TERRIBLE RAILROAD ACCIDENT. Six Men and one Woman Wounded.—The Wounds of Two of the Men Very Severe.

It is seldom that we are called upon to record an accident on any of the Railroads in this section so serious in its results as the one which befel the train on the Wilmington, Columbia and Augusta Railroad yesterday morning...

The train that left this city for Columbia at 6:30 P. M. on Wednesday met the up train for Wilmington at Flemington on time, where Capt. Gilbert, of the up train, reported that he had sustained an accident at about 5 o'clock that afternoon...

on the train, was injured in the hip and had one of his ribs broken. Wounds not serious. As soon as the news of the disaster was received at Flemington, a dispatch was sent to this city for medical aid, and upon the arrival of the physicians at Flemington a special train was dispatched to the scene of the accident.

Before arriving there, however, the morning train for Columbia was met returning with the wounded. Arriving at the depot, those who had received the most dangerous wounds were taken to the City Hospital, where they received all necessary medical attention at the hands of Dr. Winants, assisted by Drs. King, Cobb and Lova.

We visited the Hospital during the afternoon and found that the injuries of Messrs. Rickstrow and Bischoff, though very severe, were not considered by the attending physicians as necessarily mortal, and it was also their opinion that a resort to amputation would not be necessary, unless an unfavorable change should take place.

The passengers on the wrecked train were loud in their praises of Captains Bowden, Walker and others for the promptness and energy which they displayed in relieving the sufferers. The baggage and mail matter was uninjured and was brought safely to this city yesterday afternoon.

From what we could learn no blame for the accident is attached to any one connected with the road, the precise cause of the running off being a mystery to all on the train at the time. The accident this side of Marion the previous evening was caused, we learn, by the removal of a rail, which was no doubt done purposely with the view of throwing the train from the track.

No one was hurt by the accident and the cars were uninjured. The road, we are informed, was clear last evening and ready for the passage of trains as usual.

"Circulate the Documents." We are indebted to a friend in Wilson county for a large club of subscribers to the Daily STAR at our cash campaign rates.

As a friend in Bladen county for twenty-five dollars to be used at our discretion in distributing the STAR during the campaign. We call the attention of our Conservative friends to our reduced rates for the campaign as published at the head of our editorial columns, on second page. We intend to do our "level best" to beat Grant and Caldwell, and we believe the great cause of Reform may be aided to some extent by circulating the Daily and Weekly STAR.
