Weather Report. Office of Chief Signal Officer, Washington, Nov. 20-23 P. M.

The barometer will probably fall on Tuesday with northwesterly winds and threatening weather on the Gulf coast; partially cloudy and pleasant weather in the interior of the Southern and Gulf States.

THE CITY.

Unequaled Success of the Live Book Store. L. D. SINE—Gift Enterprise—Drawing on Monday, January 1st.

WM. M. POISSON—Meeting of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, F. & A. M. See notice warning persons against crediting the crew of the Nor. Bark Wenakabet.

HEIDT BROS.—Afloat and in Store—Apples, Potatoes, Raisins, Dates, &c. BOWEN & MERCER, Baltimore—To Planters—300,000 Bushels Oyster Shell Lime.

R. M. DEVANE—Certificate of Deposit, No. 774 Lost. DUDLEY & ELLIS, Sign of the Big Boot—Children's Shoes, Sewed Calf Shoes, Sewed Morocco Shoes.

Lost. If you have lost anything, advertise it in our new department, under head of "Lost and Found," at half our regular rates, for advertisements not exceeding five lines.

Left for Albany. J. Kellar, of $10,000 bond notoriety, who was convicted of forgery at the last term of the U. S. District Court in this city, and sentenced to 8 years hard labor in the Penitentiary, and who has since been retained in confinement in our county jail, left yesterday evening, in charge of Deputy U. S. Marshal J. H. Neff, for Albany, N. Y., where he is to serve out his sentence.

Printing and Book Paper. We can furnish printing paper in small quantities, say from two to ten reams, at reasonable prices for all strictly cash orders. We have on hand the following sizes of news, viz: 2x23, 2x26 and 2x28. Also, fine Book Paper 21x28 and 22x30; and a good assortment of other papers and cards.

Hebrew Holidays. During the remainder of the Jewish year the following holidays will be observed by our Hebrew population: December 8, Feast of Chamael; December 23, Feast of Tebeth, March 21, 1872, Feast of Eser; March 24, Purim; March 25, Shuaten Parim; April 23, first day of Passover; June 13, Feast of Weeks; July 23, Feast of Tamuz; August 13, Feast of Aba.

Star Book-Binders. The attention of the public is called to the superior facilities we now have for executing cheaply, promptly and skillfully all kinds of Binding and Ruling. Our business in this department has steadily increased, an evidence that we have not labored in vain in our effort to establish a Book Bindery equal to the demands of our growing city. But we are determined to do still more; and as our business grows so will our facilities be increased. Give us a trial.

The Road Steamer Again. The famous road steamer exhibited her powers on the streets yesterday morning, and she steamed up and down our crowded thoroughfares the novel sight witnessed by a large number of our citizens. An audience was taken in tow, and quite a number availed themselves of the opportunity to indulge in a free ride. She made pretty good time and managed to turn the corners with the ease of a horse and dry. Many wishes were expressed that one of these engines may soon be introduced here for the purpose of running between Wilmington and the Sound. We have no doubt that, properly managed, it would prove a profitable investment to any man or number of men who should conclude to embark in the enterprise.

Society Intelligence. Our Society and Season, published at New York, of the date of Saturday last, has the following items under its head of "Society News": "Mr. Chas. J. Miers, the accomplished musical amateur, has left for Wilmington, N. C., for the winter. "Mrs. H. Egan, the talented vocalist, departed for Wilmington, N. C., on Wednesday.

"Mrs. Mary Bayard Clarke, the wife of the Hon. Wm. J. Clarke, of North Carolina, who is a prize poetess of the South, will visit with her daughter in the Zodiac for Newbern on Wednesday last. Mrs. Clarke spent the summer among the Thousand Isles, of the St. Lawrence, and the autumn at the River Side House, One Hundred and Fifty-second street. We regret to hear that the manuscript of a novel by this lady was lost in the Chicago fire."

Local Notes.

Santa Claus is mending his toys. The turkeys are making their wills. A colored man was sent to the Hospital yesterday.

Rose and Harry Watkins are filling an engagement at Norfolk. There were a few cases before the City Court yesterday morning.

