Admitted to Probate. We find the following paragraph in the Baltimore Sun of the 23rd inst:

"The will of the late Archbishop Spalding and the late Father Caskery, Administrator of the Archdiocese of Baltimore, were admitted to probate yesterday in the Orphans' Court, and letters testamentary were granted on the estate of each to Bishop James Gibbons, of North Carolina, who is left executor. All of the property, real and personal, belonging to the Archbishop, including that acquired by the will of the late Bishop McGill, except the real estate in Kentucky belonging to the Archbishop, which was left to Bishop McClosky, of Louisville, was bequeathed to Father Caskery, providing he was living in the State of Maryland at the time of the death of the Archbishop, if not, to Bishop Thomas Foley. All of the estate of Father Caskery, including that acquired by the will of Archbishop Spalding, was bequeathed to Bishop James Gibbons.

It is a pity to the Opera House to-night you are sure to be rewarded, perhaps doubly.

City Court. The following cases were disposed of yesterday morning:

Peter Gray, charged with being found drunk on the street and cursing and quarrelling on Sunday. Judgment for the penalty and costs.

M. G. Bellars, charged with insulting a policeman while on duty. Judgment for the penalty and costs. One-half the fine remitted by the City Marshal.

Sarah Walker, charged with cursing and quarrelling with Catharine Cole. Judgment for the penalty and costs. One-half the fine remitted by the City Marshal.

One or two other cases were continued over.

DeCastro. This celebrated Magician and Ventriloquist will commence a five days' engagement at the Opera House in this city this evening, and expects to astonish the natives with his feats of jugglery, magic, ventriloquism, &c.

Among other things will be performed the wonderful suspension act. The press where he has visited are unanimous in praise of his exhibition and we have no doubt that he will be greeted with full houses during his stay in Wilmington.

Madame DeCastro will positively appear to-night, at the Opera House, in her wonderful feat known as the Aerial Suspension.

Quick Time. One of our city druggists telegraphed to New York for a bill of goods on Saturday, to be sent by Southern Express. The goods were shipped on Saturday night and arrived here yesterday morning.

This is a remarkable instance of expedition in the transportation of goods and one very creditable to the enterprise of the company.

MORNING STAR

Vol. X—No. 3. WILMINGTON, N. C., TUESDAY, MARCH 26, 1872. Whole No. 1,407

Local News

—Beef is 20 cents per pound in our market just now.

—We tried some of Gilbert's oysters yesterday and found them excellent.

—Very much to the gratification of church-goers, Sunday was a pleasant day.

—Emergency meeting of St. John's Lodge, F. & A. M., this evening, at 7 1/2 o'clock.

—Rev. Mr. Hiden, of this city, lectured in Charlotte on Sunday evening.

—Rev. Mr. Hiden, of this city, is assisting in a protracted meeting in Charlotte.

—Mr. E. Cutbert, correspondent of the N. Y. Herald, leaves this morning for Richmond.

—The telegraph wires south of here were down last night—one of the effects of the storm.

—Rev. Mr. Martin, of Columbia, who was here recently, preached in Newbern on Sunday.

—The Southern train, due here at 5:30 P. M., did not arrive last evening, until 11:30 P. M., having been delayed by the storm.

—Hon. A. M. Waddell, our faithful Representative in Congress, has our thanks for repeated favors.

—We learn that eleven persons were confirmed at St. Mark's (colored Episcopal) church on Sunday evening last.

—Mr. Charles A. R. Moulton, the husband of Mrs. Moulton, the singer, died in Cambridge, Mass., last Sunday, aged forty-three.

—The verdict in the case of the late Mr. Skipper, alluded to in our last, was that he came to his death from an over dose of laudanum.

—The case of Wm. Gordon, watchman at the W. C. & A. R. R., charged with the shooting of Cass Mott on Sunday, the 10th inst., is awaiting the surgeon's certificate that Mott is able to appear at the investigation.

—The Washington Fire Company, of Wilmington, Del., which passed through this city last Fall, have recently presented the fire department of Charlotte with eight magnificent trumpets, appropriately inscribed.

—Speaking of the "Baccalaurate Fernon," the Lexington (Va.) Gazette says: "This sermon, the first of the series of exercises connected with the commencement of Washington and Lee University, will be present year be delivered by the Right Rev. Thomas Atkinson, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in North Carolina."

—The presents DeCastro distributes are really valuable. Bear this in mind.

