OUTLINES.

Paterson fire threw 800 men out of employment. — There will be trouble in filling Lieber's place as Mexican Claims Umpire. — Fight between the Indians in Honduras and the British garrison. Several persons of both sides killed and wounded. — New York bank statement shows loss of over two and a half millions of the reserve, decrease of loans two and half millions, special two millions, legal tenders three millions, deposits nine and a quarter millions. — Cubans repulsed from Montauk. — London woolen house, Gilbert and Lovejoy, failed for $300,000. — No. 321, 322, 357, 359 of British Claims disallowed. — Russia dissatisfied at aggressive attitude of French Radicals, and Emperor withdraws his congratulations to Thiers. — Ninety-nine counties in Georgia give Smith, Dem., 40,013. So far 129 Democrats and six Radicals reported elected as representatives in Assembly.

GEORGIA—THE LATEST.

The official reports from ninety-nine counties give a Democratic majority of over forty thousand. There are thirty-seven counties to hear from.

The Legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic. Out of one hundred and thirty-five Representatives so far reported elected, only six are Radicals.

This unexpected result is due to two causes: the leaders stole the money intended to pay the taxes of the negroes; and, second, the efforts of the blacks to take possession of the polls failing, they refused to vote, in order to make the point of Democratic intimidation.

The last Legislature of the State was composed as follows:

	Joint	Senate.	House.
Democrats,	29	141	170
Republicans,	15	28	43

Dem. maj. 14 113 127

The past vote of the State has been: 1868—Governor: Repub., 83,527; Dem., 76,566; majority, 7,171 Republican.

1868—President: Repub., 57,159; Dem., 101,767; majority, 44,608 Democratic.

1870—Congress: Repub., 69,822; Dem., 96,635; majority, 26,813 Democratic.

THE INDIANA CANVASS.

A Squad of Morton's Negroes from Kentucky Discovered by the Liberals.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 5.

A distressing and disagreeable thing happened to some of Mr. Morton's importations to-day. It was telegraphed to the Liberal Headquarters this morning that a great crowd of negroes from Kentucky were coming northward on the afternoon train. There were between 50 and 75 in the gang, and through some oversight they were permitted to come unguarded to a station some distance below Indianapolis, where a squad detached from Headquarters here was sent to find out if they were really the metal depended on by Morton to carry the day next Tuesday. The result clinches the last doubt of Morton's methods. One of the men sent down walked boldly among the unsuspecting negroes, and using at a venture the name of a notorious Grant intriguer who has been running colored people over from Kentucky, caught the gang in the very acknowledgment of their mission. They were informed that they could lie about until election day, and that quarters would be provided them. The negroes thinking themselves with their friendly conspirators talked without reserve and divulged information which will be of signal service to the Liberal Committee between this and Tuesday. Arriving in this city, 18 of the negroes were taken before a Judge, and affidavits drawn which implicate one Will David, an Assistant U. S. Marshal, in the business. He it was who piloted them over; and he it is who is to carry them through the operation of voting. The affair causes great excitement here, and may possibly cause this branch of Morton's plans to be abandoned, as the fury of the people may turn upon all the colored people under the conviction that they are to be made the instruments of fraud and corruption. No disturbance can take place, however, as all the necessary precautions are to be adopted by the Liberals to prevent any pretext for the bayonets that Senator Morton holds at his control.

Death in a Railroad Car.
The Richmond Whig of Friday gives the following particulars of the death of Henry Bridges, the eldest son of Hon. R. R. Bridges, President of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad Company, who died at the depot of the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad, in that city, on Thursday morning last:

The deceased had been suffering for a year or more past with consumption, and he had been spending the summer among the Virginia Springs in hope of being improved, but he was destined to be disappointed. His father, hearing of his feeble condition, went for him with a private car fitted up with beds, and they left the Rock-bridge Alum Springs Wednesday morning. Arriving here Wednesday night too late to proceed further, the coach was placed near the depot of the Richmond and Petersburg Railroad, and his father and brother occupied it with him. About 1 o'clock he became restless, and upon his father trying to assist him in getting up, expired. Dr. Frank Cunningham was called in and rendered every assistance that could be given, but the vital spark had fled. The body was carried to Tarboro' to be interred in the family burial ground.

