COUNTY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Home Democratic-Conservative Executive Committee New Hanover Co., Wilmington, N. C., Oct. 5, 1872. The members of the Democratic-Conservative Executive Committee of New Hanover County are requested to meet at the STAR office, in this city, Friday afternoon, October 25th, at 3 o'clock.

W. H. BERNARD, Chairman.

THAT POOL FLOT AGAIN.

We see that old story of tampering with the Legislature so as to secure a majority and then elect Judas Iscariot Benedict Arnold Tweed Traumpman Pool United Senator is starting its rounds again in a new shape. This time it emanates from a "prominent gentleman who has just passed through Washington" and whose oracular givings out are telegraphed to a Louisville paper, with all the startling intensity of a first class sensation.

The alleged programme is that Caldwell will declare the new Legislature illegal and will get the Radical Supreme Court Judges to sustain him. He is then to appoint John Pool Senator, as he will hold that there is no Legislature in session. The Legislature he will let go over until the next election.

Now this is a nice, sweet programme, and we do not doubt it at all on the score of its being too enormously wicked or high-handed. It is simply because of the impossibility of such a game being played at this time that we are incredulous almost to the point of laughing in the face of the young Bohemian who originated the joke.

Tod Caldwell is not prepared for the role of a Cromwell. He would not dare, with all his effrontery, to set aside a constitutionally elected Legislature, even with several more Richmond Pearsons in the field to support him. Besides, if he has thought of the project at all, his reflections are based on the assumption that Grant must of course be elected. His premises proven false on the fifth of November, of course his deductions amount to nothing.

No Judas Iscariot stands no showing for anything in North Carolina but the merited contempt, scorn, obloquy and loathing of the true people of the State. If his master Ulysses should happen to be elected by immense frauds and bribery, in the critical States, he may get something fat for his services in the cause of Addition and Silence. Otherwise he is politically disembowelled, like his Jewish prototype.

THE COLUMBIAN RALLY.

Last Saturday Hon. A. M. Waddeh, Capt. John W. Ellis and Col. Thos. S. Memory addressed a crowd of some eight hundred people in Williams' town, ship on the political issues of the day. Earnest and serious attention was paid to the speakers, who improved the occasion to hold up the rascality and tyranny of the present Administration, the danger to our republican institutions if it should be continued another four years, and the great hope good men have of overthrowing it by the election of Greeley and Brown on the fifth of November.

A fine barbecue dinner was enjoyed by the large crowd, and all things passed off pleasantly and for the good of the cause. Old Columbus is aroused, and will be heard from on the first Tuesday. Let the people keep the ball so favorably started, going. Let us work with spirit and discretion. We want the Cape Fear district to lead all her sisters in rolling up a majority for our candidates. We fight for principles, for liberty itself, and let this fact inspire us to exert ourselves to the utmost.

HEROIC.

Some of the weak-kneed brethren on back benches call our campaign editorials heroic. We do not cavil at the term or the spirit, though we might. We are engaged in a gigantic warfare and have used such energetic words as come to us easily and naturally. If this be going into heroics, so be it until the end. We would like to be heroic for our country—heroic in the true and high sense. We would like to say some word for our dear cause which would fire the hearts of the callous and cold, and assist materially in the election of honest old Horace Greeley and the success of the great Reform movement in the country.

Forney denies that he has sold out the Philadelphia Press to the Grant Cameron ring. He says he intends to maintain the integrity of his journal at whatever cost. The story was started for the two-fold purpose of injuring Forney and benefiting the Ring. Forney's position is an anomaly in the politics of the day. He repudiates Grant's friends but clings with blind tenacity to Grant himself, while the Grant faction kick and abuse him as if he were a dog. Forney, it seems to us, will be obliged to change his company or descend to a bootlick.

TIMELY TOPICS.

That dignified and able commercial paper, the New York Journal of Commerce, awards the palm among the conventions which have met in the Metropolis for many years to the sitting National Board of Trade. Its opportunities for just criticism are fine, and we are disposed to accept its dictum. Describing the previous conventions as given to profane and interminable discussions, partial and narrow views, and pet ideas run to extremes, that paper contrasts the present Board of Trade: It is a body not made up of men representing one idea and gathering together to extol and magnify it, but consisting of leading merchants and bankers who are concerned in the furtherance of many different plans, more or less practical, to promote the welfare of the various sections of the country, and having a common purpose only in the advancement of the whole nation to a higher level of commercial and financial honor and prosperity. Such a convention is strictly and truly national. Every section is entitled to a voice, and is heard with respect. It would be too much to say that schemes of private nature and doubtful value do not obtain a hearing, for it is not possible to exclude the axe-grinder from any convention of human beings. But we can declare that the liberality of the National Board of Trade is but rarely abused in this respect, and the fate of the intruders is almost certainly foredoomed by the good sense of the members. They leave it to Congress to become the dupes or willing allies of all sorts of kite-flying operations, and mostly stick to what is practical and commends itself to sound business experience. To mention Congress reminds one of the superior sagacity, directness and clearness of the discussions which one hears at the meetings of the National Board of Trade. The members bring with them the quick wit and prompt decision of the counting-house and bank. They are impatient of long speeches, and but few of them err in that way. The president—Mr. Fraley, of Philadelphia—is an adept in parliamentary usages, and hurries through business without confusing it. The several committees make short reports of the subjects referred to them, but not too short to be lucid on the vital points. The speeches are, as a rule, remarkable for brevity and earnestness. We should not find a hall full of men more truly the opposite of those talking clubs called Congress and Legislatures than the National Board of Trade.

