previous year—showing an increase of 1,110,231 in favor of the present season.

The exports from all ports for the week were 17,648 against 5,702 bales for the same week last year. The total exports for the week were 18,832 last year. The stock in Liverpool is 598,000 against 569,000 last year.

There is less of American cotton afloat for Great Britain 57,000 against 36,000 bales last year. The amount of Indian cotton afloat for Europe is 656,390 against 515,923 bales last year.

The weather South during the week has been generally favorable and the much expected rains have come at last.

The city of Memphis has voted $300,000 to aid the Mississippi railroad.

Complete returns from the Kentucky election, except in some counties, make Leslie's majority 38,000. The other Democratic candidates will have about $9,000 majority.

At St. Louis, Mo., A. S. Merritt, a prominent hotel keeper, was found dead in his bed.

The Attorney General, at Washington, has received numerous requests for an opinion as to the effect of the Fourteenth Constitutional Amendment upon the eligibility of persons to office.

Not being able to reply officially to these requests, he has issued a circular stating that it is not his duty to give official opinions except in the request of the President or the Heads of Department. He appends a copy of the Fourteenth Amendment.

NOON REPORTS.

From Nevada. VIRGINIA CITY, Aug. 21. Fifty buildings were burned to-day—loss $150,000. It was the work of an incendiary.

From New York. NEW YORK, August 21. The Fenians will join the proposed Italian procession, if other nationalities are allowed to participate.

A family of six persons was poisoned yesterday by eating fish caught nearly a week ago. It is supposed the fish were impregnated with copper. The symptoms were similar to those produced when poisoning is effected with strychnine.

The Ward Hospital, in Centre street, Newark, has been destroyed by fire. The loss is $0,000.

The owner, captain and engineer of the exploded Starbuck have disappeared. The boiler contains fifteen large patches and a severe crack on the inside.

From Indiana. WARSAW, Aug. 21. Thirteen buildings, including the Baptist Church, were burned by spontaneous combustion to day. Loss $50,000.

From California. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 21. A sergeant-major and a private of the 3d Cavalry were killed by the Apaches, near Camp Verde, Arizona, and they were horribly mutilated.

From Missouri. ST. LOUIS, Aug. 21. Col. Downing has been elected Chief of the Cherokee Nation by 240 majority.

Foreign News. LONDON, Aug. 21. It is feared that the potato blight will almost destroy the Irish crop.

John Bright is much better. Queen Victoria is ill. The Russian fleet, with the Grand Duke of Alexis, left Cronstadt yesterday for New York.

The House of Parliament has been prolonged to Nov. 7th by the royal commission.

Relations with foreign powers are friendly, and a hope to the Republic continued tranquility; the last speech, mostly devoted to local affairs, dwells satisfactorily upon the treaty with Washington.

From Pennsylvania. WILLIAMSPORT, Aug. 21. The Waverly House, an thirty buildings were burned to-day. Loss $8,000,000.

TUR NIGHT REPORTS.

FROM WASHINGTON. WASHINGTON, Aug. 21. Thos. W. Conway, signing himself the State Superintendent of Public Education for Louisiana, publishes a long letter to the President, wherein, after alluding at some length to his services to the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

Gen. Sherman departs north for five weeks. The steamers Delaware and Albany have departed for the Republic as an excuse for his boldness, proceeds to narrate, that on his way from New Orleans the bearer of despatches from Casey Peckard and others to the President, read the despatches to the passenger.

Conway impeaches the truthfulness of Casey Peckard, Howell and the rest. Conway concludes: "No act of your administration will give more satisfaction to the men who voted for you and made you President, than would the removal of the officials who have perpetrated the outrages in question, and that nothing short of their displacement will save the Republican party from defeat in the coming campaign."

CABLE DISPATCHES.

LONDON, Aug. 21. Twenty million of the United States five per cent bonds were taken in advance of the regular opening. This indicates that the bonds will be active at 1 3/4% premium.

VERSAILES, August 21. A dispatch from Algiers announces the arrival of a large number of French troops.

DOMESTIC MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—Noon. Financial.

Stocks dull and heavy. Governments dull and heavy. State bonds very quiet. Money 2 per cent. Gold 112. Sterling Exchange—long sight 109 3/4; short sight 109 1/4.

Commercial.

Flour 10 cents higher. Wheat 1 cent higher Corn a shade firmer. Pork steady at $18 3/4 @ $13.50. Lard steady. Cotton quiet—Uplands 18 3/4 cents; Orleans 19 1/4 cents; sales 1,300 bales.

Spirits Turpentine firm at $2 50 @ $2.75. Rosin quiet at $2 80 @ $2.85 for strained.—Freights firm.

NEW YORK, Aug. 21—Evening. Financial.

