Handsome Silver Caps.

We had the pleasure, yesterday, of inspecting two elegant silver cups, which are offered by those enterprising and public spirited gentlemen, Mesers. Williams & Murchison, merchants of this city, as special premiums at the approaching Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association. One is of plain polished silver. with the exception of a wreath encircling the upper portion of the cup, and bears the following inscription: Presented by

Williams & Murchison, Merchants of Wilmington, N. C.,

for the best Bale of Upland Cotton exhibited at the 3rd Annual Fair of the . Cape Fear Agricultural Association, RIVER AND MARINE NEWS.

- The captain of the Steamer Murchison, which arrived from Fayetteville yesterday, reports the river rising and says he thinks the rains of Friday night, Saturday and Sunday have put the CapelFear in good boating order

- The Steamer Cumberland arrived from Fayetteville yesterday morning, and reports heavy rains up the river on Saturday and Sunday, which renders it probable that there has been considerable rise in the Cape Fear.

- The steamship Mary Sanford, from Philadelphia for this port, was in below yesterday evening, and will probably arrive at her wharf this morning.

We learn that some thief or thieves broke into the store of Mesars. Oldham & Cumming, on Princess, between Front and North Water streets, on Saturday night last, emptied the ash drawer of its contents, which was only about $7, took an axe which came in their way and without molesting anything else made their escape. It is supposed that the party was irightened off, as it was found that they had started to carry off a bag of peas, but dropped it inside of the building. Entrance was made through a rear door.

Personal.

Friend Bonitz, of the Goldsboro' Messenger, will be in the city to-day, and will likely call upon our merchants for advertisements for his popular and widely circulated paper. There will be a large attendance from Wayne at our approaching Fair and our merchants will consult their interests by advertising liberally in the Messenger ..

- 'Indeed you are very handsome,' said a gentleman to his lady love. 'Pooh! pooh!' said she, 'so you would say if you did not say so,' he answered.

- They tell of a Chicago lady whose husband was worth $250,000 before the Chicago fire, and who traveled last summer with sixteen Saratoga trunks, now all she has left was saved in two barrels.

The Health of Savannah.

A letter received by a gentleman of this city from Col. J. R. Davis, formerly of the Purcell House, but now of the Screven House, Savannah, Ga., positively and emphatically denies the report that there has been any yellow fever in that city this season. He further states that the general health of the city is remarkably good.

Firemen's Reception.

The formal reception by the Cape Fear Steam Fire Engine Company No. 3, from the city authorities, of their new and beautiful engine, came off yesterday afternoon. The procession formed in front of the Engine House on Ann street at 2 o'clock P. M. The Company then marched up Ann street to the corner of Sixth, halting at the residence of Geo. W. Price, Jr., where a stand had been erected for the ceremonies. On the stand were Chief Engineer Perry M. Rice, Owen Dove, Chief Marshal, His Honor, Mayor Martin, G. W. Price, Jr., and others. The latter called the meeting to order and introduced Mayor Martin to the crowd, who thereupon proceeded to deliver a brief, but well considered and appropriate address, complimenting the company on their excellent discipline and fine appearance. He gave them, also, some excellent advice as to their future conduct as firemen of the city of Wilmington, and then turned the engine over to them. At the close of this address three cheers were proposed for the Mayor and given with a will.

George W. Betts responded in behalf of the company, accepting the engine and promising in their behalf that the confidence reposed in them should never be betrayed. Three cheers were also proposed and given for this speaker, Geo. W. Price, Jr., then arose and briefly thanked the company for the honor conferred upon him in conducting the ceremonies at his house, after which he proposed three cheers for the Mayor, City Marshal and Board of Aldermen of the City of Wilmington, which were given and the procession then reformed and paraded through the different streets. The engine was handsomely decorated with evergreens, tiny flags, &c., and the horses were plumed. The company had on their new uniform, which is composed of blue shirts, with red bosoms, collars and cuffs; black pants and white belts with the name of the company inscribed upon them; white gloves and blue caps. The unithink so.' 'And so you'd think if I did not form is a very neat and handsome one and the company made a fine appearance. A platoon of pelice marched with the procession, which was preceded by the Star Brass Band. The supper at night was a grand affair Two long tables, the entire length of the room were loaded down with all kinds of edibles, and wine was dispensed freely. At half past nine G. Z. French was called upon and delivered a lengthy speech, congratulating the company on their fine appearance, &c., and giving his own experience as a fireman, after which W H. Gerkin was called upon and delivered a short address, who was followed by severs others. Two bands discoursed music for the occasion. It is claimed that this is the first colored Steam Fire Engine Company organized in the South

Death of Jacob Keyser.

In another column will be found recorded the death of Mr. Jacob Keyser, we'l known in this city, which occurred at the City Hospital on Sunday afternoon last.

Mr. Keyser was a man of many good qualities, but aside from this, his services during the yellow fever epidemic in this city in 1862 were of such a character as to endear him to during the prevalence of that fearful scourge, not only in ministering to the suffering and dying around him, but in assisting to pay the last tribute of respect to those who had passed away. For these services, so cheerfully rendered in a time of great affliction and distress in our city, the name of Jacob Keyser will always be held in affectionate remembrance. Peace to his ashes!

