

THE CIRCULATION OF THE MORNING STAR IS LARGER THAN THAT OF ANY OTHER DAILY NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN NORTH CAROLINA.

CARPET-BAGGERS.

A Republican journal is horrified at our strictures on the carpet-bagger, and thinks such articles as the leading editorial which appeared in the STAR of the 12th, a stumbling block to the peace and prosperity of our State.

But, if the STAR is doing anything at all to discourage immigration, by its denunciation of carpet-baggers, what wonders must be accomplished in that line by the New York Tribune with its immense circulation throughout the Northern States?

Go BACK THIEVES!!!—"Republican of the South! you have a desperate struggle just ahead, and you cannot win unless you send these villains (carpet-baggers) to the rear. You cannot rely on their modesty or their sense of decency; they will push themselves forward into the most conspicuous posts, no matter at what peril and mischief to your cause, unless you sternly say, 'Go Back, Thieves!'

Of course, neither Mr. Greeley nor the STAR includes in the term "carpet-bagger" all Northern men who come South. Many of them are good citizens and command our highest respect.

CHURCH AND STATE IN ENGLAND.

There is strong dissatisfaction in England, growing out of the way the Church Establishment is maintained. The Crown has in many respects the same authority in the English Church as the Pope has with Catholics.

STAR BEAMS.

After all the blow, Laura Fair still lives. The Mexican troubles are populating Texas. San Francisco has a ladies' gambling palace.

Lake Champlain was entirely frozen over January 8th. A grazer in Sumner county, Kansas, has 31,000 head of cattle.

Augusta, Ga., has a canine ghost, the head of which is a ball of fire. The latest about the lost Dr. Livingstone is that he has got married.

Savannah sent a thousand bales of cotton to Spain on Thursday last. The great plains of Texas contain one hundred and fifty-two million acres.

Paris, last December, had the coldest weather known for a hundred years. Dr. Geo. B. Wallis, senior writer on the New York Herald, is a native of Richmond.

Alfred Tennyson has been invited to visit Berlin by the Empress Augusta, and will be the guest of the royal family. A check for eight hundred and twenty-four dollars from Hong Kong completes the circuit of the world's charity for Chicago.

Some chap, probably with a view to estimating the chances for future confagurations, has calculated that there are just 10,000,000 cows in the United States.

The Catacacy Squabble—A New Story from Berlin—A Grown from the Bear, &c. New York, Jan. 15.

A Berlin letter states that the German government has received a circular from Gortschakoff relative to some incidents arising from the recall of Catacacy. This circular is said to have been necessary from the following circumstances: The American minister Kramer, during a dinner at the house of the German minister at Copenhagen, proposed the reading of a letter from the American government complimentary of the Catacacy affair, but the Russian minister refused to listen, and the German minister said such letter must not be read in his house.

The Virginians are agitated over the action of the Legislature on the veto of Gov. Walker to the bill repealing the Funding Act. One house has passed the repeal over the veto; the other is expected to do the same. The effect will be partial repudiation. There are some $2,000,000 in the State treasury, and such action as that anticipated will injure seriously the credit and fair fame of the Old Dominion.

An immigration of capital and labor, staying in North Carolina of our own people, and a hopeful, healthy tone, will repair the shattered fortunes of our still grand old State.

THE AGRICULTURAL CONVENTION.

The result of this meeting will, doubtless, not be felt immediately, but such gatherings of men engaged in the material improvement of the State must be felt after a while. There was no great work done in the Convention, but the eminent and practical character of the gentlemen engaged in the deliberations ensures earnest work for the present and prosperity for the future.

Paimetto Leaves.

The Charleston Friendschaftsbund have a calico ball to-night.

Mr. L. Simmons, a respectable merchant of Columbia, died suddenly on Sunday last, while sitting in a chair in a barber shop. Disease of the heart.

The Camden Journal has been informed that in certain portions of the county the colored laborers seem considerably disposed to contract for another season.

Two locomotives belonging to the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad collided in the depot at Columbia, yesterday. One of them was slightly and the other considerably damaged.

During the excitement incident to the fire in Florence on Monday a colored man named James Hamilton was shot in the abdomen by George McDuffee Stoll, and little hope is entertained of his recovery. Stoll was arrested, and a bail of $1,000 required of him.

The Charleston Courier says: "Between one and two o'clock yesterday morning a fire broke out in Bucher's store, Florence, S. C., which, with the miscellaneous stock, value unknown, and insured for $4,500, was totally destroyed. The flames extended to the building recently erected by Schoube & Co., at a cost of $2,200, and containing an assorted stock, valued at $7,000, on which there was an insurance of $5,000. The building was consumed, and the stock partially saved."

The Atlanta New Era, of the 14th, in speaking of the revival of the gorgeous spectacular drama, says: "What gives a peculiar piquancy to Black Crook is the announcement that the leading divinity of the play is said to be a South Carolinian of remarkable beauty, culture, and intellect. Her name is Miss Kate Stanley, and it is said that she has taken the stage in order to support impoverished parents. She is beautiful, as we have said, and also a rare prima donna, a splendid pianist, a fine magazine writer, and a novelist. Briefly, a female Admiral Creighton."

