Narrow Escape.

A gentleman of this city informs us of a narrow escape from the breaking of a kerosene lamp, which occurre ( at his residence on Friday night last. The lamp was sitting on a table, which was accidentally tipped over, when the lamp was broken into a thousand fragments, the oil, of which there was about a pint, it having just been filled up, completely deluging the floor. At the moment of its falling he had the presence of mind to spring forward and snatch the burning wick from the midst of the oil before the fire had communicated with it.

Our informant was surrounded by his family at the time, and but for his remarkable presence of mind the probability is that all would have perished.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

AN ANCHOR TO WINDWARD.

It is good seamanship, when there is reason to expect heavy weather, to drop an anchor to windward.

We are in the midst of the season of chills and fever. The sure preventive of this distressing malady is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. A course of that wholesome vegetable tonic will render an attack impossible. Take the hint and drop an anchor to windward. Weak stomachs are most liable to be disordered late in the autumn, when the changes of temperature are marked and frequent Hostetter's Bitters fortifies the stomach against the effects of these variations. Let dyspeptics make a note of the fact, and drop an anchor to windward. The liver is more sensitive when the weather is continually alternating between the warmth of summer and the cold of winter than at any other period of the year. This is peculiarly the season of such alterations. Let the bilious remember that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is essentially an anti-bil ous medicine, and drop an anchor to windwa d.

The wisest plan is to forestall evil. The next best thing is to arrest it. For disorders of the stomach, irregularities of the lowels, and all periodical fevers, take, as soon as the complaint developes itself, Hostetter's Stomloct 15-eodiw-Sun Wen Fri
