" Lost and Found."

The Republican City Convention. The Republican City Convention for the nomination of candidates for Aldermen to be voted for at the ensuing municipal election, which commenced its session at the City Hall yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, finally adjourned about 9 o'clock last night. We expected nothing else than a stormy session. It style of doing business had it resulted otherwise; but we must confess that we were not prepared for such scenes of wrangling and confusion as prevailed, and which disgusted all decent members of the party.

meeting and James Heaton acted as Secretary. Several delegates had talked themselves hoarse before an organization was effected, but there were plenty other orators to fill their places, who displayed their oratorical powers and tested the strength of their lungs in the most approved style. Nominations were made and rescinded and made again during the afternoon, the names finally agreed upon being as follows: Owen Burney, colored, from the 1st Ward; Bernard Rumley from the 2d Ward ; Joseph E. Sampson, colo ed, from the 3rd Ward; James Wilson, from the 4th Ward; Wm. H. Thurbur, colored, from the 5.h Ward, and Ed. R. Brink for the city at large. There were three candidates before the Convention for the latter nomination, viz: E. R. Brink, A. H. Morris and Hezeklah Reid, colored. On the first, when Mr. Morris withdrew his name. At this stage of the proceedings the Fifth Ward delegates withdrew from the Convention, and would have nothing more to do with it. Another ballot was then taken, when Col. Brick received the nomination. Taking i for granted that all the above candidates will be elected and that the Con servatives will only succeed in electing four members, it is generally conceded that Mr.

James Wilson will be our next Mayor. The contest for the Marshalship will lie between W. P. Canaday, the present incumbent; Lewis Nixon, colored, and John Whiteman, Yesterday afternoon, about 6 o'clock, s colored boy, about 15 or 16 years old, was walking on a pile of wood near the edge of the wharf at the loot of Princess street, when the wood rolled and Cuffy was plunged head foremost into the river. Fortunately there were several colored men in the vicinity at the involuntary bather, who seized it and was drawn to the wharf, while another colored man succeeded to fishing him out. It was a narrow escape, as the boy was about exhausted when he reached tirra firma.

The Oldest Mason.

This question has been agitating the frater nity for sometime past and several places in inhabitants the oldest living Mason. From the following it will be seen that as the matter now stands Mayesville, S. C., is entitled to the "championship":

MAYTSVILLE, S. C., April 6, 1872. Fashion Twinklings.

Bonnets and round hats are so much alike in shape and trimming this season that it is very difficult to tell which is which Mosaic and cameo jewelry is very much in fashion this year, and is set with pearls and diamonds in the red burnished gold. In Germany the dress coat has been discarded, and gentlemen now appear at evening parties in short black frock coats. Pointed and scalloped flounces are the latest style of trimming dresses, and make the ladies look like small perambulating awnings. The old fashioned style of necklaces, worn by our grandmothers, of several rows of small gold beads, are all the rage at present.

Advertising for the People.

We would call the attention of the public to time and one of them reached a pole to the the Monning Stan's charges for short advertisements, especially for the accommodation of the growing demand for the publication of brief notices such as "Wants," "To Let," "For Sale," etc. Most advertisements of this Mrs M F King. character can be reduced to five lines space, and the charge for them being but half our regular rates when paid for strictly in advance

CUMULATIVE "SUFFERERS."

High Old Time, in the Midst of Which we are Requested to "Git Furder."

"Building Lots for Sale by James Wilson!" This was the Slogan yesterday as those brilliant students of political ethics, the Republicans of Wilmington, assembled in the City Hall. And great was the excitement among the Cumulative "Sufferers."

It was a beautiful spectacle! It was harmony, decency and intellect personified! Words, it was impossible to hear; and the acts of these statesmen cannot be described on

After a disgraceful wrangle of an hour's du ration in the City Hall, the assembled wisdom of the Republicans of Wilmington adjourned to the City Court Room below, where, with Spartan courage and more than tragic air, Cheap Jimuel Heaton arose and moved that, in order that the Convention might go into secret caucus, all Democrats be requested to leave the room. Colonel William Thomas Cutlar, the orator of the day, said he was opposed to this motion because Mr. Washington (supposed to be a vague reference to the old General) had said that all men were free and equal. But - Henry Berry Lowrey's widow was report- the dele-gates were remorseless. They had a big heat on; and having "smelt the blood of an Englishman, dead or alive they must have some." So the motion was put, and a few feeble nays formed the only ray of consolation to the Democratic martyrs who were thus sacrificed. Crest-fallen and subdued, with rueful countenances and moistened eyes, seven Conservatives and Democrats took up their beds > and "got further." It was a sorrowful sight-them seven Conservatives and Democrats "gettin' further"-and thirteen of the brethren, near the door, each of whom wanted our votes on a split-ticket for inst. Sheriff, said it was de d-dest outrage eber dey

But the climax is yet to be reached : twentytwo venerable colored gemmans who derive their intellectual sustenance from a daily perusal of the MORNING STAR, drew their bandannas from their heads; and then flowed the tears of pearly dew.

We couldn't stand that : so we continued to "get further," sollloquising as we wandered, Dulce et decorum est pro patria mori.