Edwin Forrest, the great tragedian, is reading "Hamlet" to the Philadelphians. The papers say he does it in a masterly manner. His subtle intelligence enables him to clothe each character vividly in its individuality. Ophelia is tender and graceful, Polonius is quaint and humorous, while the great philosophical "Melancholy Dane," the most unsatisfying in the richest character to be found in all the drama, is given with all the lights and shadows of true personation. These dramatic readings, to most persons have no interest—so much for the corrupting influence of opera bouffe and the sensational school of the drama. But there are a cultivated intellectual few who appreciate and take zest in them. They certainly bring out something that was hidden before, or throw a mellow, finer light on many parts of the grand Shakespearean text.

A Mr. A. Boyd Henderson, an American citizen, has been arrested and imprisoned in Havana by order of the Spanish authorities. He is suspected of communicating with the insurgents. This seems to be, from the published facts, a stronger case of outrage than the Board case. Will not Mr. Fish interfere and save the dignity and honor of the republic?

An Indiana town has a pig with a human face which the citizens call a "huc nature." He had had a human body also; a piece would have been given him among other human pigs, and no mention made of it.

POLITICAL PARAGRAPHS.

—Havemeyer won't run for Mayor of New York. —The State Democratic and Liberal Committees of Boston, at a meeting on the 17th, decided to substitute F. W. Bird, in place of Charles Sumner, for Governor, and William L. Smith, for Lieutenant Governor, in place of George M. Stewart. —Morton's brother-in-law Holloway, Grant postmaster at Indianapolis, has been detected in holding back the returns of Marion county, with the laudable intention, doubtless, of helping to swell the "popular vote" for Grant's candidate for Governor. This is a beautiful Civil Service of ours. —The President has appointed ex-Gov. Fairchild of Wisconsin to be Consul at Liverpool, the most lucrative office abroad. In the early stage of the Liberal movement, Gov. Fairchild, like Gen. Logan, was one of the most prominent of the opponents of Grant, but lately he has been "convinced," and now repeats his reward.

PROMINENT PERSONALS.

—Dr. Guthrie is improving. —Rev. George T. Chapman, D. D., died Friday at his residence at Newburyport, aged 84. —The Rev. Dr. W. H. Mitchell, President of the Woman's College, at Florence, Ala., is dead. —Mr. Percy Fitzgerald, of England, is writing "The Life and Adventures of Alexandre Dumas." —The first complete English translation of the works of Lactantius has just appeared at Edinburgh, in two volumes. —Henry A. Wise, of Virginia, has written a letter in which he says that he never was interviewed by a newspaper man and never intends to be.

—A biographical history of American literature, from the year 1493 to the present time, by George P. Philes, is in press, and will soon be published. —Prof. Calvin Stowe, of Hartford, Conn., who was delivering a course of lectures at Amherst College, was stricken with paralysis on Sunday. It is thought he will recover.

—Henry Kingsley's last novel, "Valentin," is pronounced by no less an authority than the Athenaeum to be "one of the worst novels ever published, utterly void of sense, taste or coherence."

PALMETTO LEAVES.

Regular Rads carried Marion by voting boys, &c. Considerable preparation is already being made for the State Fair. The Democrat reports heavy frosts last week about Cheraw, which destroyed much cotton. The Times says the Marlboro court-house caught fire from the chimney, but was extinguished. Marlboro went all one way in the election—regular Rad by 1,800. Only one ticket in the field. A dispatch from Oconee states that Tomlinson received 1,022 votes in that county and Moses 346. The election in Williamsburg passed off very quietly. Moses and his ticket got nearly all the vote. The Georgetown Times chronicles the accidental drowning of Jos. Benygal, colored, at Alderly Plantation on the Waccamaw river.

