Something about Drinking in Warm

Drinking is a habit. Some people drink little, not because their constitutions require less than others; it is their habit. These people never perspire so much as those who drink more. The more that is drunk, the more water passes away, or the system would suffer. As it is, the strain sifects it. The skin, the kidneys, bowels, lungs, are all drawn upon. The result is, as may be expected, exhanstion. For this reason the man who drinks much water, particularly during the summer and in the hottest weather, is less ab'e to endure fatigue. The water is of no benefit to him-that is, the excess. It must pass away, and this requires an effort of the system, which is the sweating process. It is a bad habit to drink water so much; a false thirst is created. We should drink only what is needed. The habit of drinking more will soon be overcome, and the person will feel much stronger and more capable of bearing fatigue. In winter, little finid is needed beyond what our food furnishes; in summer, some more, but not much.

On the 29th of June last, Judge Russell issued an order appointing Messrs. Horatio G. Onderdonk, Charles H. Roberts and Watson Mathews, all of the State of New York, Receivers of the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company, as representatives of the holders of the 1st mortgage bonds of said road. The case came up in the Superior Court yesterday, on a motion to set aside the decree appointing Judge Onderdonk, and others as receivers of the road, and was argued by Maj. C. M. Stedman for judgment for creditors and stockholders and Col. Robert Strange for the Receivers. His Honor reserved his decision.

offered by THE WEEKLY STAR as an advertising medium. It has, without exception, the Largest Circulation of any publication in Wilmington; and we can satisfy any one that it has no equal as a medium of communication with the people of the rural districts now trading with Wilmington. We solicit a call from those who wish to place their business prominently before the people of this section, confident that we can offer inducements that cannot fail to please.

For the Morning Star. The following were the retail prices, for the THE WILMINGTON, CHARLOTTE AND RUTHERFORD BAILROAD.

The Journal in its leading editorial yesterday morning inelists with great truth, that the early completion of this railroad is most important to the material welfare of this city. To this we assent, but do strongly dissent from the further proposition that this important result can only be attained by first surrendering the road to the bondholdersresidents of another State.

But is the surrender of the road necessary? Mr. Martin in his last regular report to the stockholders, presented for acceptance an Act passed by the General Assembly of North Carolina, ratified February 8th, 1872, entitled "An Act to Enable the Wilmington, Charlotte and Rutherford Railroad Company to Complete Its Road and Extend Its road to the Tennessee Line," and in connection therewith, he said: "The Act presented to you to day for your consideration having passed it was considered entirely practicable to finish the road and prevent foreclosure.

"The principal bondholders had made up their minds to assist materially in the completion of the road from Wadesboro to Charlotte by the use of the Second Mortgage Bonds and stock. The whole negotiation would have been successfully carried through but for the decision of the Suprame Court of the State. made at its fall term, dissolving an injunction granted by the Superior Court of New Hanover county, against the use by Western Railroad Company, of Fayettevile, of $500,000 face value, of the bonds of your Company placed in the State Treasury, to secure the State from loss by reason of the exchange made by your Company with the State and which by acts of the Legislature had been a first, then second, and now a third lien upon the property of the company. At the time of the donation of these bonds to the Western Railroad they constituted a second mortgage upon your road, by some learned in law after four millions, by others after two and a-half

"Whatever may be their legal status, it is quite evident they would entirely defeat the sale of the Second Mortgage Bonds, authorized by the act ratified 12th of March, 1870, authorizing the issue of $2,500,000 bonds.

"Efforts have been made to obtain these bonds from the Western Rail Road Company but without success." Now here, Mr. President Martin says distinctly, that but for the obduracy of the Western Rail Road Company it was "entirely practicable to finish the Road and prevent foreclosure." We have positive information that this only impediment in Mr. Martin's way has been removed and a [satisfactory compromise R. R. Co., and the Western Railroad Company. Hence we quote Mr. President Martin as our authority for saying; the Road can now be completed by the stockholders and foreclosure prevented. "Litera scripta manet."-

We shall hold Mr. Martin to the record. Again. Mr. Martin estimates the annual receipts of the Road at about $304,000-an under estimate we think. These receipts greatly increase with every mile of Road extension. The operating expenses of the Road are estimated at 50 per cent of its receipts, which deducted from the estimated income, would leave $152,000 to be applied to the payment of interest due bondholders. The total interest due bondholders cannot exceed $160,000, even if the $600,000 issued by President Sloan be admitted to have been a legal issue, and of this there is serious doubt.

Se that in the very worst aspect in which the present condition of this Road may be viewed we cannot but come to the conclusion announced by Mr. Martin in the last meeting of the stockholders that "the Road can now be completed and foreclosure prevented." In spite of these facts however; in spite of the removal of the only alleged hindrance to the completion of the Road, viz: the refusal of the Western Railroad Company to compromise; in spite of the further fact that Mr. Martin was elected President of this Road by the Stockholders, as their servant, to protect defend and advance their interests, he now appears as the strongest advocate for the surrender of the Road to the Bondholders, and for its foreclosure, which he has thus admitted was unnecessary. In the estimate above we have made a very full allowance for the operating expenses of the Road. By reference to Mr. B. S. Guion's report to the stockholders in 1870 it will be seen that Mr. Guion states these expenses as only 36 per centum of gross receipts. Under these circumstances shall this important Railroad, so valuable to Wilmington, in which the city holds stock to the extent of 4000 shares, and in which also many of our citizens have liberally invested, be quietly surrendered and sold for the benefit of a few Bondholders, who have bought its Bonds at fifty per cent. discount? The doing so, would be suicidal by us.

The Road is estimated, exclusive of the franchise, as worth $6,000,000. The Bonds on account of which the sale of the Road is now sought only amount to $2,000,000 for which less than $1,000,000 in cash was paid. The expense of completing and equipping the Road to Charlotte will not exceed $1,000,000 more. So that for an expenditure of $2,000,000 these Bondholders, whose liberality is vaunted in the "Journal" will get possession of property worth over $6,000,000!

But the Bondholders we are told propose to be very magnanimous if no opposition is made to this little "job." Let us see what they do propose.

They offer to give stockholders certificates of equal shares of stock in the new road with those now held by them—this, though, after first issuing to themselves $8,000,000 of preferred stock and first mortgage bonds-thus securing to themselves a clear profit of $6,000,000, the excess of profit over which they generously surrender to the stockholders, and from this liberal proposition they even ex-pressly exclude the city of Wilmington, of whose financial affairs Mr. Martin has, until recently, been the guardian.

Let us be grateful! I submit herewith estimates, evidently carefully prepared, taken from the official reports of this road.

From the report made to the stockholders on May 3d, 1872, it appears that the receipts from the Eastern Division for seven months

Add April and May, 2 months..... Add April and May, 2 months..... 53,547 69 Add June, July & Aug., estimated. 90,000 00 Gross receipts for 12 months.....$320,742 81

Deduct for operating expenses (see report of proceedings Oct., 1870, page 13), say 36 per cent., to which add Bridge interest, making 44 per cent of gross receipts, or...... 141,126 83 Showing net receipts.......$179,615 98 Interest on bonged debt....... 160,000 00

Leaving a surplus for incidentals..$ 19,615 98
Yet we are told this road is hopelessly insolvent; and this, too, in the face of the fact that a comparison of the receipts of this road for the past three months with the receipts for the corresponding three months of last year will show an increase of receipts of between six and eight thousand dollars per month.
