SINKING FAST.

Pale, miserable, discouraged, without relish for food, without energy enough for exertion yet with no acute pain, or other specific indication of disease, how often do we see feeble invalids fading as it were out of life without any apparent cause. We say of them that they are "sinking fast," or "sinking gradually," as the case may be. But there is no good reason why they should sink at all. Pervigorating and vitalizing. Nature, in a state of torpor, demands help. Bring out the reserve of vitality in the system, brace the nerves ; tone the stomach, break up the morbid trance of body and mind with a course of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It can be done. It has been done in thousands of instances troken down. Remember that for the exhausted, the debilitated, the desponding, this powerful vegetable restorative is a genuine elixir. It is not a mere stimulant that provokes a transient flash of vigor in the system. and then leaves it in a more depressed condition than before. It removes the causes of debility by altering the secretions, and regulating the action of the internal organs, as well as re-enforcing them. It is a particularly valuable medicine at this season, because it is an antidote to the malaria which produces intermittent fever, bilious colic and other TRIP. disorders of the bowels prevalent in the fall. oct 29-eodlw-Sun Wen Fri NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. Rare Chance for Bargains!

Forwarding Letters.

Letters taken from the postoffice by private parties cannot be legally forwarded without the prepayment of postage. It frequently occurs that persons take letters from the office, redirect them, and again drop them in the office. All such letters, under the regulations of the Department, must be sent to the Dead Letter Office. If it is desired to forward a letter, the order to forward should be given at the office without taking the letter therefrom in such cases letters are forwarded without additional postage.

While waiting for the train at Goldsboro we called on the indefatigable Bonitz, and found him busily engaged in dispatching his Messengers to their various destinations. He has had some difficulty in "getting out" the first few numbers of his daily on account of the warm weather, which interfered with the " rollers" on his new power press, but such annoyances are always experienced in undertakings of this sort. Bonitz is a wide-awake, enterprising genius and deserves to succeed.

While here we had the pleasure of meeting our old friend, A. J. Yopp, Esq., formerly of the Journal, of this city, who is talking of locating for a season in that pleasant town. At Magnolia one of our fellow passengers was the recipient of a present of an exquisite boquet of vari-colored flowers from the "Rosenvink Gardens," located at this place, and the property of that enterprising Nurseryman, F.
