NOON REPORTS

THE CINCINNATI CONVENTION. The Resolutions Adopted Unanimous ly-What they Advocate.

Ballotings for their Candidate-Adams and Greeley in the Ascendant.

CINCINNATI, May 3. Cassius M. Clay and Judge Matthews addressed the Convention last night. A proposition to nominate caused confusion, several desiring to speak, and the Convention disregarded the gavel. The Convention is divided, one party desiring the platform and another the candidate to have precedence. Parliament-ary tactics prevented the transaction of busi-ness and after vehement discussion an adjourn-ment took place until 10 o'clock to day.

Greeley's tariff platform, leaving the people to speak through their representatives regarding that measure, predominates.

When the Convention reassembled at 10 o'clock to day a resolution was passed that when the Convention balloted no formal nominations should be made. inations should be made.

The platform has been unanimously adopted amid great cheering. The resolutions declare for the equality of all men before the law, the union of the States and no reopening of questions settled by the 13th, 14th and 15th amendmonts, the removal of disabilities incurred on account of the rebellion, general amnesty, local self government, the supremacy of the civil over military authority, respect for the writ of habeas corpus, a return to the methods of peace to maintain constitutional limitations of power, civil service reform, single term for Presidency, a system of Federal taxation that shall not unnecessarily interfere with the in dustry of the people, and as there are honest irreconciliable differences of opinion as to the merits respectively of the systems of protec-tion end free trade that question is remitted to the people in Congressional districts [wild eheering), the decision of Congress thereon to be wholly free of Executive interference or dictation; maintenance of the public credit dictation; maintenance of the public credit against repudiation in every form, speedy re-turn to specie payments, accognition of the services and sacrifices of soldiers and sailors, opposition to further grants of lands to railroads or other corporations, and in foreign friendship demanding nothing not right and submitting to nothing wrong. A voice: Three cheers for the second Declaration of Independence.

There were great cries of "question," overwhelming a few who tried to get the floor to speak. The Chair put the question. The report was adopted with loud and continued cheering. The Chair announced the vote unanimous.

Next in order of business was announced by the Chair to be the nomination of a candidate for the Presidency without the formal presen-

WASHINGTON, May 3. SENATE.—Business naim portant.
HOUSE.—The House was engaged on the tariff and appropriation bills all day. MISCELLANEOUS.

Intense interest prevailed here during to-day, in reference to events at Cincinnati, and not only in Executive and Legislative circles but throughout the city. Inquiries were constantly made as to the latest inte'ligence from the Convention. The progress of the balloting seemed to add, if possible, to the excitement everywhere, the news spreading with remarkable rapidity. Those in the Executive Department heard it about the same time it was known in Congress.

The telegrams appouncing the nomination of Greely as candidate for the Presidency were received with surprise, as previous private telegrams foreshadowed a different result.—
The Republicans are not in sympathy with the Convention, expressing themselves as not alarmed at the selection while the Democrats said that their National Convention, to convene on the Fourth of July, will define the policy of the Democratic party.

The news of the nomination interrupted for

There were similar exhibtions in the Senate. while Mr. Casserly was speaking. That gentleman, referring to the inattention to business, moved that an adjournment take place until the Cincinnati Convention was over. The excitement subsided with the announcement of Gratz Brown as the candidate for the Vice Presidency. To-night gentlemen of all parties are discussing the effect of the proceed-ings of the Convention on the public mind.