Tooth-ache is one of the many things of which a little will go a great ways. We have received several complaints recently of the irregular receipt of the Star at Littleville. As the fault is not in this office, it must be somewhere else.

The Plans to be used by the celebrated Tremaine Brothers during their engagement here, which opens on Monday night next, and continues for four nights, has arrived.

Five hundred feet of leather hose, purchased by the city for the new steam engine "Cape Fear," arrived here a few days since and is now at the Ann street Engine House.

The planet Venus is the conspicuous object in the eastern sky just before daylight, and some mornings shines brightly even after the rise of the sun has risen above the eastern hills.

Consul Reids informs us that the Danish Brig Kato, which cleared from New York last August, for St. Croix, via Wilmington, N. C., and for whose safety some anxiety has been felt, arrived safely in St. Croix and returned to New York during the latter part of October.

Printing Ink. We keep a full stock of Robinson's News Ink constantly on hand. Winter ink now ready for shipment.

Boards. If you want Boards, advertise in our new department, under head of "Wants," at half our regular rates, for advertisements not exceeding five lines.

THE VISITING FIREMEN.

Their Reception at the spot—Hospitalities tendered by their Brother Firemen—The supper, &c. The Washington Fire Company, of Wilmington, Delaware, arrived in this city from Charleston on the 5:45 train last evening. Unfortunately for the proper observance of the ceremonies which had been arranged for the reception of the visitors, by the firemen of our city, almost continuous rain had been falling during the day, which had the effect to make the streets sloppy and disagreeable and naturally had a bad effect upon all concerned. To make matters worse, just as the train arrived at Union Depot, and the visiting firemen, together with the three companies of this city, who had marched out to receive them, had drawn up in line, and the reception ceremonies had commenced, the rain commenced falling in a perfect deluge. Capt. Boatwright of the Wilmington Steam Fire Engine Company, of this city, welcomed the visiting firemen in a neat and appropriate address, which was responded to by Maj. J. Frank Hazell on the part of our visitors. The companies then formed and marched down to the hall of the "Rankin," where they remained for a short time, the visitors being hospitably entertained, after which they repaired to the hall of the "Adrian" Company, the like hospitalities being tendered, and next visited the hall of the Hook and Ladder Company, where a similar welcome was tendered. The line of march was then taken up for the Payroll House, where a large crowd assembled and where music and an interchange of courtesies were indulged in until the time arrived for repairing to the City Hall, where a magnificent supper had been prepared for our visitors. The tables, which were in the form of a cross, one extending nearly the entire length of the hall, and the other extending very nearly across the same, were loaded down with all the delicacies which could be enumerated, including wines, champagnes, &c., all arranged so tastefully and scientifically by Mr. Jas. M. Brown, whose well known skill in such matters was necessarily called into requisition, that the mere sight of the tempting display was enough to whet the appetites and intoxicate the senses of the bystanders.

Being seated at the table, an opening address of welcome and friendly greeting to the visiting firemen was made by Maj. F. D. Poisson, in his usual felicitous style, which was appropriately and eloquently responded to by Maj. Hazell, after which ample justice was done to the sumptuous repast, toasts were proposed and responded to, Wilmington meeting Wilmington on terms of fellowship, good will and reciprocal greetings, which was kept up for some hours, when it became necessary to separate for the night, it being the purpose of our visitors to leave early this morning for the trip home.

The Washington Company is composed of 25 members, all fine looking men and as jolly a set of firemen as we ever met. We regret that it was not possible for them to appear upon our streets in the day time, as their time was taken up in the evening. They were accompanied by Prof. McClerg's Liberty Cornet Band of Philadelphia, which discoursed excellent music during the evening. The Company is officered by Chief Marshal W. A. Quill and Capt. A. W. Nolen. The band is composed of 25 members, splendidly uniformed. The Company have a new and splendid uniform, costing between $3,000 and $4,000, which, owing to the lateness of the hour when they arrived here, and the necessity which compelled them to leave early this morning, they did not think it expedient to wear.

We wish our visitors a safe return to their homes.

