- The annual meeting of the Cape Fear Club takes place this evening.

- Seldom have we experinced a more pleasant day than yesterday. It was cool, but just will positively be charged fall rates unless enough so to be agreeable.

- Geo. M. Arnold, colored, formerly of this city, presided at the Emancipation celebration in Greensboro on the 1st instant.

- People generally have been on their good behavior since the holidays, and news items are consequently provokingly scarce ...

- Messrs. Binford, Crow & Co. have in store and to arrive a full supply of Early Rose and other brands of planting potatoes. See advertisement.

- We are requested to state that Rev. Dr. Plumer, of Columbia Theological Seminary, will preach in the First Presbyteriau Church this (Saturday) evening, at 71% o'clock, and tomorrow (Sunday) at 11 A. M. and 71% P. M.

- We acknowledge, with the compliments of Mr. Jas. T. Smith, U. S. N., an invitation to attend the Annual Ball of the U.S. Milltary Academy, at Annapolis, Md., which was to have taken place last evening. We regret that we did not receive it in time to dress for the occasion.

The Greensboro' Patrict,

The connection of P. F. Duffy, Esq., with the Greensboro' Putriot, as Editor in chief, ceased with the last number of that paper. Few men in our State wield a more powerful pen than Mr. Duffy and we regret his retirement from the press. Mr. R. H. Albright assumes editorial charge of the Patriot, and states that there will be no change in the politics of the paper. All right, Albright, continue the good fight!

What Little Children Can Do.

As an indication of what little children can accomplish, if so inclined, we mention a fact which we find recorded in the Newbern Times. That paper says that the children attached to Christ's Church Sunday school in that city, have by little entertainments, and personal contributions, in depriving themselves of the usual amount of holiday pleasures to be precured for money, contributed over two hundred dollars to assist in rebuilding their church.

The Young Men.

At almost every step in life we meet with young men from whom we anticipate wonderful things, but of whom, after careful inquiry, we never hear a word. The effervescence of of youth and passion, and the fresh gloss of intellect and imagination, endow them with a false brilliancy, which makes fools of themselves and other people. Like certain chintzes, calicoes and ginghams, they show finely on their first newness, but cannot stand the sun and the rain, and assume a very sober aspect after washing day.

The Opera House.

The second and last appearance of Mr. Neil Warner and Miss Grace Rawlinson, at the Opera House last night, was greeted by a rather small but appreciative audience.' The selections chosen were from "Hamlet," "Macbeth " (the Dagger Scene), " Richelieu," "Ingomar" and the recitation of "The Raven," by Neil Warner, which were all well received and heartily applauded. The performance was to have concluded, as on the previous night, with "A Young Wife's Lesson," but, by some misapprehension on the part of those present, they retired before the " bill of fare " was ex-
