Paluful Accident. Capt Morrison, of the Wilmington, Char lotte and Rutherford Railroad, informs us of a rather serious accident that occurred on his road yesterday. A young man, by the name of Joshna Barnes, got on the train at Lumberton with the intention of stopping at Plummers ville, a small station on the road. On arriving at the latter point, the engineer willstled on brakes, when Mr. Barnes made a rush for the platform and got on the steps, as if with the intention of jumping off; but, without doing so, changed his mind, as the train was going too fast for him, and turned around for the purpose of resuming his place on the platform. when by some means be was tripped up and fell backwards, his body striking the ground and the wheels of one of the cars passing over one of his feet, which was badly mashed. Besides the injury to his loot, Mr. Barnes also broke his collar bone in the fall which he received IN A GAZNAT
