We have a duty we owe to North Carolina that should incite us to renewed and continued exertions.

"Every township organized."-That's the way to go about it.

Committee concludes the address thus Amid unmerited calumny, the Liberal Republicans have stood faithful and true to the cause represented by our tickets. They have given an unwavering support to the State ticket, in the selection of which they had no voice. The Democratic masses stood in almost unbroken line in support of the principles of Constitutional liberty and good government, as declared in the Cinciunati and Baltimore platforms. The late election fully demonstrates that if all who are opposed to continuing the present corrupt Ad-ministration, and the more corrupt ring which controls it, in power will Colored Woman Assaults a Man act together, it can and will be defeated, and the nominees of the Cincinnati, and Baltimore Conventions elected in its stead. This is a great contest-a contest between the people on the one hand and a corrupt army of office-holders on the other. It is to be determined in this contest whether an Administration which has lost the confidence and respect of a vast majority of the people can perpetuate its power by the corrupting influence of its patronage and the free use of money, or whether the people are yet strong enough to defeat the combined effort of bad men, and once more place their Government on the sound basis of fraternity, precarious condition, one of the main artehonesty, and economy. Encouraging Reports from all Parts of the State.

[By Telegraph to the Tribune.] COLUMBUS, Oct. 16.

A convocation of leading Demoersts' and Liberal Republicans, at least 150 in number, and representing all parts of the State, was held in this city this afternoon and evening .--Among the Democrats present were A. G. Thurman, Geo. H. Pendleton, Thomas Ewing, Geo. W. McCook, John G. Thompson, W. D. Morgan, Wm. Mungen, J. R. Clymer, R. A. Constable, John H. Heaton, John Clark, E. P. Hartfield, E. M. Brown, E. B. Eshelman, James O. Amos, M. A. Doughterty, R. B. Brad-ford, John H. Thomas, George Lincoln, E. F. Bingham, C. B. Flood, H. B. Kelly, S. S. Bloom, H. C. Williams, B. Kahn, L. Baber, W. R. Alcorn, Isaac B. Riley, Matt Martin, J R. Boss and George W. Monypenny. Among the Liberal Reformers pres-ent were Henry Newbegin, W. B. Sloan, Gen. R. Brinkerhoff, Gen, H. B. Banning. The meeting was very enthusiastic throughout, and every man pledged a largely increased vote for Greeley and Brown in November. Every one seemed confident that the reserve Democratic and Liberol vote commenced the canvass a month earof the State could be brought to the polls, and would be sufficient to blot out the October majority against them.

The official vote of 80 counties, and the reported vote of the remaining eight counties of Ohio, show a majority for the Grant candidate for Secretary of State of 12,961. The Administration maiority on Supreme Judge is about 5,000 loss.

From Mr. Voorhees.

Mr:. Voorhees says the stay-at homes defeated him. He writes in this manly strain of the Liberal move. ment:

A word or two now about the movement itself. It is right in its principles and objects-a movement designed to restore self-government to the people of the South and to relieve them from thieves and pirates; to bring about general amnesty, peace, and reconciliation between the sections; to purify the departments of the Government now infested by plundering rings engaged in the Civil Service of the country; a movement, dress to his people in these words: I say, contemplating such results as these cannot fail to enlist my zealous and unfaltering support. Allow me to say a word also on another point. Mr. Greeley has personally raised himself in this canvass a thousand fold in my estimation. His course has been all that could be desired, and I believe he would, if elected, be perfectly true to the purposes he has | Louisiana alone, in this calculation, remains let us move forward as one man. Let there be from this time forward but one party, standing on a common platform, the platform of the Cincinnati and Baltimore Conventions, and doing battle for a common object-the redemption of our country from this rule, and the restoration of harmony and brotherly love throughout all our borders, and victory must perch upon our standard.