To Howlers. Hereafter, no papers will be sold in the presence of this office. Newsboys and others who wish copies of the Star must call at the counting-room each day, pay for the number of copies wanted following morning, and get an order on the mailing-clerk for same.

THE WRECKED STEAMSHIP.

Arrival of the Revenue Cutter Seward with a Portion of the Officers and the Crew—Full Particulars of the Disaster, &c. The Revenue Steamer Seward arrived here on Sunday evening from Philadelphia. She left the Delaware Breakwater Sunday, the 12th inst., but an Easterly gale coming on, she put in at Fortress Monroe the same night. Arrived at Norfolk on the 13th, and at Beaufort, N. C., on the 18th, by the way of the Sounds.

The Seward brought to this port the officers and crew of the steamship Mary Sanford, wrecked on Cape Hatteras on the night of the 13th inst. The following are the names of the officers, the Captain and Chief officer having remained by the wreck: Chief Engineer John Waters; 3d officer J. S. Pinner; Assistant Engineer C. S. Reno, and fourteen of the crew.

We give below the statement of Mr. Reno, one of the officers mentioned, which gives a full detail of all the circumstances attending the voyage of the steamer, including the disaster and attendant incidents:

The Seward left Wilmington on Thursday, at 3 P. M., proceeded down the river and came to anchor for the night just above the shoals. Next morning hoove up the anchor and proceeded to Smithville, where she again came to anchor to wait for the tide; at about 5 o'clock P. M., got the anchor to go to sea, but there not being sufficient water on the bar, she fetched up on the Rip, where she lay until 3 1/2 o'clock P. M., when two tug-boats pulled her off, and she returned to Smithville, to wait for the morning tide. At about 6 A. M., started for sea, and fetched up on the rip again, where she lay all day, the tide falling about five feet and the sand washing away from under the after part of the ship. Being heavily loaded with naval stores she was in great danger of breaking in two—the grating in the engine room being sprung 3 1/2 inches from the bulkhead and the planks between decks being forced up two and three inches in places. At about 6 P. M., the tide rising, she got off the rip again and went back to Smithville, and lay until next morning, leaking very badly; at about 5 1/2 A. M., got the anchor again and proceeded to sea; made Frying Pan light ship about 11 A. M., and shipped the course. There being rather a heavy sea running the pumps hardly kept her free of water; made Lookout light about 4 A. M., the weather looking very threatening, ran into Hatteras Inlet; got there after dark, missed the buoy, and got on the northeast breakers, where she thumped five or six times very heavily; backed her off and went in the light of land, South of the Cape, intending to lay there until morning, but the water was galing very rapidly, the pumps all going, and both held injections being on. Captain Chadwick held a consultation of the officers as to the condition of the ship; the water having risen considerably, they came to the conclusion that it was necessary to save the lives of all on board, to run the ship ashore, it being then high water. After throwing overboard one hundred barrels of tar to lighten the ship, the water having still gained a good deal, she was run for the beach, which she struck at 9 P. M., about 30 or 40 yards from shore, and the crew, with their clothing, bedding, stores, sails, &c., got on shore, where they proceeded to build a tent with the main sail; the last boat having come ashore, she was hauled up, and all hands being very much worn out with the labors they had undergone were getting ready to go to sleep, when fire was discovered issuing out of the after house; the Captain and all the hands tried to launch the boat again with the purpose of going on board, but she burned so rapidly that it was found impossible to reach the ship in time to quench the flames, the surf being very heavy on the beach; the tent, being to the leeward of the fire, was torn down again and all hands scattered along the beach, spreading their beds to the lee of anything that would obstruct the wind, which was blowing a gale by that time. Next morning Mr. Foster, a gentleman living on the Island, came down to the beach and offered Capt. Chadwick the hospitalities of his house for himself and crew, which offer was accepted. The ship having burned to the waters edge by 10 A. M., the natives proceeded to save whatever was washed ashore. During the night the remains of the ship were nearly all washed ashore. About 140 barrels spirits of turpentine and over 400 barrels of rosin and tar and 6000 lbs of cotton, together with the debris of the wreck, was saved. The crew left the island on board of a fishing schooner on Friday (the Captain and chief mate, remaining by the wreck), got to Beaufort on Saturday, when the Seward being in port, Capt. Carson extended a passage to Mr. Waters, Chief Engineer of the Seward, and his shipwrecked companions, to Wilmington.