Information Wanted. We are in receipt of a letter from a lady in Chester, S. C., containing a clipping from the STAR giving an account of the recent sudden death of the German, Wm. Hesner, in this city, whose name at the time the paragraph was written had not come to our knowledge, in which she states that her father, Maj. James Pagan, left his home at that place very suddenly on business more than a week before; that he was not well when he left, and the family feared that he may have become suddenly worse and that he might have been the man alluded to in the paragraph. We have telegraphed to her, giving the name of the man who died, and we now publish these remarks with the hope that it may assist her in the discovery of her missing father. He is 60 years old, six feet high, with very white hair and beard, blue eyes and wore when he left home a gray suit of clothes. If this should meet the eye of any one who knows anything about the missing gentleman they will communicate with Miss Mary A. Pagan, Chester, Don't fail to patronize the skating rink this evening. It is steadily gaining in popularity, especially among the ladies, and this, of course, will make it popular with the gentlemen. These cool nights are just the thing for skating.

Anniversary of the Reformation. The sermon of Rev. Mr. Neiffer, of Salisbury, at the Lutheran Church on Sunday evening. on the occasion of the Anniversary of 'the Reformation, is highly commended by all who for the manner of its delivery. The Battle Hymn of Luther, the singing of which concluded the services, was grand and beautiful. Visit Postponed.

We regret to learn, as we do from a note received from Mrs. Powell, Manageress of the Ada Harland Troupe, by Mr. J. W. Spaulding. who has charge of the Theatre, that thi troupe will not visit this city until some time in December in conquence of the prevalence of yellow fever in Charleston, which would be in their route.

Arrest of a Murderer.

Mr. Wm. A. King, Sheriff of Brooks county, Georgia, arrived in this city yesterday PINK afternoon, with one Wm. Bland in his custody, who is charged with murdering, in the above county, on the 5th of December, 1870, a colored man by the name of Eli Graham. He was arrested at Lumberton, Robeson county, on the 10th of October, a reward of $1,000 having been offered for his capture and conviction. The prisoner was lodged in the Guard House here for safe-keeping until the time for the Southern train to leave, at 7P. M., when he took his departure in the custody of Sheriff King, for his destination.

ABBOTTSBURG-THE CAPE FEAR BUILDING COMPANY, &c.

MR. STAR :-We put ourselves in the nominative case, plural, to drop you a confabulatory line; and because, (like the speculative old lady who irchased the caul with which the immortal David Copperfield came into the world) we are averse to "meandering," we will come to the point. "Let us have no meandering." We have been to Abbottsburg! Were you ever there? If you have not been, we advise you and such of your readers who desire to see a live place, where business is done with a vim, to go and observe. Step into the machine shop of the Cape Fear Building Company, where they roll in pine logs and they come out at the other end finished houses, painted and ready for occupation, and take a survey, and if you don't say as we do-huzza for Abbottsburg, and success to the enterprising, go-a-head gentlemen of the Cape Fcar Building Company-Yankee or no Yankee! then we'll conclude that you are a missurble Ku Klux, and give you over to politics and Joe T#***

As we said, we visited Abbottsburg on Thurs. day last, and through the politeness of Mr. Survoes, the managing partner of the C. F. B. C., and Mr. Willis, the foreman of the shop, we were shown over the large and well arranged building, where all sorts of the most elegant and finished wood-work-from a fuorstory dwelling down to a lady's work-boxare done in a jiffey.

We have not the time to speak in detail of the various machines which we saw in operation. It is sufficient to say that what they have not the community. He labored almost constantly got, is not worth having. It is also sufficient to say, that if their machines dont go fast, they didn't run slow enough for us to judge! We saw a mighty pretty little circular-saw, as we thought, standing still, and pointing to it for the purpose of asking its use, lost our dexter index finger quicker nor you could say "Jack Robinson!" Running to the other end of the building to get Dr. Cashwell, who, (though he said he wasn't "a gracti cin ; physician") sometimes doctored people, we were asked how we lost our finger. Just then we saw another saw, standing still, like unto the first, and we said we lost it by one of "them things," and we undertook to point our left index, when away it went too! I tell you. Mr. Bernard! Of all the saws that ever we sawsaw, them saws out sawed any saw that ever we saw saw, except the saw that we saw saw at Warsaw! We were shown many articles of finished workmanship. Elegant moulding, brackets, balastrading, cornice-work, &c., &c., and among other things, which we were informed were intended for your Fair, we observed a desk, which for beauty of finish, and elegance throughout, we are sure cannot be beaten. "Not to meander," we think that Gen. Abbott and the other gentlemen of the Cape Fear Building Co., deserve a large patronage, and we sincerely hope that they will receive We need enterprising go-ahead men ameng us, and we'll take a "new departure" in de-claring that our people are suicidal if they hesitate in encouraging men of their stamp in Yours, business.

TO our many friends and patrons of Wilmington and Surrounding Country: Since our opening in this City, and the very liberal patronage that has been bestowed upon us we cannot but express our gratitude for the same.