Mr. Bridges had just entered his twenty-first year, and was a young man of superior talents and high moral character. He graduated at the Virginia Military Institute with high honors, and, as an assistant professor, enjoyed a high reputation.

Fall Fashions.
A lady correspondent of one of our exchanges, who has been attending the fall "opening" of one of the fashionable bazaars of New York, says the goddess of finery advocates for evening wear silks of pale dyes, and garniture mostly of white. The Spanish style of pink, orange, and other dress colors, garnished with black, is not now considered comme il faut. The shaded suits are also passé—that is, costumes that depended entirely for beauty and grace upon the number of tints disposed in the garniture. Now, the suit is simply arranged in one or two colors of silk, and the trimmings selected are mostly white.

Another lovely evening dress is described as follows: The corset is finished with a succession of ruffles, blue silk, and white net lace—the front of the skirt is orne, with a deep flounce put on in delicate plaits. The apron is composed entirely of brocade grenadine. The raised figures upon this lovely textile are very attractive, and cannot fail to gain many admirers. The waist and sleeves are a novel of wonderment, and must be seen to obtain any knowledge of their exquisite loveliness.

For promenade suits, Fashion favors black, with one autumn color, either bronze, gray, sage green, or the tints corresponding in hue with ripe fruit; however, these last-named dyes are not worn by married ladies on the promenade.

The Dolma shape of cloaks is considered the most elegant style. This consists of a mantle fitting the shoulders nicely, and lies smoothly over the bust, but falls from the arms in tiny folds, and so continues in drapery style to the end of the garment. The sleeves are simply immense, sweeping far below the skirt of the garment, and almost extending to the bottom of the dress. Another very pretty fashion for outdoor wear is the sacque, rather close-fitting, open up the back to the belt, and with Dolma sleeves. The polonaise will be worn, but does no longer hold the first position for an independent garment.

The Gilchrist Habeas Corpus Case.

The case of Thomas Gilchrist, charged with the killing of W. B. McElennan, in Robeson county, some weeks since, came up under a writ of habeas corpus before Judge Russell last night, at the office of Solicitor Cantwell. Col. W. A. McLean and W. S. Norment appeared for the prisoner. After a full and careful investigation of all the circumstances attending the sad affair, His Honor entered the following rule, and the prisoner was discharged:

AT CHAMBERS, Oct. 5th, 1872.

Upon the return of this writ, and after examination of the witnesses for the State and the prisoner, it appearing that the killing of Wm. B. McElennan, by the prisoner, was a homicide, excusable in self-defense, and for the further reason that the prisoner had reasonable ground to believe that his life was about to be taken by the deceased; It is ordered and adjudged that prisoner be released, absolutely and without condition from the Sheriff of Robeson county, and that he go without bail.

It is further considered that all the costs of the proceedings shall be taxed against the county of Robeson.

Every day brings up some more palpable evidence of the fact that the coming Fair at Weldon on the 29th is destined to be, if possible, more gratifying in its results than the last. So we are told by the News.

The money on hand at the last meeting of the Tarboro Building and Loan Association was averaging of the amount being $3,040, the prices arranging about one fifty-four. So we learn from the Southerner.

The annual expense of the Federal Courts in North Carolina heretofore did not exceed over ten thousand dollars. Marshal Carrow now draws two hundred and twenty-nine thousand dollars to pay the same.

Joseph Lorraine, colored, convicted at this term of the Court for robbing the smoke-house of Mr. Joshua Jones, who resides on Hominy Creek, was sentenced to the Penitentiary for two years, says the Asheville Citizen.