A Mr. McDonald, who hailed from Greenville, died in great destitution and from a sudden attack of illness, in Kansas, in the early part of the month. A post office has been established at Hill's Factory, S. C., to be known as "Hill's Factory Post Office." William A. Hill has been appointed postmaster for the same. The gin-house, engine and several bales of cotton and some bagging were burned on the watered plantation of Maj. James Pagan, says the Winnsboro News. Friction. The Marlboro Times learns that on Monday last, John Q. Newman, white, of that county, fell from a loaded wagon, two wheels passing over his right shoulder and across his chest. The Yorkville Enquirer states that while Lieut. Wessen, of the 7th Cavalry, was engaged in drilling his troops, his saddle turning at a critical moment, he pierced his arm with the sabre.

The Phoenix informs us that the large bridge over Three-and-Twenty Creek, on the Blue Ridge Railroad, was burned Thursday night. Supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. In walking from one part of the deck of the ship Nautilus, says the Charleston Courier, Night Custom-house Inspector Evans had to pass the hatchway, which, being open, he fell into it, it is supposed head-foremost, a distance of 20 feet, injuring his left hip and breaking his right leg above the knee. The store and stock of J. Moody, who merchandises six miles north of Charleston, was totally destroyed by fire on Tuesday night. Loss, eight thousand dollars, partially covered by sixty-six hundred dollars insurance. The fire was certainly the work of incendiaries.

Gin house of Mr. E. J. Life and sixteen bales of cotton, gin house of Mr. Reuben Hay, grist mill and cotton press and gin of Mr. James P. Chase and dwelling of Mr. R. N. Miller all destroyed by fire in the Marion district. But little insurance, supposed most of them to have been work of incendiaries. We learn from the News. There is a general feeling of encouragement among the whites there as to the result of the election on account of the independence shown by the colored voters. The power of the leagues seems broken, and it is confidently expressed on all hands that an honest ticket will stand a fair chance in the future. Says the Cheraw Democrat: On Monday night last a house was destroyed by fire in Marlboro county, near this place, and that four colored children perished in the flames. Their mother, a colored woman named Wratley, had locked them in the house and gone to spend the night with a neighbor, and knew nothing of the sad fate of her children until she returned home next morning. The gin-house of Capt. W. S. Moore, of York county, was burned on Tuesday last, with twenty bales of cotton. The fire was caused by the spindle of the brush-wheel becoming heated. The lint-room was filled with loose cotton, which burnt like powder. Capt. Moore and Robert Drennan, who were both in the house at the time of the fire, narrowly escaped with their lives, so instantaneous was the flash of the fire in all directions, says the Charleston News.

STAR BEAMS.

The Grecian ladies counted their age from their marriage, not their birth. An Indianapolis girl, with a $200,000 dowry, advertises for sealed proposals for marriage. "This is the rock of ages," said the father after rocking two hours, and the baby still awake. A Vineland, N. J., sweet potato measured 31 inches in length and 10 inches in circumference. The New Orleans Picayune says the sugar crop this season will be smaller than it was last year. The Philadelphia Age says that the police of that city "are among the worst criminals outside the penitentiary." In the long course of his legal practice, Mr. Seward was never known to act for a man against a woman. A young woman in Michigan has achieved local celebrity by making 300 barrels in a week, the hoops and staves being furnished to her. The rumors of Cuban expedition have no foundation beyond serving the purpose of a mere sensation. No expedition of any kind is on foot in that section. Miss Cora Titts, a school girl, aged 14, mysteriously disappeared from the town of Hampton, N. J., about one month ago, and as yet there is no clue to her whereabouts. At West Point, on the 17th of August, 1783, the great generals there present were weighed, and kicked the beam as follows: Washington, 209 pounds; Lincoln, 224; Knox, 280; Huntington, 182; Greaton, 219. A novel custom has been introduced in some of our fashionable houses. When a visitor calls and finds the family out, he is requested to write his name in a handsome visiting-book. Not a bad idea. Among the ancients, when persons were newly married, they put a yoke upon their necks, or chains upon their arms, to show that they were to be one, closely united, and pulling equally together in all the concerns of life. The importation of American books into Germany, France and Russia is largely increasing, and the book firm of Leipzig, the great book centre of the Continent, desire American publishers to establish agencies there.

OPEN COMMUNION.

