The Mayor having suggested . Taanksgiving Day as a suitable time for citizens to show their appreciation of the blessings bestowed on us by our Heavenly Father, by sending gifts to the poor, the ladles of the Benevoent Society have concluded to offer their assistance in the distribution of such gifts as may be sent them by the citizens of all classes for the purpose. The room under the First National Bank has been kindly granted them for the day fixed on by them for distribution-Wednesday next, the day before Thanksgiving. A stove will be placed in the room and the la dies'who are willing to distribute will be there at an early hour, hoping that this appeal to the kindness and generosity of our citizens will induce the butchers, the bakers, the grocers, the dry goods merchants and all others so disposed, to send contributions, each of articles in their line, to the place designated as early as 11 o'clock, the distribution to commence at 12 o'clock and continue tall sunset. Groceries in small packages will be most conven-

- We are indebted to Messrs. L. H. & T. C Dekosset, Agents of the Underwriters Agency, of New York, for a neat pamphlet, giving a complete history of the great Chicago fire, of October 8th, 9th and 10th, 1871.

- The Carolinian learns that H's Excellency the Governor has respited Jim Coppedge. col., of Anson county, sentenced to be hanged the 1st of December for the murder of James W. Redfearn, to the 22d of that month.

- Those mud holes, Mr. Marshal, at the corner of Fifth and Mulberry streets, so long an annoyance to pedestrians in rainy weather, still remain unfilled. On the 10th the line from here to Baltimore will be opened for freight and passenger business.

-Subscribers to the capital stock of the Wilmington Co-Operative Store are notified, by advertisement in this issue , that unless the amount subscribed is paid in full within twenty days from this date their interest will be disposed of as provided for in the charter of the company. - Although we acknowledge it with deep humiliation, we are forced to confess that our champion fat man has been thrown entirely in the shade. In fact he is not a fat man at all, comparatively speaking, for we hear of one at Goldsboro' who, it is stated as an actual fact, weighs 584 pounds. Where is Barnum?

Resignation of Col. S. L. Fremont as Chief Engineer and General Superintendent of the Wilmington and Weldon Bailroad. On the 19th of December, 1854, Col. S. L. Fremont was appointed Engineer and Superintendent of the Wilmington and Weldon Bailroad. He now resigns that position, to take effect on the 19th December, 1871, making a continuous service of 17 years. He came into office with Hen. Wm. 8. Ashe, serving during his administration, that of S. D. Wallace, Esq., and that of Hon. R. R. Bridgers up to the present time."

Col. Fremont was general manager of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad during the whole of the great civil war. His bridges were frequently burned by Federal troops, but they were as promptly replaced by temporary ones. Finally, when the war closed and the retreating Confederate armics destroy-ed cars, engines and the remainder of the bridges, he set to work without one dollar for anything but Confederate money and laid down nine miles of track, which had been torn up and the rails destroyed by Wheeler's cavalry, and got the line in operation in two or three weeks; and, with the remnant of the parties soon discovered their mistake, howient, and reminants of any sort of goods, either cotton or woolen, flannel blankets, or aught else that comes to hand, and we know that the thanks of the poor as well as distributors will be the reward of the givers—while the Great Giver of all good will remember his own promise to deliver in time of trouble, him that considereth the poor. The Watkins Troupe.

The grand drama of the "Hidden Hand," from one of Mrs. Southworth's most charming and interesting novels, was rendered with much spirit and correctness to a large and apprecistive audience last night. This is not the first appearance of Harry and Rose Watkins on a Wilmington stage, and those who have witnessed their performances in the past were prepared to appreciate them as they deserve. They fully sustained their reputation last evening and were well supported by other members of the troupe. The company go hence to Charleston.

County Examiner.

We learn that the friends of A. R. Black, Esq., will press his claims as one suited to fill the position of County Examiner of the public schools of this county, made vacant by the resignation of Miss Amy M. Bradley. Mr. Black is just the man for the place, and we hope he may get it.

St. John's Church.

We are requested to state that the Tremaine Brothers, Pierson and Willie Kellogg will sing at St. John's Church this (Sunday) morning and evening. Willie Kellogg formerly sang in the Trinity

Tileston Normal School.

The corner stone of the Tileston School House is to be laid on Thursday next by St. John's Lodge No. 1, F. &. A. Masons. In consequence of its being Thanksgiving Day, and a general holiday, many will thus be permitted to witness the exercises, who otherwise could not spare time for that purpose.

St. James' Mission School.

We are requested to state that St. James' Mission School is open on Monday and Thursday nights, at St. James' Home, on the corner of Ninth and Orange streets, for the benefit ot pupils who are unable to attend during the day. The St. James' Mission School is a benevoleut institution, intended for the poorer class of children whose parents are unable to pay for their tuition, and is admirably conducted.

of aprono False Alarm. Workmen employed in making some necessary repairs upon the fire-alarm in the steeple of the Presbyterian Church were the innocent cause of quite a big scare yesterday, about 1 o'clock. In striking the bell to try it, some persons supposed it was an alarm of fire and a rush was made for the Engine Houses. The

Mr. Mauney moved to suspend the rules to put the resolution on its passage. The matter had attracted considerable attention and he hoped it would be at once disposed of.

The ayes and noes were called for by Mr. Robbins, of Rowan, and the resolution passed unanimously.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES. FRIDAY, Nov. 21.

House called to order at 10 o'clock. Mr. Guyther presented a petition "in the shape of a string of resolutions of a Washington county Radical meeting, identical with those presented yesterday from the New Hanover Radical meet-

The yeas and nays were called upon a motion to reject the "petition," which resulted in the motion being adopted.

Mr. Withers was placed on the committee to investigate the charges against the public printer instead of Mr. Martin. By Mr. Johnson, of Buncombe : A resolution in favor of the Sheriff of Buncombe: referred.

By Mr. Guyther : A bill to incorporate the University Institute of Rocky Mount; reterred.

By Johnson, of Edgecombe, colored : A bill to repeal chapter 171 laws of 1870-"71; placed on calender.

By Mr. Ashe: A bill cancerning the debt of the State ; referred.

The following is a brief synopsis of the provisions of the bill: Appoints a commission to offer to holders of state bonds in exchange therefor new bonds secured by a mortgage of all the assets of the state, at the following rates: Old bonds, 50 per cent; bonds issued under funding acts, 30 per cent;

other new bonds, except special tax bonds, penitestiary bonds and void bonds, 25 per cent. New mortgage bonds to the payable 1922, to bear interest at 2 per cent for five years; 3 per cent for five years, &c., until 1900, and 8 per cent until 1922; bringing the average interest at 6 per cent. Restricts the issue of said bonds to 9,000,000; levies a special tax of two tenths of one per cent. to pay interest for 1872.

By Mr. Tucker, of Iredell: A bill to revise and digest the statute laws of the state.

By Mr. Smith, of Anson: A bill to prevent the sale of liquor within two miles of Shiloh church, Anson county ; referred. By Mr. Johnston, of Buncombe: A bill to repeal chapter 29 laws of 1871: referred.

On motion of Mr. Mills, the rules wer suspended and his resolution raising a committee of three to investigate the origin of the "petition" from a certain portion of citizens of New Hanover county reflecting on certain members of the legislature, was taken up.