Below we give the response of Grand Chancellor D. A. Cashman, of the Grand Lodge of Knights of Pythias, jurisdiction of Illinois, conveying an acknowledgment of a donation from Germania Lodge No. 4, of this city, to the suffering brethren of the order by the late destructive fire in Chicago:

OFFICER OF THE G. C. OF THE GRAND LODGE OF K. OF P. OF CHICAGO, ILL. Nov. 15, 1871.

D. G. C. Wm. A. Johnson. Dear Sir & Bro.—Yours of 11th inst. at hand, enclosing $20.00, for which in behalf of the members of my suffering jurisdiction, I return you my sincere and heartfelt thanks. Please convey to the members of Germania Lodge No. 4, the simple acknowledgment of the G. C. of Illinois, and say that when the Grand Lodge shall meet in annual convention, a more suitable acknowledgment will be made for the liberal donation. Until then I am, with expressions of esteem and gratitude,

Yours in F. C. & B. D. A. CASHMAN, G. C.

Ladies Benevolent Society. The annual meeting of the Ladies Benevolent Society will be held at the Hall of the S. F. Engine Company No. 1, corner Princess and Fourth streets, Thursday morning, November 23d, at 11 o'clock. All members and those interested in the cause are desired to attend.

Arrested for Larceny.

A colored man, by the name of Wilson, together with Eliza, his wife, were arrested yesterday, charged with stealing a quantity of crockery, knives and forks, spoons, &c., belonging to Messrs. Brock & Webb, and which those gentlemen had in use at their restaurant on the Fair Grounds during the week. A basket of the stolen articles were found at the house of White, where they had been carried by his wife, who, it seems, is charged with being the principal offender. The initials of the names of Messrs. Brock & Webb, which were engraved on the spoons, which were of silver, had been carefully scratched off, by which the precious pair had hoped to escape detection. The parties were required to give security for the sum of $100 each for their appearance before the City Court this morning.

Our Chip Basket.

A little boy defines snoring as "letting off sleep." Wrestling matches are popular among the young ladies of Bedford, Indiana. The collections in some of the New York churches are taken up by young ladies.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

UNEQUALLED SUCCESS OF THE Live Book Store, AT THE 1st, 2d and 3d Cape Fear Agricultural Fairs, held at WILMINGTON, N. C.

The largest and most magnificent display of Books, Chromos, Pianos, Organs and Melodeons ever witnessed, was made in the LIVE BOOK STORE DEPARTMENT, especially at the Last Fair.

It has been conceded by the public that Heinsberger knows how to keep up with the public taste in Music and Literature, and a BOOK STORE IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

His exhibition of PIANOS, as bestotors, SURPASSED ALL OTHERS.

The Knabe and Stief Pianos, through the last Fair, passed a complete and critical examination, and by the Committees appointed, and Professors present, were awarded, over the instruments of other makes, and especially the Wm. & Sons, medals of Gold and Silver, as a make of Pianos unequalled and superior to all others.

At the last, the 23rd Fair of the Cape Fear Agricultural Association, the Knabe & Stief Pianos, with the Burdett Combination Organ, while being tested, attracted the people in Heinsberger's Musical Department in a crowd seldom witnessed.

The Knabe & Stief Pianos at the last Fair were again victorious over all others, and were awarded Gold Medals.

Knabe & Co. and Chas. M. Stief's make of Pianos having been successful at the two Fairs prior to the last, all competitors having been so far distanced, "the Wm. & Sons Piano particularly," no other make of Pianos were entered at the last Fair, thus proving the pre-eminence and superiority of the Knabe and Stief instruments over the Weber and all other make of Pianos.

All instruments warranted to be as represented. Sold at HEINSBERGER'S Live Book Store. nov 21-tf
