THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The case of Charles Wason, charged with attempt to commit murder and highway robbery, which was to have come off before the City Court yesterday, was postponed until Monday to allow him time to procure counsel. He has sufficiently recovered from his wounds to be able to attend trial.

Jewish Holy Days.

We are now in the middle of the Jewish holy days, the beginning of the sacred year. In the Jewish calendar, there are two years, beginning in the spring and autumn. The first month of the sacred year and the seventh of the civil year, correspond generally to the month of March and April. It is observed by the Israelites, generally with festival and prayer, and the ceremony is based upon Leviticus xxiii, 23: "Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, in the seventh month shall ye have a Sabbath, a memorial of blowing of trumpets, a holy convocation." During yesterday the Israelitish places of business were closed and but for the crowds on the streets, some of the business localities would have presented the appearance of Sunday. This was especially the case on the North side of Market, between Front and Water streets.

MORNING STAR.

Local Notes.

All the editors are pegging away at the "antunual tints."

A druggist has invented a process for making pills of cod liver oil.

The presence of great quantities of flies, it is said, is indicative of health.

The visiting cards for next season are to be small and very nearly square.

Regular meeting of Concord Chapter No. 1, to-morrow evening, at 7 o'clock.

Julius Mellhenny, a well known colored man of this city, died last evening.

Beware of counterfeit $20 bills on the Merchants' National Bank of New York.

Wilmington Male and Female Seminary, G. W. Jewett, Principal, will open October 5th.

Scuppernons were plentiful in market yesterday, and were selling at from 25 to 40 cents a peck.

Pythagoras Lodge of colored Masons was organized at Smithville on Thursday last and the officers duly installed.

The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday, but, without transacting any business, adjourned until Saturday next.

French advertisers some more of that $3.00 Whiskey. Lovers of the article should try it and be convinced of its merits.

We are requested to state that Rev. H. B. Burr will preach in the 1st Presbyterian Church this (Sunday) morning, at 10 o'clock.

Thanks to Mr. R. L. Harris for the usual weekly budget of literary papers, including the New York Ledger and Chimney Corner. Call at his News Stand on Front Street and get your supplies.

This is the season for coughs, colds, ague and fever, headaches, rheumatism and scores of other "ills that flesh is heir to." Therefore avoid unnecessary exposure and sleep with the windows down.

The annual meeting of the Stockholders of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company will be held in Charlotte on Thursday, the 19th day of October. Transfer books will be closed 30 days prior to the meeting.

We are informed by Dr. D. A. Bule that he has completed the analysis of the stomach of one of the alleged victims of poison in Duplin county, an account of which we gave in yesterday's STAR, but is not yet ready to report the result.

Shrimps or no shrimps, our facetious Chief may find himself, one of these fine mornings, in the same "fix" we were in Friday evening, to which allusion was made in our last; and when he does we will be revenged and "mock at his toothache and laugh when his soul cometh."

It will not do for our authorities to be in too big a hurry to abate their restrictions to prevent the introduction of yellow fever into our midst, nor to cease their efforts to preserve the sanitary condition of the city. They deserve credit for what they have already done and are still doing in this matter, and they should persevere until all danger be passed.

Excursion Wednesday.

There will be another of those pleasant and popular family excursions to the seashore, on the steamer Waccamaw, on Wednesday next. The season for excursions is drawing to a close, and all who wish to avail themselves of one more opportunity to enjoy a visit to "Old Ocean" should be in readiness Wednesday morning. Same price and regulations as heretofore.

Supervising Inspector.

Mr. John Meushaw, Supervising Inspector of engines and boilers for the Third District, arrived here from Baltimore, yesterday. He examined the engine and boiler of the steaming Tige and pronounced them in good order. We learn that he was to leave for Fayetteville via Raleigh last night, where he goes to investigate matters pertaining to the recent explosion of the boiler of the R. E. Lee near that place, and to ascertain if the cause of Mr. Howe, the local inspector, by the Coroner's jury, was well grounded.

