Serg't Signal Service U. S. A. Weather Report. WAR DEPARTMENT, 1 Office of Chief Signal Officer, Washington, March 20-4:35 P. M.

The barometer will continue rising very generally on Thursday east of the Mississippi, with westerly to northerly winds and continued clear and cold weather. It will fall over the northwest, with winds backing to souther is, and gradually extend to the Ohio valley and over the upper Lakes. The brisk and high northwesterly winds over the New England and Middle States will probably diminish force ou Thursday. Dangerous winds are not anticipated for the Gulf and Atlantic coasts, excepting the brisk and high northwesterly from Cape Hatteras to portheast ward.

All quiet in Robeson. Passengers on the train yesterday report Henderson, the captive reporter, at Lumberton, but that he was only ou parole, intending to return to the outlaws. He still asserts that he has been unable to hear soything of the whereabouts of Henry Berry Lowrey. Andrew Strong and Stephen Lowrey were at Red Banks. In addition to the above Handerson states, on the authority of Andrew Strong and others, that Boss Strong is not dead, though he has not seen him.

Since writing the above we hear the report as coming from the outlaws, that Lowrey has been absent from the usual baunts of the gang for about four weeks, and will remain away about four or five weeks longer, but nothing has been learned as to where he is, or what his intentions are.

Francouncis It False and Slanderous The following note to the Editor explains itself. In the paragraph alluded to we were careful to suppress names, but supposed that he information was reliable :

"I see published in one of your daily papers an article purporting to be sent from Laurel Hill, Riebmond county, N. C., headed a "New way to Get Rid of a Wife." I suspect in this article I am the person alluded to. I hope you will do me the kinduces to contradict this article, as you doubtless have been misinformed, and on my authority pronounce it false and slanderous, as I am able to prove by the best of witnesses.

OPERA HOUSE.

Mrs. Jas. A. Cates. Wilmington's great favorite, Mrs. Jas. A. Oates, will inaugurate her brief engagement at the Opera House this evening in Buckstone's favorite Operatic comic romance, entitled the Daughter of the Regiment, with Mrs. Oates in her unrivalled personation of Josephine, to be followed by the lively and amusing farce of An Alarming Sacrifice, the performance being interspersed with songs, dances, &c. It is only necessary to remind our readers of the anticipated re appearance of this charming actress on our boards. She is too well known and too universally appreciated by Wilmington play-goers to require any commendation from us, and we can enfely predict for her a rousing house.

This inimitable Magician and Ventreloquist will open in this city on Tuesday next, the 26th inst. To give our citizens some idea of what a treat they are to witness we publish the following from the Memphis Ledger :

DeCastro brought his remarkable series of performances to a termination on Saturday night. The unasually large audience who attended Greenlaw Opera House resched the point whence they could "no further go" at the Matinee, at which it is estimated between three and four thousand persons must have been present. About half as many were unable to gain admission, and considerable money was returned to those who could not obtain even standing room. Gallery, family circle, dress circle and parquette were crowded to inconvenience; the orchestra, corridors and stage being well filled also. Such a sight was never before witnessed in Memphis. The house, viewed from the stage, presented the appearance of a gigantic bouquet, the greater part of the audience being composed of children and ladies, dressed in the gayest attire. At night another large crowd greeted DeCastro's farewell performance, which gave the usual satisfaction. In his profession we think DeCastro is without an equal, and certainly no other magician could have drawn the crowds that have nightly flocked to Greenlaw Opera House. He leaves with the best wishes of everybody, and is likely to be long remembered.

Advertising for the People.

We would call the attention of the public to the MORNING STAR's charges for short advertisements, especially for the accommodation of the growing demand for the publication of when about thirty miles from New Inlet Bar, brief notices such as "Wants," "To Let," Jesterday morning, at 7 o'clock, the ship's "For Sale," etc. Most advertisements of this crank-pin broke. She made the best time she | character can be reduced to five lines space, could until she reached the Bar, when the and the charge for them being but half our regular rates when paid for strictly in advance

This offers increased inducements for servants wanting places, for families wishing domeatics, for farmers having a horse, or a cow, or an old wagon for sale, landlords wishing tenants, and tenants wishing landlords, to use the Morning Star as a medium for communicating with their several but unknown customers.

Storekeepers can also make equal avail of these rates for short advertisements, to invite public attention to any specialty in trade, or any change in their places.

The use of the daily newspaper, as the agency for communication between people of all classes, is constantly increasing, and illustrates one of the ways in which modern civilization is saving time, labor, and money, in carryingon the business of life. or a diffi morem tf

"May-the Fay," if she lives, will meet the expectations of her mother.

A Sad Falling Out.—It is indeed a sad salling out when, after years of the closest intimacy, the hair parts company with the head. Fortunately the lamentable separation may be easily prevented and the twain more closely united than ever by a timely and systematic use of Lyon's Kathairon, the most potent invigorant of the hair and promoter of its growth and beauty known to modern pharmacy. It completely obviates the dry and parched condition of the roots of the hair, which is preliminary to its coming out, ty supplying the precise degree of moisture requisite to its preservation in a healthy state. It is the only true dissolvent and evaporant of dandruff and other impurities of the scalp, whose presence is injurious to the hair. As a beautifier of the head the Kathairon has no equal. It not only increases the quantity of the hair, but improves its quality immediately, imparting a lustrous appearance and silky texture which are exceedingly attractive.

SUICIDE COMMITTED, As the result of an inactive state of liver and stomach, producing headache, obtuse intellect duliness, despondency, dementia, and finally insanity, is no uncommon occurrence. All these disagreeable symptoms and bad feelings are most certainly dispelled by the