John McGill was born in Philadelphia, Pa. November 4th, 1809, and with his parents moved to Bardstown, Kentucky, in the year 1818. He first studied law, was graduated, and practiced in Nelson county, Kentucky, and also in New Orleans. His career as a lawyer was of short duration. He studied theology in St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, Maryland, and was ordained priest June 13th, 1835, by the Right Reverend Bishop David, of Bardonia, Kentucky, and was soon thereafter appointed priest of the congregation of the Faithful, worshipping at Lexington, Kentucky. Afterwards was made assistant to Rev. Ignatius Reynolds, afterwards Bishop of Charleston, S. C. After the consecration of Bishop Reynolds, he was appointed the pastor of the church of St. Louis, in Louisville, Ky., where he received from Pope Pius IX Culls for the See of Richmond, October 10th, 1850.

He was consecrated Bishop of Richmond at Bardstown, November 10th, 1850, by the Most Reverend Dr. T. R. Egan, Archbishop of St. Louis. He first arrived in Richmond as Bishop of the Diocese of Virginia, on the 6th of December, 1850. After conducting the affairs of the Diocese with great success for twenty-one years, he yielded to an extensive sickness of several months' duration. He had made several visits to Rome, first in 1854, again in 1867, and lastly in 1870, when he went as a member of the Ecumenical Council. Whilst in Rome he lost the use of one of his eyes and returned to his Diocese much impaired in health. After his arrival he rallied a little, and in June, 1871, visited his relatives in Kentucky, where he remained for several months.

His sister and her son arrived at 4 A. M. on yesterday, and were gratified by his recognition of them.

A Wife who Circumnavigated the Globe in Search of her Husband.

Mary Anne Wentworth was the only daughter of respectable New England parents, whose ancestors came over in the Mayflower, and whose grandfathers fought on the side of freedom in the Revolutionary War. At eighteen, Mary Anne was the belle of her native village, and had a host of suitors. She married John Thompson, a young English sailor, and soon after their marriage he sailed for London, and three years after he wrote to his wife that he was about to sail for China. This letter changed all the young wife's plans. She determined to leave her child with her parents and take passage for Europe in the next steamer. She married John Thompson, a young English sailor, and soon after their marriage he sailed for London, and three years after he wrote to his wife that he was about to sail for China. This letter changed all the young wife's plans. She determined to leave her child with her parents and take passage for Europe in the next steamer.

She arrived in New York about two weeks ago, penniless and destitute. This, however, is not the worst, for the man in pursuit of whom she had circumnavigated the globe, she found living here with a worthless woman, and was constrained to summon him to one of our civil courts ere she could compel him to recognize her rights as a wife and to provide for her support. This he did in Justice Hartman's court Friday.—N. Y. Sun.

Illustrative of the ups and downs of this life in general, and politics in particular, Thurlow Weed tells how some New Yorkers raised a fund to defeat Fillmore in 1856, which was given to him for "judicious distribution." He placed $10,000 in bank to the credit of his partner, to be drawn out as it was needed. A few days after the latter dropped dead in the street. The bank paid over the money, in due process of law, to the widow. A year or two passed, and Mr. Fillmore met and married the widow—and the $10,000.

Syracuse thinks that warm street cars are delightful. Old ladies now take their knitting work, sit down by the coal stove, and knit round three or four times while going to and from the business portion of the city. Young ladies lean back, throw off their shawls, and read novels till they leave the cars.

Postmaster Henry Smith, of St. James, Long Island, set a trap gun recently for burglars, but forgetting the gun, went to the office to obtain a package, and was shot, dying the next morning.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A RHOY AND MIND DISEASE. Such is dyspepsia. The stomach and the brain are too intimately allied for the one to suffer without the other, so that dyspepsia and derangement of the mind are inseparable. It may be added, too, that irritation of the stomach is almost invariably accompanied by irritation of the temper.

The invigorating and tranquillizing operation of Hostetter's Bitters is most powerfully developed in cases of indigestion. The first effect of this agreeable tonic is comforting and encouraging. A mild glow pervades the system, the chronic uneasiness in the stomach is assuaged, and the anxious restlessness which characterizes the disease is abated. This improvement is not transient. It is not succeeded by the return of the old symptoms with superadded force, as is always the case when immediate stimulants are given for the complaint. Each dose seems to impart a permanent accession of healthy vigor.

But this is not all. The aperient and anti-bilious properties of the preparation are scarcely secondary in importance to its tonic virtues. If there is an overflow of bile, the secretion is soon brought within limits, and if the urinary organ is inert and torpid it is toned and regulated. The effect upon the discharging organs is equally salutary, and in cases of constipation the cathartic action is just sufficient to produce the desired result gradually and without pain. The Bitters also promote healthy evaporation from the surface, which is particularly desirable at this season when sudden spells of raw, unpleasant weather are apt to check the natural perspiration and produce congestion of the liver, coughs and colds. The best safeguard against all diseases is bodily vigor, and this the great Vegetable Restorative especially promotes. Jan 2