Money—the supply is ample. Sterling Exchange 109 3/4 @ 110 1/4. Government bonds of 1862, 1864—Tennessee—old issue 75; new issue 75 1/2. Virginia 6's—old issue 63; new 72. Louisiana 6's—old 63; new 60. Leave 6's, 8's, 10's. Alabama 6's 100; 5's 92. Georgia 6's, 8's, 7's 91. North Carolina 6's 45; new issue 26. South Carolina 6's 40; new 57 1/2. State securities dull, with Virginia a little stronger.

Commercial.

Cotton steady and firm, with light offerings—sales of 1,800 bales Uplands at 18 3/4 cents; also 900 bales of South American, averaging 1,300 pounds to the bale. Flour—Southern a shade firmer, common to fair extra $5.60 @ $6.75, good to choice $6.80 @ $7.00. Whiskey 94 cents. Wheat active—Winter red Western $1.45 @ $1.47. Corn a shade firmer at 67 @ 67 1/2. Rice firm at 5 1/4 @ 5 1/2 cents. Pork firmer at $13.45 @ $13.50. Lard steady. Spirits Turpentine firm at $2 50 @ $2.85. Rosin quiet. Freights firm.

SAVANNAH, Aug. 21. Cotton—Middlings 17 1/4 @ 17 3/4. Net receipts 32 bales. Exports coastwise 273 bales. Stock 3,455 bales. Market quiet.

CHARLESTON, Aug. 21. Cotton—Middlings 17 cents. Net receipts 67 bales. Exports coastwise 7 bales. Sales 5 bales. Stock 2,900 bales.

FOREIGN MARKETS.

LONDON, Aug. 21—Noon. Consols for money 93 1/2. United States 5-20's 93 1/2. LATER.

Bonds 93 3/4. PARIS, Aug. 21—Noon. The Bourse—Rent 561 3/4. LIVERPOOL, Aug. 21—Noon. Cotton—Uplands 18 3/4; Orleans 19 1/4 @ 19 1/4. Market opened steady. LATER.

Cotton dull—sales 10,000 bales; for export and speculation 2,000 bales.

LONDON, Aug. 21—Evening. Consols for money 93 1/2. U. S. 5-20's of 1862, 93 1/2. PARIS, Aug. 21—Evening. Paris Bourse—Rent 561 1/2. LIVERPOOL, Aug. 21—Evening. Cotton easier—Uplands 18 1/4; Orleans 19 1/4.

COMMERCIAL.

WILMINGTON MARKET.

STAR OFFICE, Aug. 21. SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Sales of only 155 casks at 45 cents per gallon for Southern packages.

ROBIN.—Sales of only 75 blbs at $3 for Low No. 1.

CRUDE TURPENTINE.—Sales of 677 blbs at $3 45 for Yellow Dip and $4 50 for Virgin.

TAR.—Small sales at $2 55 per bbl.

COTTON.—Sales of 15 bales as follows: 14 at 16 and 1 at 20 cents per lb.

MARINE.

ARRIVED. 21—Stm Cumberland, Phillips, Fayetteville, A Johnson.

21—Stm Juniper, Worth, Fayetteville, Worth & Worth.

CLEARED. 21—Steamer Juniper, Worth, Fayetteville, Worth & Worth.

21—Stm Cumberland, Phillips, Fayetteville, A Johnson, Jr.

21—Steamship Regulator, Freeman, New York, Barry Bros.

RECEIPTS.

PER RIVER STEAMERS.

Star Juniper—789 blbs rosin, 74 do spirits, 10 do turp, Williams & Murchison, Worth & Worth, A Alderman, H E Eilers.

Stm Cumberland—73 blbs spts, 35 do rosin, 91 do turp, 66 do turp, 85 bales sheeting, A Johnson, F W Kercher, Love & Blocker, A Alderman, Smith & Straus, Player, Monroe & Co, Edwards & Hall, Chas Southernland.

EXPORTS.

COASTWISE.

NEW YORK.—Steamship Regulator.—1,739 blbs spts, 1,716 do rosin, 335 do turp, 200 do turp, 50 do pitch, 1 bale cotton, 801 bushels peanuts, 35 bales sheeting, 4 blbs wax, 10 pigs mds.

LIST OF VESSELS.

In the Port of Wilmington, August 21.

BARQUES.

Br Nietaux, Idg, Europe, Willard Bros.

Br W Bargo, Idg, Europe, Willard Bros

Br Minerva, Idg, J R Blossom & Evans.

Danish Peddler, Idg, Europe, DeRosset & Co.

Br Tharmutis, Idg, Europe, DeRosset & Co.

BRIGS.

Alice Lea, wtg, Harris & Howell.

SCHOONERS.

Light of the East, Idg, Boston, G G Barker & Co.

John, Idg, New York, Williams & Murchison.

Ben, dis, Williams & Murchison.

List of Vessels Cleared for this Port.

NEW YORK.

Schr A Godfrey, Godfrey, July 28

Br Brig J L Pye, Pye, Aug 5

Br Bark Scottish Bride, Geitzer, Aug 7

Br G Bark Rosa, Dine, Aug 7

Schr Milly Potier, Gaskell, Aug 13

BOSTON.

Br Brig Firm, Church, Cleared July