City Court.

The following cases were disposed of yesterday:

Frank Hines and Mary J. Hines, charged with quarreling, fighting, &c., were found guilty. Judgment suspended on payment of costs.

Michael McQueen, charged with fighting, quarreling, &c., was found not guilty and discharged.

Geo. W. Foley, charged with drunkenness, &c., was found guilty. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs.

Wm. Decker, a seaman, charged with drunkenness, &c., was found guilty. Judgment suspended on the payment of costs.

A fan is a good thing; but to a gentleman a Pansy is better.

Why is love like a potato? Because it shoots from the eye.

The sailor who knew for a fact that there was a man in the moon had been to sea.

A young lady officiates as assistant in reading the services in an Episcopal Church at Springfield, Massachusetts.

It takes just 247 curls for the head of a city belle. The barber begins at 10 o'clock in the morning and gets through about 9 o'clock at night.

"Have I not a right to be saucy, if I please?" asked a young lady of an old bachelor. "Yes, if you please, but not if you displease," was the answer.

From Charleston.

The News of yesterday morning says: "The proceedings of the meeting of the Howard Association, held yesterday, are highly reassuring. Not only has that noble organization done its work faithfully and well, but it is able, besides, to assure the public that the number of cases of yellow fever is rapidly decreasing, and that the proportion of deaths to the whole number of cases grows less every day. The association show, moreover, by uncontrovertible facts drawn from the experience of this season, that most of the severest cases of yellow fever can be cured, where the patient is of temperate habits and has good nursing and prompt medical attention."

RIVER AND MARINE NEWS.

The Cape Fear river is now lower than it has been known to be for the past 18 years. The Eagle says the boats are often fastened in one place for a day.

The U. S. Light House Steamer Dandelion, of the 5th and 6th Light House District, commanded by Capt. T. B. DuBois, arrived at this port yesterday. The Dandelion left Baltimore on the 1st inst., and towed the Light-ship Relief to Rattlesnake Shoals, off Charleston. There the steamer was detained for several days, but had no communication with the city. Leaving there she proceeded to the ruins of Horse Shoe Light House, near Smithville, for the purpose of removing the large iron piles, which are of no use in their present position, but may be made of service elsewhere. The visit of the steamer here is for the purpose of procuring suitable tools to work with, as the removal of the piles is a matter of some difficulty. Capt. Davis reports having seen no wrecks on the coast. He reports a British barquentine off Charleston, bound for this port, having left her there on Wednesday last. The Dandelion is a fine steamer and is commanded by a courteous gentleman.

The steamer Isis, recently purchased at Norfolk to run on the Wateree river, S. C., in connection with the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad, arrived at Camden on Monday last, at 12 o'clock. She was taken to her destination by Capt. B. G. Bates of this city. Capt. B., we learn, has declined the offer to assume the permanent command of her, and Capt. Slocum, of Norfolk, has been appointed to that position. We learn that the Isis was the cause of considerable interest at Camden, she being the first steamer that has visited that place in the last 20 years.

SPIRITS OF TURPENTINE.

Fayetteville is improving.

Cotton is coming into Fayetteville pretty freely.

Fayetteville boasts of a calf weighing on the hoof 553 pounds.

The Superior Courts of Yadkin and Rockingham counties meet next week.

Several criminal cases were disposed of last week at the Guilford Superior Court.

A big camp meeting commences at Maple Springs, Forsythe county, on the 23d inst.

The negro laborers of Edgecombe county have struck for higher wages. They demand one-half of the crop instead of one-third.

A negro woman, named Caroline Rogers, aged 49, committed suicide near Raleigh, on the 14th, by hanging herself to the limb of a tree.

There is some talk among the members of the Newbern Steam Engine Company of visiting Raleigh with their apparatus, during fair week.

On Tuesday night Goldsboro was visited by another conflagration. The residence and one building of Dr. B. F. Arrington were totally destroyed.

