Complaints are made of disgraceful scenes enacted in the basement of a house on the North side of Princess, between Front and Water streets. The complainants term the place a "hawdy house," and their description of the doings there are certainly calculated to give it the credit of being entitled to the appellation. Being in the midst of one of our most public thoroughfares, the place should receive the attention of the authorities.

For the Morning Star.

The Post seemed to be impressed with the idea Friday evening that it would have to get some of your roosters to crow at the head of its columns. I know that you are a generous, good fellow, always ready to accommodate, &c., but the roosters won't crow on that Post. He is a soon bird and sends forth his loud, shrill notes while the MORNING STAR yet twinkles. From indications his crowing is but the forerunner of tremendous showers if not a flood. Methinks I see carpet-bags floating down the current now and way yonder on a log, with the "Tan Bark" all off, is a scalawag. While a crow flops his wings, and soars away, crying "Koy, Koy, Koy, Woo, Waddells on and takes his place in the ark of our Respectfully, county's safety.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. What we Need when Debilitated.

Appetite and digestion languish at this season. At the very time when the body most needs renovation and support the stomach, as its commissariat department, is apt to prove delinquent. Under such circumstances the necessity for a wholesome stimulant, tonic and corrective is self-evident, and consequently the demand for that peerless combi nation of the three required elements, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, is never more urgent than at midsummer. It is true that a few medical bigots-fossils

"left over" from the dark ages-recommend violent purgation and water gruel as a cure for indigestion and its accompanying ills; but they make few proselytes. The majority of the community are sane, and all sane pecple are aware that a pure and powerful vegetable tonic with alterative properties, like table tonic with alterative properties, like Hostetter's Bitters, is the only cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, constipation, nervousness and the "consequential damages" they inflict. The human intellect, unless hopelessly diseased or egregiously humbugged, declines to astonish the weakened human stomach with fierce cathartics that, rushing like an avalanche through the intestines, threaten to take the inner membrane with them. To use a significant catch-phrase the knock-down-and-drag-out methods of treatment are "play-ed out."

It is clearly understood that a medicated stimulant is essential to the renovation of an exhausted frame and that you cannot strengthen man or woman by dosing them with prostrating preparations. This is an era of common sense, and common sense approves of Hostetter's Bitters as the best article extant for invigorating, regulating and purifying the system and detending it against poison in the air we breathe, or the water we drink.
