Au old man, who knows what he is talking about, says: "Girls, let me tell you a stubborn truth. No young woman ever looked so well to sensible men, as when dressed in a plain, neat, modest attire, without a single ornament about her person. She looks then as though she possessed worth in herself, and needed no artificial rigging to enhance her value. If a young woman would spend as much time in cultivating kindness, meekness, mercy and other good qualities, as most of them do in extra dress and drnament, to increase their personal charms, she would, at a glance, be known among a thousand; her character would be read in her countenance, and there her heauty will be found."

Carbolic Acid for Burns.

Agentleman of this city, who knows whereo he speaks, says there is nothing to equal carbolic acid for burns. He first tried the remedy as an experiment, having never heard mything of its efficacy in such cases, but simply because he had nothing clse at hand at that moment. The effect was astonishing .lie was soon relieved of all pain, which had been caused by a scalded foot, and experienced no inconvenience from it afterwards. He has since tried the remedy frequently in and out of his family, and has never known it to fail of giving almost immediate relief and of permaneatly eradicating the effects of a burn, no matter how severs. His manner of applying it is to make a thick lather of the soap over the part affected and let it remain until absorbed into the flesh. It is certainly worthy a trial.

Heard from Again.

Most of our readers will probably remember the lady referred to in the following paragraph from the Richmond Dispatch of Tuesday. She was picked up on the streets of this city nearly two years ago in about the same condition as our cotemporary describes and after returning to consciousness she told the same story as she related in Richmond, with some few variations. She left here for Charleston and we pext heard of her in Delaware. Her case is a sad one, as she is evidently a wanderer upon the face of the earth, without home or friends; or, if she has any, they must be very indifferent as to her later 12 "10701

The brig went ashore on the 22d of December last. She was bound from Boston to Wilmington, N. C., with a miscellancous cargo, consisting in part of furniture. As soon as the Messrs. Baker were informed of the disaster, facy disputched the Steamer Resolute to her assistance. On the arrival of the Resolute active operations were commenced to save the cargo, and, if possible, the vessel. The cargo was all taken out and two steam pumps placed on the brig to free her of water. For a while there seemed a favorable prospect of saving the vessel, but a heavy gale coming on she went to pieces on the 34 instant, as stated above. So rapidly did she break up_ that the crews of the brig and the Resolut barely had time to escape in their boats-losing their clothes and the steam pumps, which had been placed on the brig. The pumps, &c., the Messrs, Baker expect to recover as soon as the weather clears up.