Gen. W. G. Lewis, Chief Marshal of the State Fair, has appointed Mr. D. H. Barrow and Capt. Wm. Biggs, of Tarboro, additional Assistant Marshals.

The Fayetteville Eagle learns that the kitchen of Dr. A. J. Headen, of Pittsboro, was burnt by a negro Thursday night, 7th inst. The negro is now in jail.

Maj. Jas. Sloan, of Greensboro, has been appointed one of the inspectors of cottons at Missouri State Fair, which is to be held early next month in St. Louis.

A large amount of dried fruit and berries is shipped from Fayetteville. The shingle and stove business is also becoming more extensive and profitable. So says the Eagle.

The Roanoke News says: The farming public throughout this locality are now busily engaged in their cotton fields. This staple will soon be going into market quite profusely.

A man by the name of Jones had his arm and hand so badly crushed in a cotton seed mill near Raleigh, on Friday morning, that he will probably have to labor amputated.

Mr. Lewis Hanes, of the Salisbury Old North State, publishes his valedictory in the last number of that paper and announces his determination to act hereafter with the Republican party. Is the Charlotte Observer now satisfied?

We learn from the Rockingham Observer that S. T. Cooper, Esq., has been appointed Sheriff of Richmond county and John Shortridge, resigned, and Rev. R. S. Ledbetter has been appointed County Treasurer vice Alfred Dooley, resigned.

The Sentinel says: Gen. W. G. Lewis, Chief Marshal of the State Fair, requests the following named Assistant Marshals to meet in this city on the 22nd inst. J. W. Blount, A. G. Moore, W. P. Hill, Geo. Battle, Dr. Jas. McKee, S. Westray, Dr. C. F. Dowd, Eugene Morehead, C. C. Capehart, W. W. Flemming, J. E. Crow.

The Eagle says: A new society of Friends of Temperance has been organized here, making now two societies or chapters in Fayetteville with a total membership of about 150.

The Rockingham Observer regrets to say that from information from all parts of the county, the crops of both corn and cotton are likely to prove very meagre. On good land, particularly the bottoms, where the corn was planted early, the yield will probably be a half crop. Late planted corn and the crop on the uplands will be nearly a failure. From present indications, the cotton crop will be very short.

The Rockingham Observer says: We have been favored by a friend with an extract from a letter, received from a reliable gentleman in Wilmington, in which the writer states that he learns from Mr. Cronly, the President of the W. C. and Rutherford Railroad, that the necessary financial arrangements have been made by which the completion of the road is secured. We are glad to get this information from such an authoritative source and earnestly trust that it is not without foundation.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

OVER-DOCTORED.

Without any disrespect to the members of the medical profession, a profession honored by all thinking men, it is only just to say that they are too thick on the ground. The consequence is that the community is doctored over much. When nature needs only the gentle stimulant and alterative, which has become famous throughout the country as a reliable medicine, under the name of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, she is not unfrequently dosed with a dozen prescriptions, all experimental, from the Pharmacopoeia. This is an evil, and proves that the practice of medicine is far from being at all times a healing art. At this period of the year, when the fall of the leaf indicates that decay has seized upon the vegetable kingdom, many harassing diseases are prevalent. Chief among these may be mentioned intermittent fever and bilious remittent. The exhalations rising from decomposing vegetation, and the heavy dews and fogs, are very apt to generate these complaints. The wisest policy is to protect the system by a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at the commencement of the Fall. Much suffering may thereby be avoided. But if the disease has already begun, its periodical visitations may readily be checked and broken up by this active, yet harmless, vegetable tonic.

But be on your guard against the charlatans who are attempting to palm off, under various names, unwholesome compounds, which they pretend to compare favorably with the great national elixir, which has long since swept more formidable opposition from the field. Bear in mind that every bottle of genuine Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is authenticated by a splendidly engraved label, and a fac simile of the sign manual of the firm. Put up in bottles only, and cannot be obtained in bulk. (Sept. 17-codw Su We Fri)
