I don't expect you to; but there, hid away in the hills, and far away from the demoralizing influence of New York, where no vila theatres injured man's native innocence; with solemn Sabbath bells a stone's throw away, and with fif-teen evangelical teachers in as many tabernacles; with blessings asked at each meal, with family prayers and much spuffling cant, two blamed old Yankee deacons run this mill night and day (sometimes), and turn out thousands of barrels a week of this vile, chawed-up plaster for the adulteration of flour."

Mr. Greeley on White and Black Schools.

During his recent address to the colored people of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Mr. Greeley gave them some advice on the school question. He said :

If I were a black man, I should not ask for a separate school, yet I should still say il the whites choose to have separate schools I should not object to it. I should only ask that the schools for my children should be made as good, as efficient, as the schools provided for other men's children. Then, if the majority chose that the minority should be educated in separate schools, I would say, "Gentlemen, be it as you please; I have no choice in the matter." A gentleman or lady never discusses the question, Was it proper to refuse me an invitation to my neighbor's party ? He or she accepts the fact, and lets the reason take care of itself. Precisely so with regard to religious fraternity or associations for maintenance of divine worship. I would advise the colored race never to make a distinction, and never to refuse one. If the whites choose that the blacks shall not be members on equal terms of general congregations, I would accept exclusive congregations, not as my choice, but as the choice of the dominant race."

Republicans for Greeley.

The Enquirer wants to know the strength of Mr. Greeley among Republicans. We quote from the Utica (N. Y.) Observer : Greeley is not stronger, but it is more freely expressed, in the country than in the city. From a hundred sources we have learned during the past three weeks that in the villages and farming districts of central New York scores of men who have been steady supporters of the Re-publican Administration heretofore-men who took no interest in the Liberal morement when it was inaugurated—are now open in their advocacy of Greeley. These citizens could not by any stretch of the imagination be converted into "office-seekers" or "sorebeads." They are the thoughtful, hard-working class, with no other ambition than to contribute their share towards sustaining and securing a good government,"