Captain John D. Hollister, Foreman of the Machine Shops of Separks, Hicks & Co., will leave for St. Louis on Friday next, says the Raleigh News, to represent the sub-division of North Carolina in the National Convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers.

Wilson, a notorious desperado of Yancey county, has had his sentence to the penitentiary confirmed by the Supreme Court, that is the action of the Superior Court was confirmed on appeal, and next week Madison Court will re-sentence him. So states the Asheville Pioneer.

Goldsboro Farmers' and Mechanics' Journal. says: Richard E. Jones, Esq., of the firm of R. E. Jones & Co., of this place, sailed from Newbern on Wednesday last, for St. Martin's, one of the West India Isles, whither he has gone to secure property bequeathed to his wife at the death of her grandfather, several months since.

A bank has been started in Tarboro, the same being a branch of the Bank of New Hanover, and having a capital stock of $200,000. Considerable stock has been taken in the town and county. The following are the officers of the Bank at Tarboro: Mr. M. Weddell, President; Mr. J. D. Cumming, Cashier.

A negro woman of Goldsboro was engaged in conversation with one of the operatives at a cotton gin and, approaching too near, her dress was caught by the machinery, torn from her and literally ground to atoms. The fingers of her right hand and the fact that only her dress became entangled most likely spared her from a terrible death.

Col. Simon G. Hayes, a town-ship raised farmer, carries his chair with him in the cotton-field, and moves from one stalk to another, chair in hand. We are curious to know how the Colonel can sit in his chair and pick cotton from those tremendous high stalks he has been telling us about. Ah, Woodson, Woodson! That News is too reliable, ole fel.

O. That I Were Successful! is the unspoken wish of thousands of women to whom nature has denied the charm of a pure, fresh, translucent complexion. To gratify this desire, the MAGNOLIA BALM was introduced. The cosmetics of the day had been pronounced poisonous by the most distinguished chemists, and it was also found that their ultimate effect was to wither the skin as well as to inflame the external nerves. The ladies hailed with delight the advent of a healthy, hereditary and floral preparation capable of imparting to their faces, necks and arms a porcelain smoothness and a tinge like that of the finest oriental pearl. They soon discovered that it was a "new thing under the sun," incomparable and unapproachable. Unquestionably the MAGNOLIA BALM has been the great toilet success of the present century.

$1,000 REWARD is offered by the proprietor of Dr. Perry's Golden Medical Discovery, for a medicine that will equal it in the cure of all severe cases of "Piles," "Lymphatic," and all diseases arising from impurity of the blood, as Eruptions, Pimples, Bothers, Bolls, &c. [Oct. 7th Th Sat]

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Defend Your Health.
The fall of the leaves not only symbolizes human decay, but promotes it. In other words, the effluvia from dying and rotting vegetation is unfavorable to health. To this and other causes—especially excess of moisture in the atmosphere—may be ascribed the prevalence of acute disorders of the stomach, bowels and liver at this season. Every person of bilious habit is liable to be very bilious in the fall. Then, too, all persons whose digestion is weak are more than ordinarily dyspeptic, and individuals predisposed to colic, diarrhoea and dysentery are particularly likely to be attacked by these complaints. The most complete defense against each and all of these distressing ailments is bodily vigor. To obtain this blessing in all its plenitude where it does exist, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is earnestly recommended. It is the peculiar office of this preparation to reinforce and regulate the important organs which digest and temper the food, and convert it into life-sustaining blood. Bodily vigor depends upon the nourishing qualities of that fluid, and the nutritiousness of the blood depends upon the functional activity and regularity which it is the special province of the Bitters to secure. Hence it is the best defense of health at this season, and indeed at all seasons. When dysentery, diarrhoea, bilious colic and other violent affections of the bowels, become epidemic, as they often do in certain parts of the country in the fall, it will be found that persons who have been wise enough to resort to the Bitters as a preventive are almost invariably exempted from the scourge.