The Babylon Baptist Convention—Triumph of Open Communists. NEW YORK, Oct. 18. It appears that on Wednesday afternoon, after many delegates had left the "Babylon Convention" of Baptists, and after the passage of a resolution telegraphed yesterday, a resolution was introduced appointing a committee of five to investigate the proceedings of Rev. Doctors Hayti Smith and Geo. F. Pentecost, and report whether they, as pastors of two churches in Brooklyn, had departed from the practices of the ordinance of the Gospel as followed by churches belonging to the Long Island Baptist Association. Although the above resolution was sprung upon the remaining members of the association, a number of members were advised in season to defer their departure and join in the debate upon the issue. Rev. Dr. Saggles took the ground that the actions of the pastors of Lee Avenue and Hanson place Churches in regard to open communion, should be investigated. He held that the true Baptist doctrine was that of close communion, and could not conceive of any occasion when that principle should be set aside. Dr. Pentecost, of Hanson Place Church, replied, stating that no article of faith had ever been infringed in the remotest degree by that church, or by him, its pastor, by any public act or word. So long as he was its pastor he would live up to the law of the Church, although personally he might doubt the wisdom of the law. The act upon which the rumors against the Church were founded was a private personal act of his own. Referring to the administering of communion to a dying person at that person's request, he said the association might appoint their committee of investigation, but reminded them that the independence and freedom of the Baptist churches were more proverbial than their adherence to the doctrine of close communion; and it was very doubtful whether the committee, if appointed, would be admitted to his church for them to submit to any catechizing. For himself he would preach the Gospel, according to his convictions, upon a street corner or an open common, rather than contend for place or position. Dr. Hyatt Smith followed in the same strain, endorsing Dr. Pentecost, and said his (Smith's) church stood upon what is called the New Hampshire confession of faith, and therein found ample room and verge. He recognized baptism by immersion as the accredited door to the church, and would admit persons to the Lord's Supper who have not been baptized. He said on that ground vast numbers of the church stand, and there was no use to shut their eyes to the fact. The churches are independent, and he denied the right of the association to erect itself into an ecclesiastical council. After a long and rambling discussion by several lay members, the resolution was tabled, which finally disposes of the subject, being a triumph of the open communists.

FOUNDING HOSPITAL.

A movement has been recently set on foot in the city councils of Philadelphia to inquire into the expediency of establishing a founding hospital in that city. The Protestant Association of New York has also proposed a similar institution there. In Great Britain these institutions have come into disrepute, and are turned in a great degree into orphan asylums. In France, after the revolution, the feeling on this subject was so morbid and sentimental that "turning tables" were provided where mothers could deposit their offspring without inquiry. But it was found that crime was encouraged by affording such facilities, and the arrangement is now given up. The general experience of Europe seems to attest that the true course of wisdom is to place all the material duties on the mother which are possible, except that where great poverty or other circumstances might tempt to infanticide, to offer the wretched woman shelter and care for her child. Charitable efforts ought never to be commenced without due consideration to the results of experience, and the counsels of wisdom enlightened thereby.

The grossest instance of humbug we have met with for a long time is that of an individual who advertises for sale a Siberian bloodhound, which he calls "A 1" when every one possessing the ordinary rudiments of an English education ought to know that the best is K D.

Time Tests the Merits of all Things. FOR OVER THIRTY YEARS PERRY DAVIS' Pain Killer. Has been tested in every variety of climate, and by almost every nation known to Americans. It is the almost constant companion and inestimable friend of the missionary and the traveler on sea and land, and no one should travel on our Lakes and Rivers without it. Pain-Killer was the first, and is the only Permanent Pain Reliever. Since the Pain-Killer was first introduced and met with such unsurpassed sale, many imitations, reliefs, panaceas, and other remedies have been offered to the public, but not one of them has ever attained the truly enviable standing of the Pain-Killer.

WHY IS THIS SO?

It is because Davis' Pain-Killer is what it claims to be, a reliever of pain. Its Merits are Unsurpassed! If you are suffering from internal pain, from twenty to thirty drops in a little water will almost instantly cure you. There is nothing to equal it in a few moments it cures COLIC, CRAMPS, SPASMS, HEART-BURN, DIARRHŒA, DYSENTERY, FLUX, WIND, INFLUENZA, RHEUMATISM, CHOLERA, DYSENTERIA, SICK HEAD-ACHE. In many sections of the country where

FEVER AND AGUE.

Prevails, there is no remedy held in greater esteem. Persons traveling should keep it by them. A few drops in water will prevent sickness or bowel troubles from change of water. From foreign countries the calls for Pain-Killer are great. It is found to Cure Cholera.

When all other Remedies Fail. When used externally, as a liniment, nothing gives quicker relief. Burns, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Stings from Insects and Scalds. It removes the fire, and the wound heals like ordinary sores. Those suffering with rheumatism, gout, or neuralgia, if not a positive cure, they find the "PAIN-KILLER" gives them relief when no other remedy will. IT GIVES INSTANT RELIEF FROM ACHING TEETH. From 1840 to this day, 1872, (over Thirty Years), Perry Davis' Pain-Killer has had no rival. Every householder should keep it at hand, to apply it on the first attack of any pain. It will give satisfactory relief, and save hours of suffering. Do not trifle with yourselves by testing untried remedies. Be sure you call for, and get the genuine Pain-Killer, as many worthless nostrums are attempted to be sold on the great reputation of this valuable medicine. Directions accompany each bottle.