Colored Sabbath School Union.

Since the organization of the colored Sabbath School Union of the State the General Superintendent has had twenty-eight applications from this immediate section for the establishment of schools. He has also had a number of applications from those already organized for books, &c.

It should be understood that this Union is altogether a charitable institution, the services of the Superintendent being gratuitous. It is therefore dependent in a great measure upon the liberality of the public in order to fulfill its mission of ministering to the spiritual and intellectual necessities of the masses who are compelled to rely upon such sources for proper nourishment.

Contributions in the way of tracts, books, &c., can be made to G. W. Price, Jr., Superintendent, box 196, Wilmington P. O.

—The Augusta Chronicle says: "DeCastro is certainly the best Magician that has visited the South."

Gen. Roger A. Pryor.

We are informed that this distinguished gentleman has consented to deliver the annual address before the Cape Fear Agricultural Association, next fall.

General Pryor is one of the most accomplished orators this country has ever produced.

He was a prominent member of Congress in 1861, when the war commenced, and was perhaps the most popular speaker in that body.

We do not doubt then the announcement of General Pryor as the orator at our next Fair will attract a great many to Wilmington at that time who otherwise might not be present.

Sprig Goods.

Messrs. J. & H. Samson, 43 Market Street, have received a part of their Spring stock of dry goods and other articles in their line and are now ready for the campaign. Call and examine their varied assortment, which comprises everything usually kept in a first class dry goods store.

—DeCastro to-night at the Opera House.

Base Ball Meeting.

At a meeting of the base ball players of Wilmington, held at the Court House last evening, the following proceedings were had:

On motion, J. W. Schenck, Jr., was elected Chairman pro tem.

On motion, the meeting went into the election of permanent President, when Joseph A. Clifford was unanimously chosen.

The following additional officers were then elected:

C. L. Burkimer, 1st Vice President.

J. A. Grubbs, 2d " "

J. J. O'Brien, 3d " "

W. H. Gerken, Secretary.

James S. Green, Treasurer.

On motion of James Heaton, it was resolved to christen the new organization with the name of "Clifford Base Ball Club of Wilmington."

An adjournment was then had until Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock, at the Court House.

—It is said that the more married men there are in the world, the fewer crimes there will be. An unmarried man is but half of a perfect being, and it requires the other half to make things right and even.

—"Cleanliness is next to godliness." If that is so, a cake of good soap must be better than a poor sermon.

TRE OUTLAWS.

Latest from [the Front—The "Captives" Free.

By the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad, yesterday afternoon, we have to chronicle the arrival in our midst of A. B. Henderson, the captive correspondent of the New York Herald, who has at last succeeded in effecting his escape from the outlaws and is now winding his flight Northward, to "pour out the vials of his wrath" in the columns of the great "thunderer." Henderson, upon his arrival here, kept very close to his hotel and was exceedingly reticent in regard to events in Suffolktown. He had a double-barrel gun in his possession and his appearance indicated that he had seen some rough experience in the woods and swamps of Robeson. He left on the 6:45 train for the North.

Passengers on the Charlotte road report that, whatever may be said to the contrary, there is a settled conviction among the people of Robeson that Henry Berry Lowrey and Boss Strong are both dead. It is further stated that a physician who practices among the denizens of Suffolktown and who is pretty well posted in the affairs of the outlaws, says that he saw the dead body of the noted outlaw chief after he had accidentally shot himself. A further confirmation of this fact is had in the statement of Henderson, which was made to a gentleman on the train yesterday, that the children of Henry Berry, three in number, had been appointed among his relatives; Patrick Lowrey, a brother of the outlaw, taking the oldest, and his mother the two youngest.

Stephen Lowrey and Andrew Strong accompanied Henderson to Moss Neck, and told him at parting not to come back there any more.

The Storm Last Night.

The weather, which has afforded an endless theme for discussion during the present season, seems to grow more capricious as the spring advances. All day yesterday it was rainy and boisterous, but not until the city was shrouded in darkness did the storm burst upon us in all its fury.

Then the elements raged with unexampled severity—the wind howled, the rain poured, the lightning flashed and the thunder rolled. Such a sight for pedestrians we have not witnessed in a long time before.

While we write our heart goes out in pity to the poor tempest-tossed mariner, who, while we are nesting around our hearth-stones, listening to the pitiless blast, may be struggling for life amid the foaming billows of Old Ocean, which may yet prove his shroud and his winding sheet.

Later—the storm has spent its fury, and calm prevails.

Serious and Probable Fatal Accident.

A colored man, whose name we did not learn, was badly injured at Messrs. Northrop & Cumming's mill, in the Southwestern section of the city, yesterday. He was engaged in securing a stock of timber in its place, which was to be sawed, when a wedge flew out and struck him on the side of the face with much force, fracturing his jaw-bone and otherwise injuring him, causing the blood to flow freely from his mouth and nose.

Dr. W. J. W. Bellamy, who was called to the sufferer, pronounces his case a serious one. We learn that the unfortunate man had been in the employ of Messrs. Northrop & Cumming for some time past.

Alarms of Fire.

It is seldom that we are called upon to record two alarms of fire in one day, but this was the case yesterday, although, fortunately, they resulted in nothing more serious than putting the fire department to some unnecessary inconvenience. The first, which occurred about half-past 9 o'clock A. M., was caused by the burning of a foul chimney on Third street, near the railroad. The last was caused by a similar occurrence on Fifth, between Orange and Ann streets, the alarm being sounded about half-past 7 o'clock P. M. In both instances the fire department was prompt as usual, but fortunately their services were not needed.

Our Chip Basket.

—New name for fog—alrapparent.

—A paradox: A man who dislikes poetry is of course a-verse to a poem.

—The word "impossible" is the mother tongue of little souls," said Lord Brougham.

—The pebbles in our pathway make us more foot-sore than the huge rocks we stoutly climb.

—A ship may be said to resemble a scarp when it is on the "breast of a heavy swell."

—The most polite people living are the photographers. They "countenance" everybody.

—An exchange announces a wild serial, entitled "Quick as Lightning; or, the Chemist's Journey; a tale of nitro-glycerine."

—Woman's rights prevail in the Cannibal Islands. There the women not only choose their own husbands, but a bride sometimes chews another woman's husband at the wedding dinner.

SPIRITS OF TURPENTINE.

—The Superior Court of Craven is in session, Judge Clarke presiding.

—The new Episcopal Church in Newbern is to be finished by the 1st of October.

—The Raleigh News records the arrival on Saturday of several more families to settle in Wake.

The Raleigh News states that Col. Lewis Hanes will retire from the Era with the next issue. The News thinks he is tired of Radicalism.

—A new paper is shortly to make its appearance in Statesville, published by Col. Chas. R. Jones, of Iredell county.

—The Newbern Times says: The U. S. Buoy Tender Heliotrop, Capt. McLean, arrived yesterday morning with Commodore Stanly on board. The Commodore, we learn, will visit Beaufort this week and select a site for a light house, which is to be built soon. This is good news for mariners.

—The Statesville American says: We learn that the dwelling house of Henry Turner, Esq., about two miles from this place, on the Mocksville road, with most of the furniture, bedding, &c., was destroyed by fire, including some money, one night in the toropart of this week. The family barely had time to escape. We have not learned the manner in which the fire originated.

—The Raleigh Sentinel says: Gov. Caldwell pardoned and released two convicts from the Penitentiary on Friday last. One of them was an intelligent man from Martin county, and made himself very useful by assisting the overseer in keeping his books and time table. He left his quarters in high glee, and made a parting request that the overseer should give to Andrew Jackson Jones, when he arrives, his place as bookkeeper. "A fellow-feeling makes us wondrous kind."

—The Raleigh Sentinel, alluding to the late revolt at the Penitentiary, says: Jim Everett, the white felon from Halifax, was the prime mover of the whole difficulty. Everett told Heartsfield, the negro killed, and others, that the governor had said if any prisoner was shot by the guard he would have the guard hung, &c. He told Heartsfield and the convicts in his cell to overpower the guard when they came to feed, and then come to his cell with the key and turn him out and he would lead them all safely out of the penitentiary. Heartsfield fortunately was killed before the plan could be executed.

Dr. SAGE'S CATARRH REMEDY.—$500 reward for an incurable case. Sold by Druggists at 50 cents.

LASTING LOVELOCKS.—Twenty years ago, when he was a boy and a student at the University of the South, he was introduced to the use of the Locks. He found them so useful and so comfortable, that he determined to use them for the remainder of his life. He has since used them, and has found them to be the most perfect and the most comfortable of any article of the kind. He has since used them, and has found them to be the most perfect and the most comfortable of any article of the kind.
